PEOPLE TO VOTE ON TEN MEASURES

AND THIS IS WHAT THE BILLS PROVIDE

There will be submitted to the people for their adoption or rejection at the Nov. 7 election ten measures — one constitutional amendment, seven acts of the 1915 legislature, and two initiative measures. Constitutional Amendment. The legislature of 1915 has proposed an amendment to Section 1, Article 6, of the state constitution, to limit the voters at certain elections only to those who pay direct taxes. At present, all legal voters are entitled to vote at all elections. The proposed amendment provides that the vote should be limited to those who pay taxes directly, in all elections where the question to be decided relates to incurring or not incurring a community debt, borrowing money, issuing any bond or obligation, authorizing the sale, purchase, or mortgage of any property affecting the revenue or income of the state, city, town or district. In short, no person, unless a direct taxpayer, may vote on any proposition which affects the financial condition of the state, city, county or district. Referendums. Seven acts of the last legislature, by petition of 10 per cent of the people, have been placed under a referendum. This means they have been suspended until the entire electorate has an opportunity to vote on them, and either accept the measures or reject them. These measures will be upon the ballot as referendum measures Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. REFERENDUM MEASURE NO. 3.—Initiative and Referendum.—This measure, as passed by the last legislature, provides that initiative and referendum petitions, instead of being circulated for signatures anywhere in the state, may be signed only at the registration offices and in the presence of the registration officer. NO. 4.—RECALL.—The law, as proposed by the legislature, affects only the port district of Seattle. It provides that, in addition to the three elective port commissioners, the county auditor, county engineer, prosecuting attorney and mayor shall be members of the port commission. It limits the bonded indebtedness of the port district to 2 1/2 per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the district. NO. 5.—POLITICAL CONVENTIONS.—This law restores to an extent the convention system in politics, which the direct primary has attempted to eliminate. Under this law, county and state conventions are provided for. The state conventions are empowered to adopt general legislative programs as well as statements of party principles. The bill also provides for the filings and nominations of party precinct committees. Candidates for nominations to any office on party tickets are required to declare, upon filing, that they endorse generally their party platforms. NO. 6.—PICKETING.—The law here proposed by the legislature prohibits picketing. It declares that any person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by fine or jail, or both, who shall call attention to, advertise directly or indirectly, any controversy, disagreement or dispute between any labor union and any person, within 500 feet of such place of business or residence. NO. 7.—CERTIFICATE OF NECESSITY BILL.—Under this law, as proposed by the legislature, no public utility shall be allowed to operate in any territory in the state where a similar public utility company is already operating unless an application is first made to the state public service commission and a certificate of public necessity for such new utilities is granted. This means that existing street railways, electric, gas, water, steam and heat plants shall have no competition unless the public service commission shall permit it by finding there is a public necessity for such competition owing to lack of adequate service by the older company. NO. 8.—PORT BILL.—This law, proposed by the legislature, shall be used only for the specific purpose declared in the budget. If not used, it shall remain idle. If an emergency exists, and money is needed for a purpose not covered in the budget, emergency warrants shall be issued. In brief, the principles of the Renick law are extended to all governmental bodies, where now only cities of the first class are affected. INITIATIVES. NO. 18.—HOTEL LIQUOR BILL.—This measure provides that incorporated cities may grant licenses to breweries to manufacture beer and sell within the state or export the same. Cities may also grant to hotels having 50 rooms or more licenses to sell intoxicating liquors to their guests either in their apartments or in the dining room of such hotel. Breweries are required to pay an annual license fee of $2,000, and hotels an annual license fee of $1,000. NO. 24.—BREWERY BILL.—This measure provides for the licensing of breweries by the state to manufacture, sell and export beer containing not more than 4 per cent alcohol. It also permits breweries outside the state to send into the state beer of like quality. All such breweries, within and without the state, are to pay a license fee of $1,000 and also a barrel tax of 25 cents a barrel on the first 10,000 barrels, and 50 cents a barrel in excess of that number. The money shall be credited to the permanent highway fund, and distributed back to the counties where it originated. Such breweries may sell direct to consumers or deliver at residence, but not to places of public resort. All sales of beer must be made in bottles. No sales shall be made of less than one dozen pints or more than six dozen quarts or ten dozen pints. No permit is required of consumers to buy beer.

Now We Have the High Cost of Thanksgiving and Christmas

And next we have the high cost of Thanksgiving and Christmas. Santa Claus is going to be an exclusive old gentleman this year. He won't come around unless you have the money. Dealers announced today that the price of Christmas trees was skyrocketing. The freight car famine has a lot to do with it. Greece is getting ready to enter the war, so there won't be so many raisins in this Yuletide's plum pudding. The Greek raisin market is shut off and California growers are reported to have organized a combine.

In days of yore the kiddies and old folks used to sit by the fire and crack walnuts Christmas night. Cracking walnuts will be an expensive pastime next December. They have already jumped five cents a pound and many must do without them altogether. Wholesalers are already refusing orders to deliver walnuts during the holidays. There are none to be had. Almonds are almost as scarce. California supplies the bulk of them and growers there have quit selling, according to Portland market men.

Many a little chap won't find any candy in the toe of his sock. The extreme price of sugar has sent the cost of all candies to record heights. Dealers agree that it will cost more to celebrate than ever before. Even cranberries are climbing into the bandwagon.

Here's Guinea Hen Hat

MARSHALL SKEPTIC ON HAND-SHAKING

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Vice President Marshall is still skeptical about the handshaking between Col. Roosevelt and ex-President Taft last night. "You can't change a man's heart by touching his hand," he said here today.

WILD MEX YARNS OFFICIALLY DENIED

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 4.—Reports published in American newspapers that Gen. Carranza has demanded the immediate withdrawal of American troops from Mexico were declared "absolutely false" by high officials here today. They also denied that Gen. Carranza had threatened to recall the Mexican commissioners at Atlantic City unless the troops are withdrawn at once.

Claim Father Hasn't Worked For 24 Yrs.

For the last 24 years Lyman L. Doty hasn't done any work other than to chop a little wood while his wife has scoured the state peddling mouth organs, corsets and other merchandise to provide for the five children, according to the testimony in the divorce action brought by Mrs. Doty in Judge Card's court Wednesday. One of Mrs. Doty's brothers declared the husband had confided to him that he didn't intend to do any work "until the socialist party got in power." He declared the only time Doty ever was in bed was when he got so angry it made him sick. Harold Doty, a grown son of the couple, said that often he and the other children had had only a few crusts of bread to eat, although their father was capable of making a living. He said the father made a stab at doing the housework while the mother supported the family. "Once my mother hired a housekeeper with the money she made, and when she came to the house the old man spent his time flirting with her and looking out that I didn't flirt with her," said the son. "My father always took the best things that were on the table. One time he snatched a fine big onion from my mother's hands and threw it the length of the house. "I know the old man could have done as much work as I could do, because he overpowered me twice."

While holding steadily to his intention of making no speeches which might characterize his trip as a campaign junket, President Wilson today greeted thousands of voters who turned out along the route and accorded him tremendous receptions. At Salem, Alliance, Canton and other points where brief stops were made, fully 20,000 thronged about his car.

ELIMINATE LIBRARY, ADVOCATES FAWCETT

Elimination of the central city library was suggested by Mayor Fawcett Wednesday, as a solution of the budget trouble. Fawcett told H. E. O'Neil and W. F. Geiger, members of the Tacoma library board, who were appealing for more funds than the council had allowed, that they ought to abolish the central station, and operate the library through suburban branches. "You could wholesale your books out through a storage station, and abolish all the cost of librarians and clerks," he declared. "The library board members replied that his idea was ridiculous. Both O'Neil and Geiger declared that if the present appropriation stands, the library will scarcely be able to purchase any new books next year and will be practically unable to repair any of the present property. The council told them that they would gladly increase the appropriation if they could be shown where the money was coming from.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fash, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made. We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

Death of Two Aged Women Is Still Mystery

(United Press Leased Wire) LANCASTER, O., Oct. 4.—While the funeral cortege of the Smetzer sisters, Agnes and Alice, wound slowly up the hillside to the little family burying plot today an inquest into the death of the two maiden ladies and Miss Mary Stretton was in full progress, with officials remaining mysteriously mute as to the cause of death. Found dead in their rocking chairs last Sunday night, no one has yet been able to advance a clue as to the cause of death. Apoplexy is generally blamed, but apoplexy by what poison fumes is unknown.

Japanese Are After Harmony

(United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—The appointment of Count Marshal Terauchi premier of Japan is an effort of the emperor to pick a man who will win the support of the political factions of Japan and put an end to the bitter party strife of the past few years, according to Japanese officials here today. Terauchi, being a military man, it was said, belongs to no party, and therefore is in a good position to win support of all factions. It is expected that he will name a coalition cabinet.

To the Public

FOR THE past month the Tacoma Railway & Power Company has presented to the public through advertisements in the newspapers, through the circulation of pamphlets and by other means, facts concerning its financial and other operations. We have asked the public to consider the Company's arguments presented therewith in order that they might have full information concerning the affairs of the Company and the position that it has taken that it is absolutely essential that some of the burdens which it is carrying be removed, in order that the citizens of Tacoma might get the full benefit of an adequate street car service and that the owners of the property might be reasonably assured of a more successful outcome of the Company's operations than has been experienced in the past. It has been the intention of the Company to seek relief from these burdens, and the Company's position in the matter has been put forward in advance of legal application for relief in order that the thinking people might have an opportunity to give due consideration to the matter when the legal step looking to relief was taken. On Oct. 2d the Tacoma Railway & Power Company petitioned the Public Service Commission, asking for consideration of these matters and for the relief thereby warranted. We trust that the public fully understands our position in this matter and will bear with patience the final adjustment of the matter by the proper legal authorities.
