

BIG DOCKS IN FLAMES

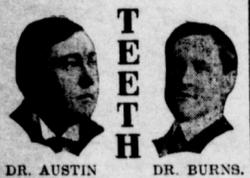

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 SEATTLE, Oct. 9.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the hay and grain docks and gravel bunkers of Galbraith, Bacon & Co. last night, causing a loss of more than $100,000.
 The wharf and warehouse of the Booth Fisheries company adjoining, were threatened for a time, but escaped without serious damage.
 The scene of the fire was the same as the start of the great fire six years ago.

"Golden Rule" Warden Quits

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 BUFFALO, Oct. 9.—Thomas Mott Osborne, philanthropist, reformer and "Golden Rule" warden of Sing Sing prison, has resigned as warden, State Superintendent of Prisons James M. Carter announced here today.
 The resignation will take effect October 16. The resignation was voluntary, Carter added.

MONTH IS RAINLESS

"Dry" is no name for it.
 There haven't been enough dew drops in Tacoma since Sept. 2 for Weather Man Cover to measure—only two or three light showers of mist.
 Last month was the driest September since 1908. Almost every day has been clear and sunny since Sept. 2, when 46 of an inch of rain fell. Previous to that date there had been no rainfall since Aug. 17.
 It's a great time for the garden hose and bothersome noses.

81 SURVIVORS ARE PICKED UP

 The moon, sitting intermittently through the clouds, served to light the scene, which but a few hours before had been one of America's peace.
 The passengers of the Stephano took to the small boats at 6:30 Sunday evening. They were adrift until about 2:30 this morning.
 No Hysteria.
 There was no sign of hysteria or fright as men, women and even an eight-year-old child, told their stories of being suddenly roused from dining tables, from little social gatherings in saloons and of babies hurriedly awakened from sleep to be hustled over the side and into lifeboats.
 Only a short distance away floated a sea green monster. The submarine rested low in the water, her bulging sides and pointed snout giving her the appearance of a giant man-killing fish.
 Seemed Incredible.
 When the first alarm was given and a shot came screaming across the bow of the Stephano, many passengers refused to believe they were being attacked by a submarine.
 They laughed when an officer rushed by, shouting that all must don life preservers and take to the boats. But the series men of the captain, the hurrying about of the crew and a glimpse from the deck of the ship convinced them.
 Thousands thronged the Newport waterfront as the destroyers put into port, with their cargoes of human freight picked up from the sea. Newport society turned out in force.
 Miss Elsie French Vanderbilt sent her limousine down to the wharf and four women passengers from the Stephano were taken to her home.
 Other society women also sent their cars to the dock and the mothers and babies taken from the U-boat's victim ships are being cared for today in the palatial homes of Newport's elite.
 Strange Group.
 On the forward deck of the destroyer Ericsson, as she swung into her dock, was one of the strangest groups ever seen on an American warship. A little band of women with babies in their arms, wept silently, trying not to show their sorrow over the loss of precious possessions to the children, frightened by their strange surroundings.
 They came, for the most part, of hardy Canadian stock and when they learned a submarine had attacked their ship, they simply shrugged their shoulders and replied:
 "No."
 Arriving at the naval hospital here, the Stephano's passengers and crew had their first meal in 14 hours.
 The United Press correspondent was the only newspaper man permitted aboard the destroyer Ericsson which brought to port the gripping story of the war carried to American waters. When the Ericsson dropped anchor Admiral Gleaves, commanding the destroyer flotilla, ordered health officers aboard to examine passengers and crew from the Stephano.

STEAMER'S CREW LOST?

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 9.—The crew of the steamer Kingston, sunk by a German submarine yesterday, was still missing early today.
 Whether the men on this vessel have perished is not known. Naval officers believe they should hear from the Kingston crew soon, however.
 Four American destroyers with 218 passengers and members of the crews of torpedoed vessels have now reached Newport. The Ericsson, Jensen, Drayton and Benham, all with survivors aboard, reached port at dawn.
 At 8 o'clock the Chicago was heading into the harbor. It had not been learned at 8:30 whether she had any survivors aboard.

FEARS FOR BIG LINER

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 BOSTON, Oct. 9.—Grave fears are felt here today for the steamer Great City, which sailed from Boston late yesterday before the agents of her line learned of the submarine activities off Nantucket shoals.
 The Great City is bound for St. Nazaire, France, with big cargo for the French government, including 7,000 tons of steel, 500 horses and feed and grain.

MORE THAN ONE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 BOSTON, Oct. 9.—A German submarine, other than the U-53, halted the Hawaiian-American Kansan, officers of the vessel declared on reaching port here today.
 Their statement, after viewing a photograph of the U-53 taken during the latter's hurried call at Newport Saturday, was taken as conclusive proof that more than one German submersible operated off the New England coast over Sunday.
 After studying the photo, both officers and men said the ship halting them was different and that the men aboard were not the same as those depicted on the U-53.
 The submarine raider did not board the Kansan. Instead, the German captain hailed the vessel from deck, after spotting her American flag and the U-boat dropped out of sight just as abruptly as it had appeared after being shown the Kansan's papers and having them examined.
 Shipping men were surprised that the Germans should have let the Kansan go free inasmuch as her cargo consisted of steel, hay and grain from New York for the French government at St. Nazaire.

FRENCH TROOPSHIP, HIT BY TORPEDO, GOES DOWN

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 PARIS, Oct. 9.—The transport Gallia carrying 2,000 French and Serbian troops, has been torpedoed.
 The torpedo exploded the transport's cargo of munitions.
 Up to the present 1,262 soldiers have been rescued. The survivors were landed at Bardia.
 Presumably the big French liner Gallia is the transport sunk. She was built in 1913, displaced 14,966 tons and was 574 feet long with a 62-foot beam. She was registered at Bordeaux and was in South Atlantic service before the war.

COMPLIED WITH LAW CRUISERS HUNT SUB

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 9.—The German submarine active in the steamship lane off Nantucket complied with all rules of international law before acting, Secretary Daniels informed President Wilson in a preliminary report today.

She Is Soldier's Friend

(Newspaper Enterprise Association)
 Lady Haig, wife of Sir Douglas, British commander-in-chief, was given an opportunity to show her aptness for Red Cross work at a fishing competition arranged for 150 wounded soldiers. Private Borthwick, winner of the event, caught his finger on a fish-hook. Lady Haig bandaged it.

Nantucket shoals in search of German submarines.
 Wireless messages picked up early today indicate that three British cruisers have arrived only a few miles off Nantucket.
