N.W. PLAYERS FLOCKING TO SHIP LEAGUE

A resolution passed by the Seattle Shipbuilders' league this week permitting a player to enter games regardless of his time of service in the shipyards makes several former Northwestern leaguers eligible for a double-header in Seattle this afternoon. Formerly a man had to be employed 30 days before he could play. Among the players who recently entered the shipbuilding field are Al Gipe, Bob Snyder and Gilbert Stokke, on the Ames team; Pat Eastley, Lyle Bigbee, Bill Cunningham and Bobby Coltrin on the Duthie team; Tom Cunningham, Herb Murphy and Hap Morse, on the Seattle Construction company's team; Pug Bennett, Roy Brown and Ike Wolfer on the Skinner & Eddy team. Altho baseball is dead in Tacoma, Seattle fans will see during the remainder of the season a brand of ball practically as good as anything furnished by the Northwestern league the past season.

PETER'S IFFLE

Amateur baseball in Tacoma is doing as sensational a skyrocket stunt as the professional brand. War has depleted the ranks of almost every team.

Sam Langford has quit. Joe Jeanette and Sam McVey now probably will have to starve.

Joy-Maker Bill Is Promise For Pantages Next Week

The Lucy Lucier Trio, singers and funmakers, who will breeze along with a new line of comedy and repertoire of songs on the new Pantages bill.

General Joy commands the national selective army of clean fun which will be mobilized at Pantages for the week beginning Monday afternoon. "Wanted, a Wife," a sparkling comedy with music and a cast of 17 players, and the Royal Juggling Gascoignes are the featured numbers on a bill which promises many titbits.

Frank Harrington, Charlotte Taylor, Sidney Berlin and George Gould are the leading artists in "Wanted, a Wife." It tells a laughable story of a man who must marry before midnight if he is to inherit a million dollars.

The Royal Gascoignes juggle a wide variety of objects, including a pet dog. The Lucy Lucier Trio are all fine singers and have a new repertoire of songs and dialogue. "Women" is a comedy sketch dealing with the eccentricities and foibles of the gentler sex.

Julian Hall plays the saxophone and trombone, does soft shoe dancing and finds the climax of his act in imitations. The fourth episode of the Vitagraph feature, "The Secret Kingdom," will be shown.

Made "Goat"--Didn't Crab Is Popular Now With Fans

At first glance you'd never think this smiling gent was the most famous of national "goats." Introducing FRED SNODGRASS, former Giant player as he looks today, five years after the historic miff which helped New York lose a world's series to Boston.

Time is a great effacer of regrets and should some one with a "crool" desire to salt old wounds refer to Snodgrass' frappe de trop, or whatever it was, the best he would get would be a good natured smile. Now field captain of Vernon in the Pacific Coast league, Snodgrass is playing splendid ball and is highly popular on the coast, which was his home before he broke in with McGraw.

While Snodgrass' miff put a player on base in the crucial game of the world series, New York would have won had Merkle and Myers not allowed an easy foul to fall 20 feet from first base. This gave Speaker, the hitter, a new lease and he smashed a safety which tied the score and put the winning run on third, to count a moment later on a sacrifice fly.

Snodgrass has made himself popular alike with players and fans by "taking the gaff" and refusing to refer to the part others had in losing the series.

SHOT BY FATHER AL PALZER DIES

(United Press Leased Wire.) PERHAM, Minn., July 28.—Al Palzer, heavyweight boxer, who was shot by his father early Friday, when he was trying to protect his mother, died at the local hospital early today.

BEN LEONARD EXPECTED TO VISIT COAST

Seattle is announcing bravely that it expects to see Benny Leonard, new lightweight champion, in a local ring within the next month, but as yet has failed to name any opponent for the title-holder. With the exception of Eddie Campi, who is a featherweight, there doesn't seem to be any other than Harry Anderson of the champion's weight who can make him stop fast enough to give Seattle fans a peep at his class.

It is a cinch that a boy will have to be dug up who works faster than any of the present crop of Seattle lightweights if fans there are to see just how fast the new champ can go. In the ring with some of the northwestern champs, Leonard would look as tho he were standing still.

Seattle is confident that Benny will come, however, and promoters of the bout are scouring the woods for a boxer fast enough to show him an interesting time.

House Peters Has Exciting Dramatic Film

LEADING PLAYERS IN "THE HEIR OF THE AGES" Hugh Payne, Eugene Pallette, Abby Hope, Nina Byron, Kearney, H. A. Barrows, "The Duchess," Adele Farrington.

The great flood that once deluged the world is depicted in "The Heir of the Ages," which comes to the Colonial tomorrow. This scene marks the transition from the prologue to the modern story.

In the modern narrative the thrilling rescue of Abby Hope and Larry Payne by Hugh, who takes them from a burning building, is one of the big scenes.

An unusual story is unfolded in the new Colonial attraction. The battle of the weak and the strong is the theme, and the eventual triumph of the stronger man is shown.

House Peters has one of his best roles in this production, and is supported by a competent cast.

Gypsy Troupe Is Big Feature of Regent's Bill

The vintage of old Spain will assert itself Sunday when the new bill of Hippodrome vaudeville opens at the Regent theater with the Gypsy Brigands, a nomad band of extraordinary dancers and entertainers. Four men and four women comprise the personnel of the offering.

Aerobatics commingled with comedy will be offered by the Tokayo Japs, a troupe of Nipponese who have just completed a successful season in the east.

"The Two Blondes" are gymnasts who offer many new and entertaining feats.

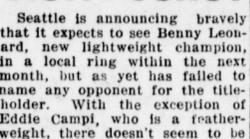

Hugo Lutgens, known from one end of the continent to the other as "The Swede Billy Sunday," is presenting his old character, "The Swede Preacher."

Fay & Lewis, a pair of twins, have a neat singing and dancing skit. The Alex Duo, man and woman, will present a repertoire of popular medleys.

William S. Hart Under Direction Of Thomas Ince

When two such names as William S. Hart and Thomas H. Ince are linked in a photograph it is certain that a high-class entertainment is assured. In the newest Hart production, "Wolf Lowry," turned out under the Ince trademark, a big story with a new twist is told. This feature, together with a good comedy and new Pathe news pictures, will open at the Apollo Sunday.

Pretty Margery Wilson, who has been admired in many Triangle plays, is seen in support of Hart. Hart has the role of a desert king, and Miss Wilson that of a girl who invades his domain.

Melbourne Gets Doug Fairbanks

Doug Fairbanks' sunny disposition has been dramatized. It is the lovable Doug himself whose life will shine all through "The Habit of Happiness," which will open at the Melbourne tomorrow.

His particular business in the plot is to go about and make everybody happy and bring a hearty laugh to the down-hearted. The very novelty of this brings him more clients than he can ever hope to cure. Among them is a crabbled old millionaire, and Fairbanks takes interest in the case because crusty Moneybags has a charming daughter. In the course of his strenuous efforts to relieve the old boy of the blues the joy-maker uncovers a plot to relieve his patient of all his money by trickery on the stock exchange. Fairbanks finally becomes involved in the plot and defeats it in a highly ingenious and athletic manner.
