STARS WILL FORM GREAT GRID ELEVEN

One of the greatest football teams ever seen in the west will go into action Oct. 27 when the all-star team of officers of Camp Lewis plays its first game of the season. This team will be composed of the cream of football talent among the hundreds of commissioned officers at the camp—and there is a wealth of material to draw from.

MAY CHOSEN TEAM CAPT.

Members of the officers' football team of the 362nd Infantry at Camp Lewis have elected Everett May, captain of the 1st Cavalry, as captain of the team. May is an experienced grid man, and knows the game as do few men in the west. He played three years on the Oregon Aggies team, captaining the team the last year, and winning a place as tackle on the all-northwestern team.

Lloyd Madden Goes to Jail

SEATTLE, Oct. 6.—Lloyd Madden and Bud Manning, local boxers, were arrested last night, following some trouble in front of the Hippodrome, and booked at the station on a disorderly conduct charge.

The police report was vague, and neither Madden nor Manning could be located today to tell what the trouble was all about. Reports about town were that Madden attacked the arresting officer and laid him cold.

Noted Star of High Comedy Is Here Wednesday

Henrietta Crossman, who comes to the Tacoma next Wednesday.

Henrietta Crossman, who is always sure of the warmest of welcomes in Tacoma, comes to the Tacoma theater next Wednesday night in Marian de Forest's new comedy of Pennsylvania Dutch life entitled "Erstwhile Susan."

Winter Garden Revue Featured As New Headliner at Pantages

The big winter garden revue, "Follies De Vogue," with Anna Mae Bell, Hal Rensselaer and Gladys Lanphere and the famous Chicago winter garden girls will top the new Pantages bill Monday.

Willie Solar, a pocket edition comedian and late star of Ziegfeld & Dillingham's Cocoman Grove, has a distinctive comedy act. The Three Mori Brothers, a trio of young and versatile athletes from far-away Nippon, are offering a real revelation of physical culture.

Marguerite Clark Has Role of Piquant Little Sub-Deb

Marguerite Clark and Frank Losee, in a scene from "Bal's Diary."

This situation is one of the many happenings in "Bal's Diary," which will be offered at the Colonial tomorrow. Marguerite Clark is starred in the role of Bab, and the part is one that just fits the charming, irrepressible little actress.

Soldiers--If You Want Some Real Sport, Try Fishing at Pt. Defiance

New soldiers of the national army at Camp Lewis who are fond of fishing should not overlook the salmon and salmon trout at the Narrows, near Point Defiance. For a soldier may not have time to hike out to the mountain streams for trout, he can always find time in his brief weekly furloughs to try the sporty salt water fishing that Tacoma can boast.

A stranger who has never tried to land either of these fish should purchase a trolling line properly equipped with spoons, sinkers and hooks, rather than try to prepare his own outfit.

"Nut" comedians are becoming as popular in Tacoma as the Camp Lewis soldier boys and are just as welcome. In appreciation of this, the Hippodrome circuit is playing an aggregation of "loose nuts," chief among whom is Charlie Wilson, the only man on the American continent that ever got a squirrel's goat.

This Comedian Is So Nutty He Fools the Squirrels

Arthur Vall and Sister have an offering consisting of a little bit of everything. Vall, besides being a clever entertainer, is a cartoonist of no mean ability. Davis and Kitty in "Nitty Nitty Devoings" are a nimble pair who juggle, play instrumental numbers and sing.

Grand Opera Company Sets New High Mark For Music

Nina Morana, soprano, divided honors among the singers. Fulgenzio Guerrieri, director of the splendid orchestra, was dragged from orchestra pit to the stage and given encore after encore as a tribute to his art.

Stadium Sophs Avenge School

Getting revenge for the victory earlier in the week of the Lincoln high seniors, the Stadium sophomores showed their worth in the intercollegiate class series yesterday afternoon by defeating the Lincoln sophs, 6 to 0.

The first half ended with a 0-0 score, but in the second part of the game the Stadium boys injected an extra ounce of pep, and ran away with six points.

Stadium sophomores look better than any other class team to date, and they will undoubtedly have a good representation on the school's first team.

FRED M'MULLIN, TACOMA BALL STAR, IS GETTING HIS LIFETIME'S DESIRE

Fred McMullin, former Tacoma baseball star, who is playing third base for the White Sox in the big world's series.

Tacoma baseball fans feel a personal interest in the White Sox during the world's series, because Fred McMullin, former Tiger star, is playing third for the Chicago team. McMullin is a Tacoma Product, getting his first start for the big leagues here, and every fan in the city is proud of him.

McMullin started professional baseball in 1912, joining the Seattle team. He was traded to Tacoma early in the season, and made a fair showing the first year. Fred worked between shortstop and third, played in 141 games, and hit for a season's average of .251.

Stars of Comedy World Bring Their Latest Girl Show Sunday

Kolb and Dill, veteran comedians, who bring their latest girl-show to the Tacoma Sunday.

A gingery ragtime orchestra of the new "Jazz" variety, a galaxy of smartly gowned singing girls, each of whom really can sing, a trap drummer who could tap music out of a dressing table with a pair of curling irons, and a coloratura soprano, who takes a high F with ease, are just a few of the features Kolb and Dill will introduce when they appear at the Tacoma theater tomorrow matinee and night and Monday and Tuesday nights, in "The High Cost of Loving."

To a man, dramatic critics are agreed that Kolb and Dill never had a vehicle that afforded them better opportunities for their imitable style of fun-making as "The High Cost of Loving." There is a real plot to the play—a plot bristling with comedy situations and enlivened by a tincture of spice.

Vice Expose In Melbourne Film

The little girl next door loved not wisely but too well. There is an elopement. In a strange city her winsomeness attracts the harples and she is separated from her boy husband, drugged and delivered into the pit. A girl answers an advertisement of an elderly woman who desires a companion. The woman is the proprietor of a resort and the girl is sold into hideous bondage.

Army Discipline Helped by Sport

Every soldier must be disciplined. He must be trained to obey instantly and unhesitatingly the command of his leader. Discipline is as necessary on an athletic team as it is in an army. So the American boy who wins a place on his school team learns something of discipline, but it does not take nearly so long as it would in the case of the recruit without athletic training. The youth who has trained himself to jump to the right spot and do the right thing, quickly, unhesitatingly, when the quarter barks a signal, does not take long in learning to execute a military command.

Roy Stewart Is Star Player In Latest Triangle

Roger Ingraham... Jack Gilbert Fluffy... Carolyn Wagner Silent Scott... Roy Stewart Ricketts... John Lane Mrs. Ricketts... Anna Dodge Bowle... George Willis "The Devil Dodger" saved Silent Scott for Fluffy, and saved two souls by his sacrifice. By his death he made of lover a husband, of dancehall butterfly a wife. How it all came about in Snowstorm is one of those spectacular dramas that makes "The Devil Dodger," the new Triangle production featuring Roy Stewart, great among western film plays. Silent Scott, the gambler, is a character you will not forget. This play opens at the Apollo Sunday.
