Schilling's Best in the kitchen are like oil on a machine—make it run easy. For sale by W. E. Sutherland, Orcas, Wash. referred to is an old one, established years ago, of which there is a plat and record that any taxpayer can see if he so desires. When that road was viewed it commenced at the school house in district No. 1 and followed an old road that was made by the Hudson Bay Co. and used to get from the main station to the branch stock stations on the island, and was also used by an early settler. The first school house was built on that road, and the only store and postoffice were at the old Hudson Bay landing, afterwards named San Juan Town; wherefore it became necessary to perpetuate that road while it could be done by mutual agreement all along the route. A few years since a new district was formed of the west half of district No. 1, which necessitated the building of a new school house in the center of the district. After San Juan Town was abandoned and Friday Harbor and Argyle sprung into prominence it was necessary to make changes in the roads for public convenience, and as a consequence portions of roads have fallen into disuse and have been closed, being of no public utility, and are now pastures and fields with growing crops. The portion of the road of which I am writing and to which I solicit particular attention, is from the western boundary of P. Belgen's farm in an easterly direction through said farm, through the school house, to S. V. Boyce, Sr., S. V. Boyce, Jr., and D. W. Oakes, and terminating at the eastern boundary of the said Oakes. All of that portion of the road has not been used for years and should be legally vacated. In the case of H. A. Armstrong's assertion that but one taxpayer would be benefited, I do assure, personally, all whom he addresses that he published, over his signature, what he knows to be a deliberate and unmitigated falsehood. There are three families, H. A. Armstrong, D. W. Oakes and John Buckley's, that have children who attend school and there is no other road by which they can get to the school house, nor upon which we farmers can get our produce to market. There is, therefore, likely to be a petition to vacate the portion above named and save the $1,000 referred to by H. A. Armstrong. D. W. OAKES.
