A Card From Mr. Rice

Editor Islander:
In accepting the appointment of Justice of the Peace of Orcas Precinct No. 3 I fear I have trespassed upon the rights of some who have lived longer upon the island than I have. I value the good opinion of my neighbors far more than this office, so if "A Subscriber" will come forth out of his hiding place, I will gladly relinquish the office to any one he may name. I did not seek the appointment, and will try to get along without it.
C. S. RICE.

Olga, January 28.
The editor has sufficient knowledge of the justice matter in question to say to Mr. Rice that no unworthy action or motive has been imputed to him in connection with it, and, further, that Mr. Oliver not only did not seek the appointment but quite reluctantly gave his consent to the use of his name when strongly urged by those of his neighbors and friends who were most interested in the matter. He hopes that Mr. Rice will serve and is glad to see the vacancy filled by one so well qualified.
