Cannot harm healthy human bodies. We cannot have healthy bodies unless we have pure blood, —the kind of blood that Hood's Sarsaparilla makes.

This great medicine has an unequalled, unapproached record for purifying and enriching the blood.

It cures scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism, anemia, nervousness, that tired feeling, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, general debility, and builds up the whole system.

Get it today in the usual liquid form or in chocolate tablet form called Sarsatals.

Keep a Stiff Upper Lip.

There has something gone wrong, My brave boy, it appears, For I see your proud struggle To keep back the tears. That is right; when you can not Give trouble the slip, Then bear it, still keeping "A stiff upper lip!"

Though you can not escape Disappointment and care, There's one thing you can do— It is, learn how to bear. If when for life's prizes You're running, you trip, Get up, start again, "Keep a stiff upper lip."

Let your hands and your conscience Be honest and clean; Scorn to touch or to think Of the thing that is mean; But hold on to the pure And the right with firm grip; And though hard be the task, "Keep a stiff upper lip."

Through childhood, through manhood, Through life to the end, Struggle bravely and stand By your colors, my friend; Only yield when you must, "Never give up the ship," But fight on to the last "With a stiff upper lip," —Phoebe Carey.

Jingle Bells.

Dashing through the snow In a one-horse, open sleigh; O'er the fields we go, Laughing all the way; Bells on bob-tail ring, Making spirits bright; What fun it is to ride and sing A sleighing song to-night!

CHORUS.

Jingle, bells! jingle, bells, Jingle all the way! Oh, what fun it is to ride In a one-horse open sleigh! Jingle, bells, jingle bells! Jingle all the way! Oh, what fun it is to ride In a one-horse open sleigh!

A day or two ago I thought I'd take a ride, And soon Miss Fannie Bright Was seated at my side; The horse was lean and lank; Misfortune seemed his lot; He got into a drifted bank And we—we got upset!

Now the ground is white; Go it while you're young; Take the girls to-night And sing this sleighing song; Just get a bob-tailed bay, Two-forty for his speed; Then hitch him to an open sleigh, And crack! you'll take the lead.

LYDIA THOMPSON.

Death of an Actress Who Once Created a Furore in This Country.

The death of Lydia Thompson, an English actress, recalls the wonderful change that has come over the American stage in a little more than a generation.

When she came here with the British Blondes in 1868 women in tights were not permitted in any but the lowest theaters. The excitement and controversy that followed the coming of the Blondes were tremendous. The newspapers criticized them severely, calling their appearance indecent, and ministers denounced their performance as the work of the devil. And now we have the Salome dance!

Notwithstanding the newspapers and the ministers, Lydia Thompson met with great receptions. She first appeared in New York in the burlesque "Iklon," and because the women of the company wore blonde wigs they were dubbed the "British Blondes," a name that clung to them. One of their performances, "The Forty Thieves," ran for 100 nights—something at that time unprecedented. All told, Miss Thompson made four visits to the United States, touring as far as the Pacific coast. Her success may be indicated by the fact that when she was in Cincinnati even the bootblacks subscribed their dimes to present her with a silver wreath. In Chicago she horse-whipped a newspaper man who had written an insulting article concerning one of her songs.

Miss Thompson first appeared on the London stage in 1852. Four years later she toured Europe and she won such favor that in many cities she was serenaded and escorted by torchlight parades. Her last appearance on the stage was in 1895, in London. She was 72 when she died recently, having been born in 1836.

VILLAINS IN OTHER LANDS.

Games Played to Separate People from Their Money.

"Don't get it into your mind that all the cunning bunco games played on credulous people to separate them from their bank rolls, are engineered by sharpers of the Anglo-Saxon race," said Mr. George L. Maroney, a New Orleans lawyer.

"Just to the south of us, in the sister republic across the Rio Grande, as smooth specimens of the swindling tribe are to be found as anywhere exist. I have myself been done in a small way in the City of Mexico by having purchased birds of the most gorgeous coloring, only to discover later that the vendor had neatly assisted nature by using a paint brush to enhance the splendor of his feathered stock. That is the reason you will see a Mexican bird peddler during a rain take off his coat and cover his cages, preferring to take a wetting himself to having the paint washed off the birds. They even apply paint to the flowers they sell to admiring strangers.

"There are also big scamps down there who operate on a scale of magnitude, as a certain New Orleans capitalist can testify. About a year ago this New Orleans man was approached by a very serene, elegantly dressed and fine-looking Mexican who bore good letters of introduction. In eloquent tones the visitor told of a large tract of land in the State of Coahuila that could be bought for one-fourth its real value. It would be worth some day not less than $1,000,000 and could low be had for the beggarly amount of $200,000. All this and much more, and as an evidence of good faith, the New Orleans man was asked to go in person to see the property.

"He listened and listening fell. To be brief, he went, saw the tract, which was finer and bigger than many a principality, and considered it dirt cheap at the price asked. The seller only asked $25,000 cash and this the other party put up in association with a couple of friends, who were let in on the good thing. It was the grandest speculation of their lives.

"To-day three sorrowing and revengeful New Orleans men are hunting the world over for a wily greaser, tawny of skin and fluent of speech, who, in the absence of the real owner in Europe, sold them one of the richest estates in the land of the Montezumas. The titles, which he delivered to them, as they subsequently found, were forgeries that called for some barren mountainous sections that wouldn't bring 5 cents an acre."—Baltimore American.

HOW TO STILL THE NERVES.

They May Be Calmed by Silence, Solitude and Sleep, Says One Writer.
In an article on "Nerves" published in Harper's Bazaar the story is told of one of our noted scientists who went to Dresden to consult the famous specialist for broken-down nerves. On hearing his symptoms the great physician said indifferently: "Ach so? It is probable that you have—yes, all the gelehrten (learned) have neurasthenia naturally." The remedy suggested was "Play golf and go to Egypt."

Silence, solitude and sleep are the sovereign remedies suggested for jagged nerves. Slight daily doses of the three "S's," it is claimed, will prevent a nervous breakdown and may be obtained by even the most busy people. But "all the learned have neurasthenia" is at once a warning and a consolation to the brain worker; to "drive the machine" with skill and care is the problem of the successful American.

The writer of this article urges that we ought to thank God that we belong to the most nervous, restless, all pervading race the world has seen since the days of Julius Caesar. It is our "nerves" that make us what we are.

Insomnia and Alarm Clocks.
The patient complained of insomnia. "You must get an alarm clock at once," said the physician.

The patient stared. "I mean it. What time do you waken usually in the night?" "Two o'clock lately."

"Set the alarm for fifteen minutes before 2. As soon as it strikes, get up, dress for the day and take a walk of not less than two miles. Do not go to bed again that day under any circumstances, nor take a nap, even sitting in your chair.

"The next night set the alarm at a quarter past 2. You will sleep until it wakens you. Get up as before and take another two mile walk.

"The third night you can venture to set your alarm at 3. Repeat the walk. If you are not cured by that time, you will be a more difficult case than any I have had heretofore, but if the habit of lying awake is not broken begin back at 2 o'clock again and repeat." —New York Press.

Malthoid Roofing

Mr. C. H. Wagner, Gen. Mgr. Russ Lumber Co., San Diego, Cal., U. S. A., writes as follows: "A fire occurred during the night of August 17th and was not discovered until morning. Blaze had died out as the roofing would not ignite. This roof is covered with your Malthoid Roofing. We consider that the resistance of the Malthoid Roofing stopped the blaze and saved the plant."

It has been proposed that if New Mexico is admitted to statehood, its name should be changed to Lincoln. No doubt New Mexico will some day do honor to any namesake, but a new State may be like a new baby—its parents may name it first and find out about it afterward. Still, if New Mexico is not worthy to be called Lincoln, it is not worthy to be admitted. On these questions of name and merit the people of New Mexico are entitled to speak first.

Whiskey for Lame Back.

The increased use of whiskey for lame back rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective. "To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce Toris Compound and one ounce Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."

This compound is a product of the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co., Chicago, but it as well as the other ingredients can be had from any good druggist.

Little drops of water,
Little grains of sand.

The authorship of the verses has been ascribed to others, but examination of the evidence seems to decide the matter in favor of Mrs. Carney. She was also the author of another poem which has had almost as wide a circulation and has probably exercised an even greater personal influence—the verses beginning:

Deal gently with the erring.
