Think of the pleasure it will be to come unexpectedly upon a patch of flaming scarlet poppies or to see a clump of tall stately pink foxgloves or blue Canterbury bells. An enjoyable time is anticipated and it is hoped as many as possible can do so will take advantage of the opportunity. The invitation is extended to all.

The American-Reveille of Bellingham, has this to say of the Fruit Growers' Association recently held there: "A communication from Jas. Gibson of East Sound, was presented to the meeting asking that the fruit growers of San Juan county be admitted to the association. The Whatcom county fruit growers decided to admit the island farmers optionally, agreeing to handle their products and to allow them to use a special label, thus giving them the benefit of the association and allowing them to retain their individuality as a fruit growing section. A motion was made and carried that after September 1, 1913, the membership fee for admission be raised to $25. At present the fee is $5 and any fruit grower or farmer of the counties is eligible to membership."
