

Mrs. C. C. McKeown is visiting relatives in Spokane this week.

Attorney W. H. Jackson went to Spokane Wednesday on important legal business.

M. Saylor of Boyds was here Tuesday giving his attention to business matters at the courthouse.

Miss Ellen Ide has accepted a position in the store of J. D. Millspaugh and is residing at his home.

Bert Wygant has returned to Echo from his summer's work with the Chewelah Marble Company on Deep Creek.

T. L. Montgomery expects to return to Chewelah, his former home, on Monday to assist in the Stevens County Meat Company's plant there.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Allen returned last week from Calispell valley, where they have recently completed proof in support of homestead and timber claims.

The new schoolhouse on the Little Pend d'Oreille has just been completed and the first meeting of the school directors will be Nov. 16. This school is on unsurveyed land.

Mr. Burris and family of North Dakota arrived last Saturday with the intention of remaining some time and is now visiting with his brother-in-law, W. I. Russell, at Echo.

Richard A. McKellar and Miss Margaret Ellis, two popular young people of Kettle Falls, were married in this city Tuesday by Rev. G. H. Wilbur, pastor of the Congregational church.

Enoch Armstrong, a young man recently from North Dakota, has accepted a five months' term of school in the Skeels district, six miles west of Addy, and went there Sunday to assume his new duties.

W. M. Davidson has completed a $600 residence on his farm which he purchased from Robert Lancaster. Mr. Davidson came here from Kendilville, Ind., in September and is well pleased with this section of the country and its possibilities.

A. E. Adams of Valley was in town Tuesday presenting road matters before the county commissioners. E. V. Klein of Spokane, who owns 130 acres on the banks of Waits lake, 3 miles west of Valley, intends to plat the land lying on the lake front and put it into acre tracts and through Mr. Adams, his brother-in-law, makes application for a county road through this tract. Mr. Adams was formerly in the newspaper business in Colville, Springdale and Spokane, and is well known throughout the county.

If you are going to do any painting this fall be sure and get prices at Carroll's before buying.

Taxes received by the treasurer's office for October amount to $4,011.45. Sheriff's fees for the month were $122.20, and auditor's $194.10.

M. C. Kelly moved with his family this week to their new home recently purchased from Mrs. Moorhead, at the corner of Adiah and Court streets.

Raymond Weed and Mable Dunham, both of Molson, Wash., were married at 6:15 p. m. Wednesday at Hotel Lee by Rev. G. H. Wilbur. Their home will be at Molson.

At Echo hall on Nov. 15 will occur a social for the benefit of the Christmas tree fund, to be followed by a free dance. Ladies are requested to bring lunch for two, and shadows instead of baskets will be sold at auction. Everybody invited.

J. D. Millspaugh has moved into the Zent property in the eastern part of town. Mr. Martin, a newcomer from Spokane, associated with Z. Lane in the sawmill business on Mill Creek, is occupying the house just vacated by Mr. Millspaugh.

Mrs. T. Waldo Murphy this week entertained her friends, the Misses L. B. Wilson and M. M. Hunter, at her home at Edendale. While in Stevens county the party, accompanied by Charles McIntire, the well-known civil engineer, also of Spokane, paid a visit to Colville.

W. E. Brayton of Peach, Lincoln county, deputy state horticultural inspector for eastern Washington, was in town Monday and Tuesday interviewing the county commissioners in regard to the inspection of nursery stock coming into the county. He reports orchards along the Columbia river in good condition.

Carroll's Wall Paper Sale—For the next three weeks I will sell wall paper at 25% off on all kinds.

HOTEL COLVILLE

American Plan Rates $1.25 to $2.50
LARGEST HOTEL IN STEVENS COUNTY