TUESDAY

The parade Tuesday, led by the Colville band of twenty pieces was followed by thirty-five elegantly decorated automobiles and nearly one thousand school children from Colville and surrounding districts.

The formal opening of Yep-Kanum was by Princess Amatap, who, with the key of the city, presented to her by Mayor A. B. Cook, stood in a handsomely decorated automobile and in substance said: "I, Amatap, princess of Yep-Kanum, do now welcome all these people to our sports, races and games. No warwhoop will be heard here, but we will sing, dance and play our games in peace. The strangers will be made welcome, and when they go away they will say they like Yep-Kanum. And next year you will all return to see Amatap and Yep-Kanum. And now Amatap declares Yep-Kanum open for three days and three nights." The princess was cheered. J. C. Harrigan (Senator Sorgham from Missouri) introduced President Taft (John R. Slater), who made a short and interesting talk, which was frequently interrupted by cheers and applause. Professor De Groot then performed on the high wire, and his feats were watched with interest. In the foot races, Ralph Goetter took first prize and Grover Graham second in the free for all 100-yard dash. In the boys' seventy-five-yard dash Hugh Horton took first prize and Guy Keinholt second. In the girls' race Doris Allin was first and Beulah Shoemaker second. In the high school football game between Marcus and Colville the home team was defeated in a score of 13 to 6.

WEDNESDAY

Wednesday was a day of interesting features at Yep-Kanum. The grand parade at 1 o'clock, led by the Colville band of twenty pieces, Princess Amatap and her party, was followed by a long line of decorated autos, ball teams, commercial travelers, cowboys and cowgirls on prancing cayuses, Indians on bucking broncos, intertwined with comical clowns and calithumpians. At 2 o'clock the entire carlansy crowded the streets around the speakers' platform to hear what Woodrow Wilson had to say. The democratic from New Jersey was impersonated by Prosecuting Attorney Howard W. Stull, and introduced by J. C. Harrigan under the guise of Colonel Boggs of Virginia, an ancient friend of the Wilson family. The character was well taken and the speaker was frequently interrupted by applause and rounds of cheers. The cowboys, cowgirls and Indian dancing and reckless riding on Main street made a realistic scene of wild west life. The bronco bucking in the ball park after the game, was interesting to horsemen and thrilling to "tenderloins." During the band concert at night over one thousand people of all ages spent an hour in a terrible storm of confetti. The dance in the Masonic temple was formally opened at 8 o'clock by Princess Amatap on the arm of President Keller, and for three hours the big hall was filled with gayety and good music. The ball game here on Wednesday with the Fort Wright colored soldiers was probably the fastest game ever witnessed on the Colville diamond. The visitors were out played at every stage of the game, making eight errors to Colville's two. Five hits were made by the visitors, while the Colville boys landed on six. NaVarre struck out eleven, while the colored twirler fanned nine. NaVarre did not walk a single man, but Merichson and Scott gave two men bases on balls. The game ended in a score of five to four in favor of the home team. The visiting team is considered one of the fastest aggregations in the northwest that are playing independent ball, but have been defeated here five out of eight games played. This was the first defeat for the colored team this season.

THURSDAY

Thursday, the last day of Yep-Kanum, opened with a speech from the band assembled by W. C. Jones of Spokane at 11 o'clock. The speaker, although a candidate for office, did not allude to politics or his candidacy, but in accordance with the subject assigned him by the committee devoted an hour talking to farmers and grangers, relating many reminiscences of pioneer life in Colville and Stevens county. As in the two days previous, at 1 o'clock the grand parade was led by the Colville band and Princess Amatap and her party, followed by a long line of decorated automobiles, and at 2 o'clock Astor street was blocked with throngs of people who were anxious to hear and see the original and genuine "Bull Moose." The role was taken by County Auditor L. E. Jessup, who when introduced by his campaign manager, Congressman Windy, gave an interesting talk on the Teddy Roosevelt theory. After the "Bull Moose" had finished and retired to the jungles, R. B. Martin, socialist candidate for congress, took the platform as Eugene V. Debs. Mr. Martin, who is an eloquent speaker, talked seriously on politics from a socialistic point of view. At 3:30 nearly 1000 people were assembled in the ball park to witness the game between Fort Wright and the home team. At 2:45 Princess Amatap appeared in front of the big grandstand and announced batteries, and passing a new ball over home plate said "play ball." The visitors were in fighting trim and in spite of the four pitchers that were brought in to play the colored soldiers they never quit slugging until ten of their men had crossed home plate. Grover Graham saved the team from a shut out by smashing a home run in the eighth inning.

The masquerading on the streets during the band concert in the evening was enjoyed by hundreds who were out for a good time. The masked ball at the Masonic temple was a grand success from every point of view, and at 1 a. m. the dance was over, which formally was the closing of Colville's YEP-KANUM.

The Stevens County Power and Light Company is to be congratulated because of the splendid service during Yep-Kanum. Manager Williams instructed every employee of the company to use extraordinary precautions. As a result, the electric juice never failed for a moment.

W. A. Hughes won the first prize for district display of products of the soil from Crystal Falls district. He thinks he has won about half of all the other prizes on grains and vegetables. Four Colville boosters made a record auto run Monday night. E. M. Casey of Inebelum is the possessor of an Indian costume worth several hundred dollars, which he had promised as a costume for Princess Amatap in the parade Tuesday. The suit failed to arrive and at 9 p. m. a car was secured and the quartet started for Inebelum to secure the costume. They arrived at Colville before morning with the suit, having covered about 120 miles of country roads in the trip. The men making the run were: W. W. Campbell, secretary of the chamber of commerce; H. W. Sikke, W. A. Burnam and Charles Mantz.

Princess Amatap, gowned in the valuable buckskin robe owned by Earl M. Casey of Daisy, presented a pleasing picture of Indian life. She was attended by three maids of honor, Mesdames W. R. Baker, P. R. Parks, J. C. Harrigan, all dressed in Indian costume. W. R. Baker, dressed as an Indian warrior, and his son Clement, dressed as a papoose, occupied the front seat of the Baker auto, which carried the princess party throughout the Yep-Kanum.

The auto owners of Colville did themselves proud in getting into the parades with beautifully decorated machines. It shows them to be a live bunch. And it might be here stated that many were the remarks that the Tuesday parade was the prettiest ever seen in the Inland Empire.

Four business houses had special framework erected over the sidewalk and special decorations suspended therefrom—B. W. Emery, Leader, Stannus-Keller, Casey & Son.

Bandstands were erected on Astor street and Fifth avenue. The Colville band, under Director Louis Fontaine, did excellent work, and received much praise. Nelson, the drummer expert from Spokane, played in the band, and also in the orchestra nights for the dance. Other orchestra members were: Dr. W. F. Diefenbacher, L. M. McFarland, Ben Aspend.

John's window at the Leader contained a display of vegetables from the Hughes homestead at Crystal Falls.

Frank Kostka displayed a window of home grown vegetables from his place at the south limit of the city.

Main street for two blocks was decorated with electric lights strung five feet apart, ten feet above the edge of the sidewalk. Arc lights were placed over the center of the street, 30 feet apart. The exhibit hall, in Hotel Colville building, was in charge of H. T. Wentz, and the exhibits were good, although not so numerous as they will be another year.

The school district exhibition of vegetables and handwork produced by grade students brought much favorable comment.

The governing board of the chamber of commerce had headquarters in the office of Henry R. Spedden. W. L. Sax gave up his office for use as a rest room. Tuesday evening at 6 the princess' party was entertained at luncheon at Hotel Colville.

Mutt and Jeff were interested spectators during the carnival. Clark Millsbaugh and Mark Hanna were the offenders.

The high school boys' nightstrik parade Tuesday night kept excitement alive on the streets, and in the various business houses which the long line of white gowned boys visited. Yep-Kanum was such a success that it is now proposed to make the event an annual one. Everybody seems to have been pleased. Attractions were all free, prices were kept at a minimum on all wares sold by the stores, and at the restaurants and hotels. Even the big ball game, with the best team in the Inland Empire, only exacted 25 cents admission. The sole idea of Colville was to give the people a good time—not to make money out of them, and this method was appreciated.

To the Supporters of Wilson and Tar-shall.

For the first time in recent years a great political party has gone back to the people for its candidate. Mr. Wilson's candidacy was made possible without the acceptance of campaign funds from corporate and other selfish interests. This was not a matter of policy. Gov. Wilson believed it to be right. The insistent demand of the people compelled this nomination and they must now complete their political triumph by election. Certain funds are necessary and they must come from people who believe in him and his cause. The source from which campaign funds are most easily obtained is, for the reasons before given, closed to the democratic candidates. They are therefore appealing to the people for such contributions as will evidence their interest in the cause of progressive democracy.
