

Bank of Colville

Offices: Colville and Kettle Falls
Capital $100,000.00

An Exploded Notion

is that once generally held, that the bank prospers by the misfortunes of others. The bank shares in the prosperity of its depositors and its business decreases when patrons suffer losses.

Therefore the bank is interested first of all in seeing its patrons prosper. Very often its timely assistance means success to its customer when the lack of just such help would mean failure, or heavy losses. The depositor who has established a good line of credit at the bank, has a valuable resource on which he can fall back in time of need.

The Holden alfalfa campaign began Sept. 23. On Sunday, Oct. 19, the party will make an auto trip down the Columbia from Marcus calling at Kettle Falls, Daisy, and Gifford and returning by way of Rice. This gives several weeks to get your questions ready for Prof. Holden. He knows all about alfalfa.

Repairs are being made on the high flume of the Fruitland Irrigation Co. The work is done this fall as the repairs can be made with greater ease when the water is low in the Colville river.

Larson & Kelley are having a new floor put in their store; their business is so great it requires but a few months to wear the floor out. Herm Keyser is the artist in charge of the work which is a guarantee that it will be well done.

Report states that Mr. Reid bought a number of lots at Colville last week when the sale was made by the county treasurer, for taxes unpaid for the year 1906.

J. C. Wilson is on a visit to his Apache mine on the Nespelum. Reports from there are very encouraging; during his absence E. K. Jacobs has his head and hands full of business.

Mrs. E. E. Williams returned from Soap Lake greatly benefitted in health.

Saturday evening a few friends of J. C. Wilson met at his home to celebrate his 35th birthday. Cards and refreshments.

Geo. Knight, who is sojourning at Wenatchee, has been on the sick list but recent reports state that he is rapidly improving and is again able to be out.

The Dial club met on Thursday at the residence of Mrs. E. K. Jacobs. Subject, Prison work. A paper was read by Mrs. Wheeler.

Some valuable dogs have come to grief in the past week by coming in contact with poison. One very valuable hunting dog belonging to young Doc Brigham got a dose while out hunting, the poison having been put out to poison magpies. The boy feels the loss of his daily companion deeply; indeed he may, as the loss of a useful and companionable pet of that sort is indeed hard to replace.

Mr. Preston of Harvey is daily having his crop of apples hauled to the station for shipment. He has sold one carload at $1.25 per box. He estimates his crop this year at about 3000 boxes. Mr. Preston now owns what was the Geo. Harvey and Dell Harvey ranches; on each place there is a fine young orchard.

The frost on Saturday night the 4th, was a cooker, the first of any importance this fall; no particular damage was done as every one was fully prepared for it.

Garden Valley grange will meet on Friday, Oct. 17. Every member is requested to be present as important business will come before the grange. Something doing every meeting. C. A. Heath, sec'y.

Miss Ethel B. Foley has been appointed by the people of Kettle Falls as their candidate in the Colville Examiner popularity contest to solicit subscriptions in this vicinity to this valuable paper. A competition has been arranged by the Examiner, and prizes offered to the young lady who secures the greatest number of votes. Each subscription entitles the person making it to 5,000 votes, and the first prize is a free trip to the Panama Exposition and return, or $119 in cash. Second and third prizes are a guaranteed gold watch and diamond ring. Anyone can take one, two, or three years subscription, at $1.00 per year, thus securing 5,000, 12,000, or 20,000 votes for Miss Foley. This popular young lady will make a canvas the coming week, and will compete with young women in Colville and Marcus. Let everybody subscribe, and Miss Foley will win the first prize, sure.

Ensign Bertha Smith of the Salvation Army with three companions will be in Kettle Falls Saturday and Sunday. Street meetings will be held Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon. Sunday morning service will be conducted in the Baptist church and in the Presbyterian church Sunday night. Ensign Smith is matron of the Salvation Army rescue home, Spokane.

As an evidence of public spirit we mention the labors of Dr. Baldwin who cleaned out the thistles in his neighborhood. Some Russian thistles had secured a footing along the slope of the irrigation ditch, and the doctor literally jumped on them with both feet, with the result that the advancing line of thistles was put out of business. This is the only way to deal with Russian thistles, which resemble the tumbleweed and when allowed to go unchecked scatter their seeds broadcast as they are rolled about the country in the late fall or early spring.

A. H. Roeder from Spokane, who is spending a week here in the interest of the Colville Examiner, expresses himself as charmed with Kettle Falls, the scenic grandeur of our noble Columbia river and valley, and their surrounding hills. He is seriously considering moving his family here for permanent residence. He strongly urges all owners of motor cars who have not seen the wonders of the scenic location of Kettle Falls, and experienced its calm bright sunshine, to take the trip at once. It is especially lovely at this time of year. If not the owner of a car, come by train. Kettle Falls can be reached from Spokane in four hours at a comfortable rate of speed. An excellent lunch will be served by our host and hostess at the Munro Hotel, and the return trip can be made in the afternoon, or the night may be comfortably and profitably spent. The rest hour can be delightfully passed on the bank of the majestic Columbia river, or on the low lying hills overlooking the river and valley, a scene of unsurpassed grandeur and interest. The sparkling river stretching away for miles in the distance, the hills across in the Colville Indian reservation, clothed with dark green pine, fir and spruce, interspersed with birch turning yellow, and all made brilliant in the calm sunshine by the most beautiful display of scarlet sumach, everywhere in evidence. This peaceful valley is famed for its lack of wind, with day after day of wonderful rest, in which all nature seems to join. The scene from Hawks-Nest, a lovely hill near the hotel, set at the confluence of four valleys, the Colville, the Kettle river and the upper and lower Columbia, affords perhaps the most magnificent view in the state. Its woods and ravines are the home of deer, grouse, pheasant and quail, and can be reached by a short climb.

J. R. Lesh, J. F. Downing and R. A. McKellar are wearing broad smiles over the addition of three new citizens to Kettle Falls.

PROF. HOLDEN'S ALFALFA TRIP

Prof. Perry G. Holden, the alfalfa expert, will visit Stevens county Oct. 18-21, during his 40-day campaign in eastern Washington. Prof. Holden will travel in a special train of five cars, and will be accompanied by representatives of influential newspaper and press bureaus, members of the Spokane chamber of commerce and many business men of that city.

It is the biggest educational campaign of the kind ever attempted in this state, and in planning it the Spokane chamber of commerce has adopted an enlightened policy of helping Spokane by helping to build up the country tributary to that city.

Prof. Holden will come to talk and preach alfalfa growing to the farmers. He will want farmer audiences, and what he will have to say and the way he will say it will prove not only interesting but most instructive to his audiences. Stevens county has worked hard to induce the Spokane chamber of commerce to route the professor and his party through this county, and every effort will be made to greet the alfalfa expert with large audiences wherever he lectures. He preaches a doctrine that will lead to prosperity, and many farmers have already expressed an eagerness to hear him lecture.

Prof. Holden is a man of ideas, force and ability. He is a convincing talker, and knows what he talks about thoroughly. His lectures will be helpful and suggestions that can be followed with profit. He is the famous Ames professor who waged the great corn growing campaign in Iowa a number of years ago with splendid results, and there can be no doubt that his coming to this state will result in great benefit to the farmers of eastern Washington.

At least five experts from the Washington State college will accompany the Holden party. Those selected to make the trip are President E. A. Bryan, Professor George Severance, head of the agricultural department, Ira D. Cardiff, director of the experiment station, A. B. Nyström, head of the department of dairying, and E. F. Gaines, instructor in agronomy and assistant plant pathologist.

The trip planned for Prof. Holden and party by the Spokane chamber of commerce will cover a distance of 3200 miles, traverse five railroads and include stops at 140 towns of the Inland Empire.

Following is the schedule for this country:

Saturday, Oct. 18—Arrive at Marcus from the north, 8 p. m.
Sunday—Make the trip down Columbia river valley by auto through Kettle Falls, Daisy, Gifford, returning via Rice and high line.
Monday 20th—Leave Marcus 10:30. Arrive Colville 11:15, leave at 2. Addy 2:45 to 5. Chewelah, 5:30 to next morning at 7:40.
Tuesday 21st—Leave 8 to 10. Springdale 10:30 to 1. Loon Lake 1:30 to 3:20. Deer Park 3:45 to 6.

New Club Organized

An enthusiastic meeting of the leading business men of Kettle Falls, for organization of the new social and athletic club, was held in the office of Atwood & Webb, last Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected: C. C. Johnson, president; J. H. Slagle, vice-president; C. J. Roupe, secretary, and J. M. Williams, treasurer. In addition to the above, Messrs Atwood and Noble were appointed members of the executive committee. A committee consisting of Messrs Webb, Zirtzmann and Reed were named to draft a constitution and bylaws, to be presented for adoption at a meeting to be held one week later.

There were present Messrs Johnson, Roupe, Atwood, Noble, Reed, Tilden, Growdon, McKellar, Jones, Slagle, Keyser, Richard, Zirtzmann, Greenwald, Williams, Webb, Jacobs and McMeekin. These men made voluntary subscriptions and paid in cash $135 to supply a treasury fund, with which immediate action can be taken, and furnish necessary equipment.

Hugh Munro offered the use of a building, free of rent, for a year as a home for the club; this was gratefully accepted and several pieces of furniture and athletic apparatus were donated to be installed. High class periodicals will be provided, and A. H. Roeder, a visitor from Spokane who is here in the interest of the Colville Examiner, most kindly gave subscriptions to the "Saturday Evening Post" and the Examiner. Books and magazines will be gladly received from all who can donate them.

Such reading matter may be left at the office of O. W. Noble until further notice.

There are doubtless many in the community who were unable to attend this meeting but who are desirous of contributing to this voluntary fund for starting the club, and thus be entitled as entitled to charter membership.

Call on J. M. Williams, treasurer, and receive his receipt. This can be framed for the admiration of future generations, as marking the beginning of prosperity, by good-fellowship, of our live and hustling Kettle Falls.

Riverview

A few short ripples were heard in Riverview the past week. No one alarmed.

The smiling face of Esther Johnson was seen in the city Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kelley and son Roland spent Sunday in Riverview.

C. Larsen and family picked chicken bones with Rob Olinger and family and enjoyed the beautiful scenery of Riverview, returning to their home in Kettle Falls late Sunday evening.

Mrs. James Chilvers of Downers Grove, Ill., is enjoying a visit with her daughter Mrs. Roy Worley.

Roy Chilvers and bride returned to Downers Grove Oct 1st after spending three weeks with Mrs. Roy Worley, his sister. He says he would not have known the valley, especially Riverview, there have been so many improvements made since he was here five years ago.

Ray Bradbury has returned from Pleasant Valley where he was making hay.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Sage have moved in the J. Robinson house and expect to enjoy the pleasures of Riverview the coming winter.

"Leele" is still breathing the fresh air of B. C. sixteen miles north of Carmi, says he has had no fresh fruit all summer. Eggs 55c per dozen, bread 25c a loaf, butter out of sight; a fine opening for some enterprising grocer.

Potato digging seems to be the order of the day; spuds large and plentiful.

Rice Items

The potato crop is reported short here this season.

Many of the harvesters have returned from the lower country.

The band concert was not advertised very well hence the attendance was small.

At a special business meeting of the Baptist church last Sunday, Rev. J. M. Hupp was unanimously called as pastor for the ensuing year. His past year has been a very successful one from every standpoint, culminating in the dedication of one of the finest rural churches in the northwest.

On Sunday, Oct. 19, the dedicatory services will be held in the new church building at the Sparks-Covington corners. Many prominent speakers from abroad will be present, including Dr. King of Spokane, Rev. J. Dimmick Taylor, the noted evangelist, and Miss Kuykendahl, a soloist from Pomeroy who will render several selections. Special music will be a feature of the services. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and bring lunch which will be served in the basement of the new church, and attend the morning, afternoon and evening services.

Who Wants Cows?

Owing to the facts that there is an oversupply of feed and shortage of cattle in this section of country, including Stevens, Ferry and Okanogan counties, and a strong tendency of all people to go in for more stock, while there is a short period of time yet to bring in stock from places where things are reversed I appeal to the business men, farmers and all progressive people of these counties to join hands. We want to get into cheese and buttermaking successfully; we have the country and climate, raise all kinds of feed and that's the foundation; next comes the cows. We want twice as many and the quicker the better. I want an estimate of how many young cows are wanted and from how many people and the exact location and I will see that we get the cows. All farmers interested in this and wanting from one to three cows, guaranteed of good health and coming fresh, at a reasonable price, should let me know at once, also whether they can pay cash or secured notes. All business people (and they all ought to be interested in a matter so important for us all) I ask to kindly express themselves as to what extent the financial backing can be figured on. I am prepared to give all satisfactory reference; all correspondence to be sent to my home address, Rice, Wash. Very respectfully, Jacob Marty.

For Sale—Five-month-old full-blooded Holstein bull calf. L. M. Clancy, Kettle Falls.—Adv.

Carl Koch of Spokane, Grand Patriarch of Odd Fellows, arrived in town Wednesday the guest of C. A. Heath. They went to Gifford Thursday to visit the encampment at that place.

Kettle Falls or Columbia river subscribers not receiving their paper regularly, or at the correct address, should notify the Kettle Falls management. Sample copies may be secured at this office, and orders for subscriptions or job work will be attended to.

A 13 piece orchestra will furnish music for the big dance to be held at Marcus tonight, for the benefit of the band.

"Was generally debilitated for years. Had sick headache, lacked ambition, was worn out and all run down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas. Freitoy, Moosup, Conn.—Adv.

In the world's series of baseball, between New York and Philadelphia, the latter has won three out of four games, and today's game may settle the series. The winner must win four out of seven.

A Gentle and Effective Laxative
A mild, gentle and effective laxative is what people demand when suffering from constipation. Thousands swear by Dr. King's New Life Pills. Hugh Tallman of San Antonio, Texas, writes: "They are, beyond question, the best pills my wife and I have ever taken." They never cause pain. Price 25 cents at druggists or by mail. H. E. Bucklen & Company, Philadelphia or St. Louis.—Adv.
