

The Colville Examiner

Issued Every Saturday morning. Entered as second-class matter, Oct. 31, 1907, at the postoffice at Colville, Wash., under act of congress of March 3, 1879.

Subscription $1 year always in advance Six months 50c Three months 25c Postage for B. C. and foreign 50c extra Advertising rate card sent on application

J. C. Harrigan, Editor and Proprietor

THIS PAPER REPRESENTS FOREIGN ADVERTISING BY THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

GENERAL OFFICES NEW YORK AND CHICAGO BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIES

On Friday evening the boys of the basket ball team were entertained at a formal dinner by the domestic science department of the high school. The table was prettily decorated as, also, was the lower hall where it had been arranged. Plants formed a miniature sunken garden in the center of the table, and daffodils, candle shades and place cards carried out the color decorations in yellow. Covers were laid for John Byers, Joe Rogers, George Sansburn, Merlin Stoltz, Curry Clark, William Waddell, Ray Walston, Horace Rice, Harold Oakes, Clarence Chamberlain, William Hanna, Louis Wernli, and Fred Campbell of the team; also W. O. Cummings, E. H. Thompson, and Gibson Gilson. The dinner was prepared and served by Marion Williams, Elva Hanna, Alma Hoy, Wilma Allin, Stella Houchins, Bertha Ramser, Arlene Van Warner and Queenie Schultz under the direction of Miss Rouse of the home economics department.

Miss Nellie Joos of Wimbledon, N. D., arrived Tuesday to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Milberg. She is a sister of Mrs. Milberg.

Thursday was the 75th birthday of Thomas S. Donnel on East 6th avenue. His wife, thinking to make the occasion one of pleasure to him as he had been in feeble health during the winter and unable to get out from home, invited a half dozen of his comrades and as many of the relief corps to dinner. It developed at the dinner hour that it was also the 47th wedding anniversary of this worthy couple. Mr. Donnel was the recipient of a number of tokens of regard and well wishes for many more happy returns of the day.

Saturday's program at the farmers institute will close at noon, the instructors leaving for Okanogan county on the noon train. Program will begin at 9:30, and cover dairying, horticulture and poultry.

For Sale—Ancona chickens. E. C. Conner.—adv.

The first cooperative stock sale in this valley was held Thursday at the Latimer ranch near Addy, conducted by Auctioneer Wm. Buckley. Eight owners disposed of 43 head of cattle and 25 head of hogs, at good prices. About 200 people were present despite the bad weather.

W. R. Baker, master of Colville lodge No. 50, F. & A. M., has presented to the lodge a full set of 33 lantern slides for use in exemplification of degree instruction. The 3d degree will be given on the 16th, when the slides will be given their first use.

The W. O. W. gave an "At Home" Tuesday night, in honor of the initiation of 17 candidates. About 125 were present, and enjoyed the initiation, cards, and supper. W. R. Baker as toastmaster called upon E. P. Martin, deputy head consul; John Pattison, head manager; Alex Pollock, district manager; Mr. Mapes, organizer; W. Gammage, local clerk; Geo. H. Bevan of Kettle Falls, a charter member of the Kettle Falls camp 18 years ago. Presentation of a full set of officers jewels from the head consul was made. Solos were rendered by Mrs. J. C. Harrigan and Frank Starr, with Prof. Judd, accompanist. The Meyer orchestra furnished music for dancing until an early hour. Frank B. Goetter, consul commander, reports that the campaign for members has brought in 36 new members thus far, and the organizer will remain here for several weeks.

The Relief Corps will meet April 4, at 2 p. m. There will be initiation, and refreshments. All members requested to be present.

C. Losie brought to the Examiner an egg 7x8 inches in circumference, weighing quarter of a pound. Mr. Losie says the Leghorn hen lays a double-yolked egg every other day.

Mrs. Georgiana Mitchell was born in Davis county, Mo., Oct. 27, 1842. She was married to G. M. Mitchell in 1860, and was the mother of 7 children, those surviving being Mrs. G. L. Rieth of Colville and Arthur Mitchell of Jamison, Mo. She departed this life March 27, at the home of her daughter, after an illness of several months. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. A. C. McChesney at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon, with burial at the new cemetery.

For any itching skin trouble, piles, eczema, salt rheum, hives, itch, scald head, herpes, scabies, Doan's Ointment is highly recommended. 50c a box at all stores.—Adv.

The county camp of Modern Woodmen of America was held at Colville Wednesday afternoon. The Colville camp, which is the largest in the county, was represented by Clerk A. Knapp, Geo. O. Bay and J. C. Harrigan. Other camps were represented as follows: Chewelah, Geo. W. Walker; Ady, A. S. Toepel delegate, William Koerner alternate; Kettle Falls, R. F. Smith. J. C. Harrigan of Colville was elected as representative to the state camp at Bellingham May 6, with F. C. Janes of Chewelah as alternate. Chewelah was decided upon for the next county camp, in 1907. Resolutions were adopted for present tion at the state camp. A. S. Toepel served as chairman of the county camp meeting, with A. L. Knapp clerk.

"Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is the best remedy for that often fatal disease—croup. It has been used with success in our family for eight years."—Mrs. L. Whiteacre, Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

The Air of Spring

The merry cheer-up, cheer-up of the robins each morning and evening reminds us that spring is near. Seed catalogs are very much in evidence and the beautifully colored pictures make those of us who are obliged to live in town sigh for the gently undulating fields which promise wealth for the farmer and bread for the wage earner; for the beautiful country home with its well kept lawn, lovely flowers, pure bred livestock and air of ease and contentment; for the fresh pure air and moist rich soil in which we can scratch around for a short time and it will then fill our purses with lawful coin of the realm. Soon the feminine members of the household will be digging flower beds, killing the nasty grubs with sticks and garden tools and bragging about the fine flowers they are "going to have." But you can be sure that the real farmers are not doing quite so much dreaming, but a great deal more work these days. Stock must be fed and attended to as usual; fields must be plowed and made ready for the seed which must be tested and cleaned, for modern science has demonstrated that obedience to the age-old command of Moses that "thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed" produces best results. Months will elapse before they can begin to rake in the golden shekels if indeed the crop has not been a failure. So with each pleasant appearing proposition there may be an unpleasant side and when the milliner rudely awakens us from our dreams by sending the bill for the wife's Easter bonnet it will be paid more or less cheerfully, as incidental spring expenses, and then "having food and raiment let us be herewith content."

For a mild easy action of the bowels, try Doan's Regulents, a modern laxative. 25c at all stores.—Adv.

SUMMONS FOR PUBLICATION

No. 4788 In the superior court of the state of Washington, in and for the county of Stevens. F. L. Spangler, plaintiff, vs Jacob Fink and Ada Fink, husband and wife, defendants. The state of Washington; To the above named defendants, Jacob Fink and Ada Fink: You are hereby summoned to appear within sixty days after the date of the first publication of this summons, to wit, within sixty days after the 4th day of April, 1914, and defend the above entitled action in the above entitled court and answer the complaint of the plaintiff, and serve a copy of your answer upon the undersigned attorneys for plaintiff, at their office below stated, and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint which has been filed with the clerk of said court.

The object and purpose of this action is to obtain a judgment against said defendants and costs of them for the sum of five hundred dollars ($500), with interest thereon from the first day of January, 1913, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum and for the costs of this action, and notice is hereby given to the defendants and to all persons whom it may concern that plaintiff has caused a writ of attachment to be issued herein and to be levied upon the following described real estate belonging to said defendants, situated in the county of Stevens, state of Washington: The south half of the southeast quarter, section 30, and north half of the northeast quarter, section 31, township 38, range 39; Lots 1, 2 and 7, section 31, township 38, range 39; Lots 19, 20 and 21, block 24, and Lots 23 and 24, block 26, Northport.

M. E. JESSEPH, O. J. SAVILLE, Attorneys for plaintiff. Postoffice address, 500 Traders National Bank Building, Spokane, Washington.

Pat Moran celebrated the 25th anniversary of his location in the Colville Valley on March 17. On St. Patrick's day 1889 he arrived in Colville, and many were the speculations as to his nationality by the natives, and the halfbreeds who were then numerous on the streets. Some claimed that his appearance was that of a German, while a group standing in Jimmie Durkin's saloon claimed him either an Englishman or an Irishman. It was left to Jimmie to decide, and he said, "Let me hear him speak, and I'll tell you." After a while Pat drifted in with the crowd, and seeing a leaf of green on Jimmie's lapel, asked what it was. It didn't take Durkin more than a week to decide on Pat's nationality after hearing the familiar accent, and he said, "You know very well what it is—here, put it on and wear it." And thus Pat was started out in his true colors. For 25 years he has lived in this valley a life of integrity and industry, not having been out of the state during that time. In the spring of his arrival he took up the homestead where his brother Bryan lives; and he now lives on the place near Arden which Frank Goodman preempted. Pat relates many interesting events of the earlier days, but says that not until last winter did he ever have any quail feed at his place. During the last winter he fed 14 quail, and said that instead of putting in any claim for expense to the game commission, he was pleased to have the birds, not at all begrudging the little food which they picked up on the farm, and the wheat which he daily fed them.

Mill Creek Grange.

Mill Creek Grange assembled in regular session the 28th. Owing to the heavy roads only a few members were present. The master was in the chair and announced the receipt of seven initiative petitions. A candidate was balloted on and elected member to take the first and second degree at the next regular meeting. An application for membership was announced by the secretary. It was decided to make the next meeting one of special importance. Matters of vital interest will be discussed and the secretary was ordered to write all members with instructions to be in attendance on Saturday, April 11th. The lecturer announced that he would have something of special importance to present during the lecturer's hour. Vernon Hunter, member of Bruce Creek Grange, formerly member of Mill Creek Grange was present.—E. A. ANDERSON, Press Agent.

White Lake.

Spring seems to be on the way. If it can overtake snow squalls we may have warm weather. Not many people around White Lake have made garden yet. George Knapp is the first one we have heard of so far. The Mongolian pheasants are busy and noisy this time of year. For shame on any one who is mean enough to shoot or kill the little Bob Whites. We wouldn't be selfish enough to ask for wheat to feed them as long as we have any in our granary. The coyotes are the worst enemy of the quail, we think. Often a few feathers around a pile of brush are mute reminders of a flock destroyed by coyotes. Moral: Increase the bounty on coyotes and preserve the quail, deer and all the game birds. Mrs. Brooks, Sr., who has been staying with Mrs. Knapp a month, returned home Saturday. Mr. Shull's family were visiting with Mr. Lager's Sunday. Mrs. Skiles sold a team of horses while Mr. Skiles was absent in Nebraska. Mrs. Eugene Knapp of Park Rapids has been favored with a visit from a brother, William White of Vancouver, B. C. He returned to Vancouver Saturday after a week's visit with them. Mrs. Shull was spending the day Wednesday with Mrs. Skiles. Mrs. Frank Choens is enjoying a visit from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mager of California. They came last week. Herman Down spent the week-end at George Knapp's, as is expecting his wife and children soon from Michigan. Mrs. Skiles baby was unfortunate enough to swallow a pin Tuesday. They made a hurried trip to Colville and Dr. Clark removed the pin from the child's throat. The baby will soon be as well as ever. Burley Keough has returned to his home after spending the winter hauling poles from Onion creek to the railroad. Eugene Knapp is farming part of his father's ranch this year.

Did She Keep Her Temper?

Mr. Biles is a very hasty tempered man, but he is also one who keeps his promises to the very letter. Therefore Mrs. B. extracted from him a promise always to count twenty before he speaks if he feels rage coming upon him. Last Sunday he rushed into the back drawing room spluttering with fury and red in the face. Mrs. Biles rose and laid a gentle hand on his stammering lips. "M-Mary, I—I—I—" "Hush, dear," said the sweet woman. "Count twenty and conquer yourself, and I shall be more proud of you than if you had conquered the world." "Eighteen, nineteen, twenty"— "Now tell me, dear." "It's that new hat of yours that you paid 6 guineas for, and the new servant's gone out in, and it's raining hard—that's all."—London Express.

Pay in advance and get the Examiner for $1.

DO YOU KNOW HER?

BECAUSE her sex was feminine she bore the title "wife." She thought the Lord had miscreated the purpose of her life. Her limited environment perplexed her more and more. She longed to burst her chrysalis and lift her wings and soar. She wouldn't wash the dishes, and she wouldn't make a bed. Because such coarse and common work would spoil her hands, she said. Although her husband's income and his business, too, were slack, she wouldn't do the weekly wash, because it hurt her back. She didn't care for children. "They are nuisances," said she. "They make an awful lot of work, so none of them for me." The training of an infant mind would surely interfere with her ambitious visions of a notable career. She garbed herself most modestly in all the latest frills. The while her husband sacrificed and slaved to pay her bills. She wondered why on earth she ever wed the stupid dupe. Her only consolation was a session at the club. For there she sensed a larger field brim full of strange delights. A hundred worlds to conquer when the women get their "rights." A second Joan of Arc was she who couldn't bake a cake, But who could marshal armies when her country was at stake. The neighbors from her gossip had a respite of surcease. While from the stump she advocated universal peace. With eloquence her soul was fired. The women folk went wild. To hear one tell of children's wrongs who never had a child. She spoke of loving sacrifices, of work she would perform. Whose husband scarcely ever ate a supper that was warm. She guaranteed to rid the earth of all its present ills. And what became of hubby? Why, he went on paying bills. —Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Appearances Deceive.

A man lay groaning and writhing by the roadside when up dashed a policeman and proceeded to investigate, but all he could get out of the sufferer was: "I ate one, too; I ate one, too," and he was puzzled, but not for long. "Poison!" was his diagnosis, and, mindful of his training, he at once procured an antidote, which simply electrified the recipient. Between convulsions he managed to ask the reason for such treatment, and on his being told and asked what it was he had eaten he became more abusive. "What did I eat?" yelled he. "Why, you idiot, 'I 812' is the number of the car that knocked me down!"—London Exchange.

No Doubt About It.

Chappie (on steamer in midocean)—Going over, old top? Old Top—Yes. Are you?—Portland Oregonian.

Old Saw.

Tramp—You know the sayin', mum, "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." Mrs. Stubbs—Very true. And since you speak of proverbs, I'll refer you to another old saw. Tramp—Which one is that, mum? Mrs. Stubbs—The one back in the woodshed.—Pathfinder.

Great Invention.

"Noddies is the laziest man I know. He has an invention fixed so that by merely pulling a wire in bed he can light the fire; but that doesn't seem to improve matters." "Why not?" "He's too lazy to pull the wire."—Spokesman-Review.

Sure Proof.

"How can a girl be sure that a young man loves her?" "Oh, there are reliable signs. Now, my bean stands for my father's stale stories and even for an occasional touch."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Sure Enough.

"That man you just introduced me to impresses me as one who knows how to keep his mouth shut at the right time." "Yes. He's trying to get used to his new teeth."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

When a Job Looks Good.

"Brown is bragging about the good job he has now." "Yes, he started yesterday. You see, he hasn't been in it long enough to discover the work that goes with it."—Detroit Free Press.

Against High Prices.

"I'm going to sell kisses at the charity bazaar. Do you think $1 a kiss is too high?" "Oh, no. People expect to be robbed at these charity affairs."—Philadelphia Record.

Society Printing at the Examiner

A Loose Leaf System for Every Purpose

Advertisement for Loose Leaf System for Every Purpose, featuring images of binders and text describing the system's benefits.

THE FULL LINE OF I-P LOOSE-LEAF POST AND RING BINDERS CAN BE SECURED FROM THE COLVILLE EXAMINER

Your Loose-Leaf Device and Form Problems Solved

Don't waste money and time on costly, special-made Loose Leaf devices and forms—don't call in a high-priced system expert before consulting us. We undoubtedly have your precise problem accurately solved in our line of 1700 Items For Every Purpose correctly designed by our own system experts to meet almost every conceivable requirement of any business. With these 1700 Loose Leaf items—Ledgers, Invoice Books, Cash Books, Journals, Price Books, Salesmen's Books, Stenography Books, Journals, Memo Books for Business Houses, Doctors, Engineers, Salesmen and almost every imaginable need—we save you the extra expense of made-to-order devices and forms—we make it easy and inexpensive for any firm, regardless of size, to possess a perfect Loose Leaf system.

Ready-Made At Stock Prices Don't worry further—don't consult a high-priced system specialist—don't bother trying to solve your Loose Leaf problems. Tell it to us—we can undoubtedly supply you out of stock, at stock prices with exactly what you require. We also make special devices and forms for any firm which now has a satisfactory system.

See Our Dealer or Write to Us at once. See our devices, forms and catalogs of 1700 I-P items. See how thoroughly it covers your requirements and almost every loose-leaf requirement known—look at some I-P devices and forms—see how accurately, how perfectly, how durably, how scientifically they are constructed—see the saving in price. If your dealer does not carry I-P Loose Leaf items, write us your problem and mention your dealer's name. We will solve it without cost or obligation. You can depend upon us to send every I-P item. We are the largest exclusive loose-leaf manufacturers in the world—$1,200,000 institution—with dealers nearly everywhere. Write us your dealer or write us today. Irving-Pitt Mfg. Company, Kansas City, Mo.

THE FULL LINE OF I-P LOOSE-LEAF POST AND RING BINDERS CAN BE SECURED FROM THE COLVILLE EXAMINER

Advertisement for This Rapid Operating Ledger Reduces Accounting Costs, featuring an image of a ledger and text describing its features and benefits.