Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they do not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Archie Kelley, whose habitat has been on Kelley hill, north of Bossburg for several years, was sentenced by Judge Rudkin of the U. S. District Court at Spokane, to two years penal servitude in the United States penitentiary at McNeil's Island, because he played the game and won from the Indians a team of horses which the government held in trust for the use of its wards on the reservation. Kelley had been before the Stevens county superior court a number of times the past two years to answer criminal charges but his luck in escaping the fangs of the state and federal laws has been almost phenomenal.

H. C. Cranke Leaves Colville

It is indeed a regret for the people of Stevens county to hear that Harry C. Cranke, the auctioneer has moved to Spokane. Mr. Cranke has always been a booster for this county and was well liked for his congenial ways and had many friends both in Colville and throughout Stevens county, who wish him the best of success in his new home. His auction sales have always commanded a high percentage, and that he will continue to make sales in the county gives assurance of a first-class auctioneer.

The following letter was received from Mr. Cranke:

Spokane, Wash. June 7, 1915.
Colville Examiner, Colville, Wash., Gentlemen:

As a result of my success in the auctioneering business I have to move to Spokane, much to my regret, but I always was and always will be one of Stevens county's boosters, but by moving down here I can take care of my auction business in Stevens county just the same, and can handle it in all directions out of Spokane. My address will be 2509 Boone ave., Spokane, and the sales that are left at the Colville Examiner office or with Archer R. Squire at Kettle Falls for me will receive my prompt attention. I must thank my loyal friends who gave me their sales to handle and for the many good friends I have in Stevens county for a huge part of the success I am meeting in the auction work.—Yours truly, Harry C. Cranke.

Baseball Dope

In the game here last Sunday with Hunters the visitors were shamefully walloped by Manager Dexter's aggregation, to the tune of 12 to 2. The battery for the rurals was Graham and Johnson, with DeGreif and Phillips for the home team. Although Graham exhibited some class as a pitcher, he had punk support by his playmates, besides in his efforts to throw out base runners he heaved the ball all over the lot on several occasions. The Hunters came on the diamond full of confidence and displayed a very cheery attitude in the early part of the game, but before one-third of the game was played it was evident that they were meeting their Waterloo. Phillips played the part of a demon at bat by bearing the ball for four consecutive safe bingles in his first four times up. Hard in the outfield as usual pulled down everything in gunshot range in the north half of the big meadow. DeGrief struck out 8, allowing but two hits while Graham struck out 9 but was lambasted 12 times. Some of the fans state that the slight changes in the lineup by Manager Dexter and Captain Sill is a vast improvement.

The Colville team will auto to Ione next Sunday via the Pend Oreille lakes where they will cross bats with the Calispell Braves. As it is planned, the boys will spend three hours trying their luck angling on the lakes before dropping over the summit into Ione.

The two games to be played with Rossland on the Colville diamond on Saturday and Sunday June 19 and 20 is liable to be a bear fight, as Moss, the pride of the W. A. C. will be on the mound in one of the games for the visitors and will be opposed by Charley Rogers of the State university, who is a Colville boy and a local favorite, and who has showed some class as a pitcher over in the big school.

POLITICAL DOPE

By
The Interested Observer

I have been observing some things outside of Stevens county that I might call attention to. I don't believe everybody sees them, or, if he does he calls it a joke and flies on to the next blossom. The Spokesman-Review of Spokane last Wednesday fired up in a hot-flush of an editorial in denunciation of William Jennings Bryan before the country or the editor of the S-R knew why Bryan resigned as secretary of state. It is obvious, if the dictionary is right, that Bryan is not a corporation boosted dignitary. He is opposed to the influences that the subsidized press is governed by, and the subsidized press is always foremost, the great commoner. I have often wondered what this country would have come to if it had been that Bryan had never been born, yet no one will ever bat an optic in response to the splash that the editor of the S-R would make if he should trip the plank. This is not a thought that President Wilson is a whit less the great man that he is, but is simply the wish of the editor of the S-R is father to the hope that the big split will not interfere with the marketing of the next apple crop through the Association, and then some.

Over in Pend Oreille county they have been having some catterwalling about the way legal affairs of the municipal principality shall be conducted. The democratic county attorney is confronted with the defense of a suit for damages because some fellow thinks the county ought to pay him $20,000 for being personally injured on the county road. The county attorney, who is a democrat, and the commissioners, who are republicans in a large part, are agreed that a little extra help ought to be furnished to the prosecuting attorney in defense of the case; but the county attorney wants to engage his own choice of lawyers and the county commissioners want the attorneys for the Washington Water Power Co., in Spokane, and it seems that they would almost rather let the case go to judgment rather than shunt their preferences. The county attorney has another

I have heard a little quiet talk in some quarters about why the purity league have stopped the campaign in sale of Vivos in the pool halls; but since there are two sides to the question and both sides have got together down another alley, it would stir up too much of the low morals of the upper crust to go to printing what was said.

The resignation of William Jennings Bryan as secretary of state at this time is causing the republican press no little uneasiness in the process of settling back into a sane understanding of the situation out of which came the breach between the president and his premier.

Mr. Bryan, it is well known to the American people, has, by his services to his country, as a wise adviser and leader of men, made a place for himself in history, no less conspicuous in point of merit and glorious achievement, than that of Clay, Webster or Calhoun. In fact, men of peace are more marked, in the estimation of their countrymen in the United States, than have been the men of war, and in this Mr. Bryan has taken his place with Jefferson among the idols of history. He has been a strong supporter of Wilson during his trying administration, and it is a source of serene satisfaction to know that Bryan, as a citizen, will be with Wilson, the president, when unqualified loyalty to the country is to be counted upon. His example of fealty to the cause of his country expressed in his letter of resignation is without parallel in the archives of the official history of the nation. It was not a quarrel, but a dignified dissolution of the ties that bind under the strain of duty between two great men, but not a severance of the friendships that have wrought an enduring high regard for each other.

The reason given by a number of Colville fans for their non-attendance at the ball games this season is that the team is not playing the class of ball that they would like to see. To these fans who have not witnessed a ball game this season, it may be said that out of the 12 games played this season two have been errorless and one a shut out, a record that but few league teams can boast of. Notwithstanding the light attendance, and the fact that baseball thus far has received no private or public support, the team under the management of Harold Dexter has been substantially self-supporting, and has given a benefit game for the public library.
