NEWS ITEMS OF KETTLE FALLS

At one o'clock Sunday morning fire destroyed the new building occupied by D. R. Jones as a tinsorial parlor and residence. The cause is unknown. The family had been away some hours. The loss is estimated at $1,500. Insurance on the building had been cancelled but a few hours before the fire. The J. H. Stagle drug store, 25 feet south of the burned building was badly damaged, the stock being badly soaked with water. The postoffice building, 30 feet north was badly damaged. Postmaster Bevan was on hand and succeeded in moving the postoffice fixtures and furnishings and contents safely across the street into the building formerly occupied by T. L. Savage, without anything being seriously damaged. Everything was in shape, the mail distributed and ready for the stage on time Sunday morning. The postmaster had his usual smiling countenance to greet each and all of his patrons. The buildings were all insured, but the origin of the fire is a mystery. The air being calm that evening probably saved the business portion of the town. The work of the fire department was efficient. The fire was first discovered by Mrs. W. G. Welch, who called her husband, and he immediately went to work to fight the fire, while his wife aroused every one that she could to come out to fight. Too much credit cannot be given to this estimable couple for their work on the night of the fire, for if it had not been for them doubtless more damage would have been done.

C. J. Rhode, Stevens county game warden, states that since July 1, 1914, he and his deputies have arrested forty-seven persons for violating the game and fish laws of the state. Of this number forty-six either pleaded guilty or were found guilty upon trial and were fined. The warden and his deputies have occasion to be proud of their record.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Logan and little daughter Jean, who have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Doyle, left today for their home in Spokane, after several weeks' visit.

The Misses Bessie Root and Faye Ferguson and Master Clyde Ferguson left Wednesday for Spokane, where they will visit relatives several days.

Mrs. A. E. Baldwin has been a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sengfelder in Sherman precinct the past week.

H. H. Cole returned from Springdale Tuesday evening, where he has been for two weeks in charge of the Farmers and Merchants bank during the absence of its cashier, Charles O. Snapp.

Mrs. N. R. Brown and daughter Hazel returned to their home in Choteau, Montana, Tuesday morning, after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. H. H. Cole. Mrs. Cole accompanied them as far as Springdale and returned home with Mr. Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kelley of Maupin, Oregon, visited several days last week with Mrs. Kelley's brother, Bert E. Crofoot, of the west side of the Columbia. They autoed up from Oregon in their car and will go from here to the Yellowstone National Park, returning by a more southerly route to southern Oregon, then up to Willamette to Portland and then over the new Columbia highway to The Dalles and home.

Mrs. Bailey passed through town on Friday on her way to Pleasant Valley to visit her old friend and schoolmate, Mrs. F. P. Waters.

The Free Methodist tent meetings continue to increase in interest. They are well attended and every one is pleased with the sermons.

Mrs. R. P. Lesh entertained the Willing workers Society of the Baptist church at an elaborate six course dinner last Tuesday.

Miss Marguerite Gump of Spokane is visiting friends in the city.

School will commence on September 6th. Although it is Labor Day and a legal holiday scholars will be registered on that day, although no school work will be done.

Commercial printing orders taken at the Scimitar office at Spokane prices. The work and stationery, as a rule, is superior. Why not help your own community by patronizing home industry?

Butter wrappers can be procured at the Scimitar office in Kettle Falls. Orders taken for printing of all kinds. When in need of anything in the paper or printing line, call and see Miss Foley and she will quote you prices for good work at reasonable prices.

Keep posted by subscribing for the Kettle Falls Scimitar.

Why do you fail to advertise in the Scimitar? Nearly everybody in the valley reads it and that is where Kettle Falls gets her trade from.

For Sale—Thoroughbred Jersey bull calf.—J. E. Richardson, Kettle Falls.
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Logan and Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Jacobs motored to Daisy Thursday.

Glen Ayars of Rice returned home from Wenatchee on Friday.

Miss Martha A. Boardman in a few days will retire from the office of county superintendent of schools and the prevailing opinion in this vicinity is that we are losing the services of a thoroughly qualified and competent official. During her two years' term she has conducted the business affairs of the office with energy, cleverness and ability. In dealing with the public she has been one of the most affable, courteous and obliging persons that ever graced the position. In other work she has been equally successful, such as president of the Stevens County Audubon Society, where her untiring efforts have been freely given and much appreciated. We join her many friends in wishing her great success in her school work in Tacoma for which she is admirably adapted.

Letters have been received from the Zapels who went to Los Angeles several weeks ago, that they are doing well and like the change. Mr. Zapel is employed by a crushed rock, sand and gravel company and is getting $25 a week and his expenses. Raymond and Elmer are working in a canning factory getting 22 1/2 cents per hour. They have joined a baseball club. Mrs. Zapel and the boys are singing in one of the first class choirs in that city.

M. M. Morris left Wednesday for Oroville, where he will remain indefinitely.

Mrs. Onie Bryant-Bemis and little son of Spokane are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Munro at the Hotel Munro.

Mrs. Robert Anderson of Rosland, B. C., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. McKellar.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Zirtzmann were hosts at a large dinner party last week Wednesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Logan of Spokane, who are in the city as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Doyle.

Messrs. and Mesdames John and A. Hardenbrook of Maxwell, Iowa, were in town on Friday.

John A. Reichelt of Chicago, who is on his way home from the San Francisco fair, ran down from Spokane on Monday and was the guest of his old friend of forty years standing, Dr. A. E. Baldwin, for a few days. He represents Selz-Schwab & Company, which claims to be the largest boot and shoe house in America. He has been with them fifty years and thirty-nine years their head salesman. He enjoys the reputation of having sold the largest quantity of boots and shoes to the retail trade of any man in America. The company has ten factories and a rubber mill in which they have 9,000 employees. They have 200 salesmen and in their store at their headquarters in Chicago they have 300 men and boys employed. He is German by birth but is a genuine American citizen. He divides his countrymen into three classes, (1) the long haired, dark complexioned, the educated class, (2) the short, stout, round headed, the Bismarck type, the commercial class, (3) the red heads.

August 14th, Clarence Cranston and Miss Bessie Alldredge, a popular young couple down the valley, were married on Wednesday at the Pleasant Valley Baptist church, Rev. C. S. Treadwell, officiating. The officiating clergyman, Mr. and Mrs. Cranston will make their home with the parents of Mrs. Cranston near Rice.

R. L. Byrd of Spokane and brother of St. Louis, Missouri, passed through town this week on their way to their ranch eight miles down the river.

B. C. Camp was a business visitor in Republic last week.

Why the Blues?
Every one loves the blue sky with its brightness, warmth and softness. Hundreds have written of it in glowing terms of praise, while the inarticulate millions have felt what they expressed. Who does not love a pair of blue eyes—laughing blue eyes, true blue eyes, tender blue eyes, Irish blue eyes? The men who follow the sea love her every mood and hue, and yet 'tis her sparkling sapphire cloak they would have her don on the happiest occasions. "It is impossible in our condition of society not to be sometimes a snob," wrote Thackeray—not to have a heart that would relish pumping a little blue blood along with the red. But when our thoughts are dull, depressed and drear, like an unkind wintry gray sky, we are in the blues. Why this paradoxical defamation of the color which is associated with so many of the fair and pleasing things of life? If we must vilify a color there are yellow, canaries and jaundice. There are red devils and danger. Why the Blues?—Boston Globa.

Smokeless Powder.
Ordinary powder produces smoke when fired because of the quantity of fine particles formed from the breaking up of the saltpeter and from some of the charcoal which is not completely burned. To get rid of smoke, so long a handicap in the use of guns, it was necessary to produce a substance that would explode without leaving any solid residue. This was accomplished by the use of gun cotton or nitrocellulose, from which the most satisfactory smokeless powder is made. The substance is a chemical compound, not a mixture like gunpowder, and is made by treating cotton with a mixture of nitric and sulphuric acids. When exploded it is all converted into gases. Burning is not necessary to cause an explosion, a mere shock or jar being sufficient. It is too violent an explosive to use in small arms or in cannon, but gun cotton can be made into less forceful forms, suitable for use in guns, and most brands of smokeless powder are made in this way.—Boston Herald.

Japanese Hotel Bedrooms.
In "Queer Things About Japan" Douglas Sladen gives a picture of the Japanese hotel bedroom, which still leaves much to be desired in comfort and privacy: "Before dinner is over you begin to long for your bed. You ask to be taken to your bedroom, but your bedroom is taken to you. Its walls and the bed are brought in. The walls are paper shutters which make a slice of the sitting room your own; the bed is a quilt. 'Take up your bed and walk' is an everyday occurrence in the east, where a bed is a spread. The only way a European can get any comfort out of a Japanese bed is to sleep on about half a dozen at once, one on top of the other. If you want to wash you must do it outside. The Japanese will not allow a basin of water on their precious mats."

Pepys' View of Bath.
Pepys' view of baths—probably representative of his generation—may be gathered from a contemptuous reference to his wife's whimsical notion, after spring cleaning, of going to a hot bath in town to "cleanse herself." However, he reflected consolingly, the new passion for cleanliness was not likely to last. The idea of Pepys' French contemporaries on the same subject is illustrated in a little book on Christian conduct, by Jean Baptiste de la Salle. "For the sake of cleanliness," says the author, "it is well to rub the face every morning with a white towel, in order to remove the dirt. It is not advisable to wash with water, for this exposes the face to the chills of winter and the heats of summer."

His Birthmark.
An Irishman who had just traveled from Dublin to Glasgow to seek employment was informed that he had a poor chance of getting a job because he was displaying marks consistent with pugilism.
"You mean that I've a black eye, sir, eh?"
"Exactly."
"Shure, that's only a birthmark which I have. You see, sir, I was coming from Dublin on the boat, and by a mistake I went into the wrong berth, and the fellow who was there gave me this."—London Answers.

Coteridge Revised.
The ancient mariner had just uttered that immortal line about "Water, water everywhere."
"That's all very well," came echoing back over the angry seas, "but the thirst is yet to come."
Whereupon the ancient mariner rimed "verse" with "curse" and did other horrible poetical things.—Philadelphia Ledger.

How He Won.
First Business Man—To what do you attribute your success? Second Business Man—To the fact that I was always first at the office. For seventeen years I caught the 6:15 into town. First Business Man—Ah, I see! All due to your early training.—Columbia Vester.

Neuralgia Pains Stopped.
You don't need to suffer those agonizing nerve pains in the face, head, arm, shoulders, chest and back. Just apply a few drops of soothing Sloan's Liniment; lie quietly a few minutes. You will get such relief and comfort! Life and the world will look brighter. Get a bottle today. Three ounces for 25c, at all drug stores. Penetrates without rubbing.—Adv.

The registration books are now open. Those residing within the corporate limits can register at the office of Miss Foley. C. J. Webb is registration clerk for the rural district.

Two Common Summer Ailments.
Thousands of hay fever and asthma victims who are not able to go to the mountains find relief in Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It allays the inflammation, soothes and heals raw and rasping bronchial tubes and helps to overcome difficulty in breathing, and makes sound, refreshing sleep possible. Carroll's Pharmacy.—Adv.
