NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

In Department of the Interior, United States land office at Spokane, Washington, September 12, 1917. Notice is hereby given that Gale Meddock, of Colville, Washington, who on June 18, 1913, made homestead entry No. 68287 for the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 8, township 25 north, range 41, E. W. M. has filed notice of intention to make final three year proof to establish claim to the land above described before Katharine S. Ide, United States Commissioner for Eastern District of Washington, at Colville, Washington, on the 27th day of October, 1917.

Claimant names as witnesses: Clarion J. Meddock, A. Bush, Henry Platt, James Boyd, all of Colville, Washington. JOHN L. WILEY, Register.

From the office of the postmaster general is issued the statement that mail intended for members of the American expeditionary forces in France must show in the address the official designation of the unit or organization to which the address belongs. Otherwise mail will be returned to sender. Correspondents of an enlisted man, no matter where he is located, should make a memorandum of the company and regiment to which he belongs and advise the postmaster in addressing matter. The name and address of the sender should also appear on every envelope and wrapper.

SAFE REMEDY FOR CHILDREN Chas. Baker, Brownsville, Texas, writes: "For years I have used Foley's Honey and Tar and found it especially efficient for bad coughs of my children. I recommend it to my friends as a safe remedy for children as it contains no opiates. It is certain to bring quick and lasting relief." Stops cough. Carroll's Drug Store.—Adv.

Geo. W. Peddyoord of the Bank of Colville returned Monday evening from Seattle where he attended the Washington Bankers' Association meeting. At the meeting it was decided to hold another banker-farmers convention at Pullman on Nov. 9-10. Mr. Peddyoord is chairman of the agricultural committee of the association.

Mrs. W. J. Hartwell and infant daughter returned home Friday.

A Bazaar Club was organized Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. S. Bell, under the direction of the Epworth League of the M. E. church for the purpose of preparing for a bazaar to be given some time in December. About twenty ladies were present, all enjoying a very pleasant evening, doing fancy work and visiting until 9:30 o'clock when light refreshments were served by Mrs. Bell. Meetings will be held at the homes of the different ladies for work every Tuesday evening until time for the bazaar to be given.

Rev. J. S. Bell, for the past year pastor of the First M. E. church of Colville, returned Tuesday from the annual church conference at North Yakima which closed a week's session last Monday noon. Mr. Bell was returned to Colville for another year which will be very welcome news to his congregation which has prospered in church work under his supervision. Among other changes noted in the work of this conference was the discontinuance of Coeur d'Alene district which was merged into the Wenatchee district. Rev. B. E. Koontz, of the past district superintendent of the Coeur d'Alene district was automatically retired and took an assignment to the pastorate of Coeur d'Alene city, Idaho. Rev. Robert Bromblay of Spokane is district superintendent of the Wenatchee district.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Price is at the Colville sanitarium suffering with pneumonia.

Mrs. J. B. Lamb of Crescent, Wash., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harrigan.

Wanted by cord or day. See W. P. Bartlett at Hotel Lee.

E. H. Webster and R. J. Townsend of the Stevens County Land Company of Colville have dissolved partnership by mutual consent.

Mrs. H. E. Miller gave an afternoon party to a number of her friends Monday afternoon. It partook the nature of a farewell gathering in honor of Mrs. J. E. Peterson before returning to her home in sunny California. Mrs. Peterson was the happy recipient of a hand painted cake plate presented by the hostess, as a memento of the many pleasant hours spent together in dear old Colville. A few select readings were enjoyed. An elaborate repast was served. The decorations were most attractive and everybody reports a very enjoyable time. Those present were: Mrs. E. Broedel, Mrs. William Becher, Mrs. C. Cummins, Mrs. G. Dorman, Mrs. W. D. Estey, Mrs. H. D. Miller, Mrs. E. M. McCauley, Mrs. J. E. Peterson, Mrs. F. G. VanBuren, Mrs. J. Vandorn and Mrs. H. E. Miller.

The mail carriers of Colville are of the most patriotic and accommodating men in the service is illustrated by the fact that they many times go out of their way in delivering mail outside of hours to patrons who are ill and other persons who are left alone and appreciate a letter from an absent son, daughter or brother.

The following letters remain unclaimed for at this office: A. Ariles, Mrs. Edw. Ketchner, Miss Gertrude Koch, Mrs. E. S. Taylor, C. M. Durland, postmaster.

Joe Turner of Meyers Falls, president of the Stevens County Livestock Association was a Colville visitor Friday. Mr. Turner reports that there will be many new exhibitors of livestock at the coming show next month, among them will be L. O. Dart of Republic who has consented to exhibit a carload of cattle and horses.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Mercer of Kenova, W. Va., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Mercer's sister, Mrs. A. T. Horton.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels, try Doan's Regulets, a modern laxative. 26c at all stores.—Adv.

Federal Judge Rudkin of Spokane and his brother John and W. Lon Johnson left this morning for their annual hunting trip on the South Half. These gentlemen make this trip an annual event, and always return with the limit.

Mrs. George J. Heimbach, who has been on a visit to the old home in Kitchener (formerly Berlin) Ontario, for the past six weeks has returned home. While away Mrs. Heimbach visited the trade centers of New York, Chicago, and other eastern cities buying goods for the Emporium winter trade.

Mrs. J. A. Newcomb and Miss Odeila Douglass, who have undergone major operations at the Colville General hospital, left for their homes Thursday.

The 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Demorest of Orin underwent an operation at the Colville General hospital Monday, and is doing fine.

E. C. Richardson, after a six weeks' visit with friends in Colville, left this morning for Olympia where he will visit his father before leaving for his position in Washington, D. C.

E. H. Webster, formerly of the Stevens County Land Company, has effected a trade whereby Hugh Waddell becomes the owner of the Palace theater in Colville and Ivan Faugstved becomes the owner of eighty acres of land near Phalanx lake in Stevens county. The deal was consummated Tuesday.

The interior of the Wingham meat market in Colville is being repainted and all reminders of the recent fire are being obliterated. Garland Dorman and Mont Dorman are doing the work.

Mrs. Lucile Rich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rich of Colville, possesses a rare and marvelous musical gift. In professional music life it is said this gift has been noticed among musical pupils in the proportion of only about one in a hundred thousand. She can discriminate between the various kinds of pitch and instantaneously analyzes chord combinations. Nature has attuned her ears to absolute pitch and she can instantly render any tone within her vocal range. Two of the most marvelous contemporaneous instances are the child pianists, Alice McClung and Marie Edwards. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rich are musicians. While only a child of 12 years, Lucile Rich gives promise of talent that will bring musical renown to the Colville valley.

Wednesday evening, September 12, the new teachers of the Colville public schools were entertained by the old at a picnic at Douglas falls. The trip was made in cars and after a bountiful picnic supper, a general frolic was enjoyed which would put a high school bunch to shame. Two rival moving picture companies were formed and some amazing histrionic talent displayed, one company performing the grand opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor," and the other "The Million Dollar Mystery." Some of the audience fainted from excitement during the kidnapping scene in the latter, but "Mary Pickford," the second, reappearing unharmed, no damage was done permanently. Mr. Woolard caught a fish which he is going to take to the army as a souvenir, but otherwise Mill creek was left undisturbed, except by the three unhappy schoolma'ams who couldn't walk the boards across the creek.

At the Catholic card party in Colville Wednesday night of this week Miss Marion Grant won the lady's first prize.

For some time past certain parties have been trespassing in and around the primary school building, breaking locks, stealing light globes, defacing blackboards and doing other damage. Patience has ceased to be a virtue in this matter and warning is hereby given to the guilty parties to cease such depredations or suffer the consequences. (Signed) Board of Directors, district number two.

The Hunting Season

COLVILLE, Special from County Game Warden C. J. Rhode.) You may say to the sportsmen readers of your paper that the waterfowl season opens September 16, 1917, in eastern Washington.

Official sunrise for Stevens county, September 16, will be 5:28 and official sunset will be 6:01 o'clock. To obtain the time for each day add two minutes to sunrise each and deduct two minutes from sunset each day. The state game law makes it a misdemeanor to shoot waterfowl before sunrise or after sunset.

AUCTION NOTICE Any one wishing the services of Auctioneer M. A. Daggy will do well to secure date early. Two sales are now scheduled for the 15th. Mr. Daggy will handle the auction at U.S. and secure a competent man for the Napoleon sale.

The Colville Red Cross

The Red Cross chapter of Colville has entered into the fall term of work with great zeal and the outlook for a year of great accomplishment in the work is excellent.

On Thursday of this week the ladies of the chapter worked during the afternoon on the comfort kits which are to be presented to each soldier of Colville and surrounding country as they leave for American Lake during the week to come. Over fifty comfort kits must be completed by next Wednesday leaving only the next regular Red Cross day to work on them before the demand begins. We must have at least fifty workers out to Tuesday's meeting in order to get the kits done in time. This means that not just the few who have seen the need and responded so nobly in the past few months but every Red Cross lady in Colville should come out Tuesday evening in order to get the kits ready for our boys by Wednesday. If you have not yet responded, let us know by your initiation into the work. We need you all.

Mrs. W. Vilweck was appointed chairman of the Colville Red Cross society at a business meeting on Tuesday, Mrs. W. J. Jones having resigned the week before. Mrs. C. T. Winslow and Mrs. F. Leo Grinstead were appointed as committee to do the buying for the Red Cross society of Colville. This work is especially important as much depends on the judgment of the ones buying materials for the hundreds of soldiers made each month by the Colville society.

Mrs. M. R. Strong, chairman of the sewing committee, is proving herself the model of efficiency in this work, as she is always present and has every detail of the work thoroughly mastered and can give explicit, brief instructions that result in few mistakes in the finished garments made by the society. Mrs. C. M. Durland has completed more garments for the soldiers than any other Red Cross worker in Colville. Thursday she returned a large quantity of completed garments that she had made the past few weeks in her home. During the summer months she has completed for the soldiers fifty bed shirts, fourteen pajama suits, and two bath robes. If each Colville lady would even do a tenth of this much in a year's time our work would show marvelous results.

The government is now sending out appeal to the ladies of the United States to bend every effort towards completing a million and a half knitted scarfs and nighties for our boys in France before the cold weather causes intense suffering. Our share in this million and a half pieces is now one as one can see that work is now being taken up by many Colville ladies who had let their knitting needles rest for others. A fund is being raised in the chapter for materials for these scarfs which are simple in construction and Miss Kate Boudet of Chicago, who is sending the winter at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hugh Waddell, has agreed to instruct any class of ladies or girls in this work as she has already done much of it for the soldiers. If you want to join the knitting class notify Mrs. M. R. Strong and the work will first be started in the Red Cross rooms on the regular Red Cross days. After the organizations of knitters has been well started a knitting circle to meet in the homes may be perfected so that the best results may be obtained quickly.

The ladies of Orin, Washington, have done splendid work in their society tract at auxiliary to the Colville society. Mrs. C. R. McMillan and Mrs. Frank Habeln have directed this work with splendid results as dozens of garments have been beautifully made by the Orin ladies.

A chain party for the Red Cross benefit was started by Mrs. George Thomas on Wednesday at her home when she entertained twelve ladies. Each lady paid a quarter, which money will go toward buying yarn for the soldiers scarfs which the Colville ladies will begin to make soon. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in conversation. The Thomas home was very pleasing in its decorations of yellow Golden Glow. Those invited were: Mrs. Hugh Waddell, Miss Kate Boudet, Mrs. M. R. Strong, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Apend, Mrs. George W. Seal, Mrs. Bert Nicol, Mrs. E. S. Wells, Mrs. George Stinger, Mrs. A. B. Sansburn, Mrs. L. E. Jessepoh, Mrs. George W. Peddyoord, Mrs. E. H. Kretschmer, Mrs. Frank B. Goetter. Each lady invited will now entertain four ladies at cards or knitting thus keeping the chain of parties rolling and creating a constant fund for the purchasing of yarn.

In an effort to cooperate with the government's program of food conservation the University Club of Spokane will not serve supper at any of the dances which the club will give next winter.

FINAL SELECTIVE DRAFT.

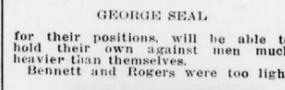

This week the final call will go forth for the mobilization of the selective draft army of the United States, and within four weeks more than 50,000 fighting men will be gathered from the states of the Pacific slope at the American lake training camp. These states will contribute ten per cent of the army now drafted to the colors from all the states of the Union.

The half million men for the first army contingent have been selected by 4,557 local boards of the country from practically one fourth of the persons registered for military service. This would indicate that from the 10,000,000 men who are enrolled under the draft system, an army of about 2,000,000 can be assembled.

Since the machinery of the draft boards has been in operation during the last two months more than ten per cent of the present call has been filled by enlistment. Many of the voluntary recruits have come from men, either

Football Practice Commences

Football practice has been resumed in the Colville high school. Professor Fulton Gale, former star Whittman athlete, in charge. Professor Gale has few veterans with which to form a nucleus for this year's team. Captain Winslow at quarter and Durland and Seal at guards' positions being the only letter men to return. Bennett, Rogers and Sherwood, seniors on last year's team, are back again. Captain Winslow was the most consistent ground gainer on last year's team, being dependable for yardage of tackle at almost any time. He was the only man, with the exception of Wernli, to make yardage against Lewis and Clark last year. Durland and Seal, while very light for their positions, will be able to hold their own against men much heavier than themselves. Bennett and Rogers were too light to see much service last year, but will undoubtedly make good this season.

below or above the draft age; but these have not compensated for the exemptions that have resulted from claims of aliens, married men and those found physically unfit for army duty.

Incentive for voluntary enlistment has been largely due to the fact that men who go to the army desire to select the branch of the service for which they are best adapted. This is especially true of those skilled in trades and professions; for a man may not choose his vocation in the army after being called by the draft. To clear up this question the war department at Washington has promulgated the following interpretation of the general rule touching the status of drafted men: (a) Men are not drafted for any special branch of the service or for any special work. All must report to a mobilization camp with the contingent of their local board. When they arrive at camp a careful inquiry will be made into their special qualifications and, in so far as is compatible with the public interest, each man will be assigned to the duty or to that branch of the military service where he can render the greatest benefit.

(b) The selective-service law does not authorize a draft for the Navy. Therefore selected men may not be transferred from the army to the navy. (c) From the day of the drawing every registrant knew the approximate order of his liability for military service. Even though he had a claim for exemption or discharge pending, prudence should have dictated a shaping of his affairs with the purpose of closing them up quickly. The interests of the nation will not permit any delay in the furnishing of the several increments of the quota from each local board.

Tentatively, however, the dates on which the increments are to go from home are: Five per cent of the net quota September 5, 40 per cent September 19, 10 per cent October 3, 15 per cent as soon after October 3 as practicable. As long as local boards insure that no man is sent to military duty whose order of liability is so late that he will not be within the quota, such boards are not absolutely controlled by the order of liability in sending men to military duty. While, ordinarily, men should be sent to the colors in the exact order of their liability to be called for physical examination, there is room for the adjustment of very great hardship, and local boards have authority, in cases of such hardship, to defer the call of an individual until a later increment if, by so doing, they will not impose great hardship on others and if the applicant for this favor is himself without fault or negligence.

Local boards must furnish the precise number of men called for by the adjutant general of the state on the day named by such adjutant general and they have no authority whatever to defer the call of an individual if such deferment will reduce or delay the increment to be so furnished.

(d) Some men who have been rejected as physically unfit by military authorities on examination for commissions, officers' training camps, and otherwise have been accepted by local boards as physically qualified for military service. The selected man usually feels that his case has been prejudiced by this result. It is to be remembered that no man's physical condition remains constant from month to month or even from day to day. Local boards can not be controlled by the result of prior physical examinations, and no exception in the operation of the selective-service law can be made in such circumstances. It is to be remembered, however, that a man may be commissioned or assigned to a training camp from his status as a drafted man, and also that before he is finally accepted for duty in the national army he will again be examined by the military authorities.

When and whether there will be a second call is within the discretion of the president. There is no date set for a second call and, so far as is known, no second call is in present contemplation.

The Stevens county local board has issued the pink cards for the mobilization to begin September 18. This means that 15 men will be called each day to be forwarded to the American Lake training camp until 74 men have been sent. The next call will be for another 40 per cent to be sent in the same manner to begin October 3, and the balance of 15 per cent will remain in abeyance subject to the call of the adjutant general of the state.

The Stevens county exemption board has received orders from Adjutant General Maurice Thompson, in Seattle, to proceed to mobilize 74 men to be entered September 22. This means that the men will be called in to report at Colville not later than September 21. The notice to be issued today will mark the date definitely.

The W. O. W. will give a benefit dance Friday evening, Oct. 5, at the I. O. O. F. hall for the boys at the front. Tickets $1, good music. Do your bit.
