

Think More, Spend Less

Why is it that the average man is worth so much less in money and property than we have a right to expect him to be? It isn't because he doesn't make the money, for the average man is industrious and has earned from $10,000 to $30,000 in the past ten years. It is because he doesn't give much serious thought either to his income or his outgo. Serious thought would teach him the true value of a dollar; then he would spend carefully and save steadily. That system soon places any man ahead of his fellows.

A bank account helps you to realize the value of money, makes it easier to handle your financial affairs, and to have a growing balance after paying expenses. We invite your account and will help you save.

A CORNET DUET.
The marriage of Ed Wetmore of Colville and Miss Nellie Mae Hoone of Boston was solemnized at the Davenport, Spokane, Sept. 15, the Rev. Leonard Garver of the Colville Congregational church performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Wetmore arrived in Colville Friday night, and have rented part of the Walston home on east Astor, where they are at home.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hoone of Boston, where she received her education, being a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music. Since childhood she played the cornet, and is today the leading lady soloist on the cornet. She was a pupil of Herbert Clarke, soloist for Sousa's band, and made her debut in the concert circles of Boston. She has recently made records for the Columbia phonograph, which will be announced in the December list. Mrs. Wetmore is the only lady wind-instrument player who has made solo records for any standard phonograph company.

Mr. Wetmore is the son of Mrs. Enamine Wetmore of Portland, and received his education at the Oregon Agricultural College. His musical education was in Portland. He was band director at the Oregon Agricultural College, and has been concert, orchestra and band director in Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles, at the latter place having a 75-piece saxophone band. He has also been salesman and dealer in Oregon, California and Arizona, handling pianos and musical instruments for Los Angeles and Portland houses. For the last year he has been in charge of the Colville Music Store and director of the Colville band. He is also an accomplished cornet soloist.

Mr. and Mrs. Wetmore met at Los Angeles. She was cornet soloist at the Orpheum, and he was directing the saxophone band. She later spent a season at Los Angeles, appearing at Temple Auditorium Baptist Church, and at Coronada beach. Their acquaintance has resulted in her present residence in Colville, where she is heartily welcomed.

KNIGHTS TAKE ACTION.
The Colville lodge of Knights of Pythias, which was the first local organization to take patriotic action at the beginning of the war, and which took the lead in subscribing for the liberty bond issue, has now passed a resolution to remit the lodge dues of all members serving Uncle Sam, and has levied an assessment of $1 per member for the Pythian half-million dollar benefit fund which is being raised by the supreme council.

It is the plan of the supreme council of Knights of Pythias to establish information bureaus for the benefit of the thousands of members who are enlisted in the war and not only to give direct aid to soldier and sailor members and their needy families but to assist the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. organizations in their work. The Colville lodge is one of the first to respond to this call.

At the regular meeting Monday night the Colville lodge also put into effect a new committee plan and a number of the departments of lodge work will be placed in the sole charge of one member, he being held responsible therefor. Committeemen will be expected to wear the badge designating his particular committee, and tenure of office will depend solely on results attained by him. The following committees have been named, each in charge of one man: Music, reception, ritual and procedure, supper, lodge entertainment, public reception, relief, membership, instruction. Three members will constitute the finance committee, and three members the committee on jurisdiction.
