Today's Housewife

Is enthusiastically endorsed by over 1,000,000 progressive housewives because they have made this important discovery:

Today's Housewife Decreases the Cost and Increases the Joys of Living

TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE is the new title of TODAY'S MAGAZINE with which has been consolidated THE HOUSEWIFE. This attractively illustrated housekeeper's magazine is bigger, brighter and better than either was alone. Every issue will afford your entire family many hours of pleasure and in addition the inspiration and encouragement that always makes both present and future brighter.

Any woman who fails to get at least $5.00 value from a year's subscription to TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE is letting pure gold slip thru her fingers. One woman aptly remarked that if she spent all her money as wisely as that invested in subscribing for TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE, she would soon own a bank.

Every coming number of TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE you miss is an opportunity lost for the pleasure, profit and welfare of you and your family. The scores of tested recipes and household pointers in each issue are alone well worth the regular price of 10c per copy.

Our Big Combination Bargain Offer with Today's Housewife

By special arrangement with the publishers of TODAY'S HOUSEWIFE we are able to offer this big, handsomely illustrated monthly magazine one year together with our paper one year

WASHINGTON STATE NEWS OF INTEREST

Important Occurrences of Past Week Briefly Compiled for Our Readers.

Gray's Harbor is believed to have over 1700 men in the army and navy now.

Tacoma's first steel ship will be launched at the Todd shipyards on March 26.

Two more Tacoma school principals have resigned to go to work in Tacoma shipyards.

Samuel Benn, founder of Aberdeen, will reach the 86th anniversary of his birth next May.

By a vote of 338 to 123 O. T. Clark, mayor of Camas, was recalled at a special election.

William Voight, Jr., confessed at Kalama to the murder of Earl Potruft on November 28, 1917.

The Grays Harbor Electrical union netted $250 for a soldier smoke fund by a dance given at Aberdeen.

The state supreme court has affirmed the decision of Judge William T. Darch, of the Cowlitz superior court, declaring the new state diking code constitutional.

The capacity of the Libby, McNeill & Libby cannery at Yakima will be doubled this season and the company will expend $150,000 for machinery and additional equipment.

At an early date as is practicable work will begin on the automobile park which Chehalis people expect to install for the purpose of affording free camping sites for tourists at Chehalis.

Twenty-nine vessels cleared from Grays Harbor in February, carrying 22,229,000 feet of lumber. The number of clearances was six under January and 6,500,000 feet less of lumber were shipped.

To meet the shortage of housing conditions in Yakima for the coming season, Libby, McNeill & Libby propose to erect 20 modern bungalows for the use of their returns during the operating season.

Complete returns from Seattle's municipal election show that Ole Hanson was elected mayor by a majority of 4629 votes over his opponent, James E. Bradford. Hanson received 32,307 and Bradford 26,678.

That the Tacoma park board is running the Point Defiance park as a money-making scheme, and that service is not the end in view, is an assertion made in the report of the state bureau of accountancy.

Private Victor Buriva, company F, 316th engineers, has been sentenced at Camp Lewis to 21 years in a military prison for refusing to obey an order given by Captain Fieldon W. Waggoner, and for attacking the captain with a pick.

After eight weeks of active work in the sale of war savings and thrift stamps, the reports show that the pupils of the Raymond public schools have purchased 1019 thrift stamps and 254 war savings stamps. This involves an investment of over $1524.

Edwin T. Marchetti, field agent at Spokane of the bureau of crop estimates, department of agriculture, issued the following estimates of grain stocks on farms in Washington on March 1, 1918: Corn, 182,000 bu.; wheat, 3,506,000 bu.; oats, 2,810,000 bu.; barley, 937,000 bu.

Men who have fought under the stars and stripes before and who are again enrolled in the fighting forces of their country in a war, met at the Knights of Columbus building No. 1 at Camp Lewis and completed organization for the Wild West Post, No. 91, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Another shipbuilding plant was added to Seattle's long list of active ship construction concerns on Monday, when the Frank V. Allen Shipbuilding company laid the keel of the first ship to be undertaken by that concern for the United States shipping board. The plant is located at Ballard.

Mrs. Ellen P. Dabney, for eight years head of the home economics department of the Seattle public schools, has been called by Herbert Hoover, national food administrator, to accept a position in the national food conservation department and will be expected to tour the country lecturing on food conservation.

The American-Canadian joint fisheries conference will meet at Seattle April 24. It will consider the subject of the conservation of the sockeye salmon of the Fraser river, together with other questions pertaining to the fisheries of the Pacific and North Pacific oceans, including Alaskan and British Columbian waters.

A federal grain hearing will be held March 18 on call of the bureau of markets, Washington, D. C. It is expected that a representative will be in attendance for the bureau. The hearing is to ascertain the views of wheat growers on the proposed grades for 1918. Growers, in conference last December, went on record as to their opinion on the matter. Their recommendations have been regarded in the drafting of the 1918 grain standards, but they will be permitted to discuss them further before they go into effect.

The Columbia county council of defense has organized a home guard, which is expected to act more in the capacity of a vigilance committee than as a military organization, and a warning has been issued to agents of a nonpartisan league said to be operating in Columbia county to discontinue all solicitations in the county or face arrest on a charge of violating the espionage act.

The new transcontinental tariff, in effect March 15, gives to Wenatchee the same rates on freight shipped from the east that Seattle now has. Goods formerly billed to Wenatchee from the east have been shipped at the Seattle rate plus the rate from Seattle to Wenatchee. The securing of terminal rates at Wenatchee means the development of the wholesale business in north central Washington.

W. J. Grambs, section chief of Washington and Oregon for the recruiting service of the United States shipping board, was notified by officials of the board that the Pacific northwest ranks second in the number of applicants for service on board the new fleet of carriers. Eight hundred young men of Washington and Oregon have applied for service, this number being exceeded only by applications in New England.

A deal involving about $200,000 was closed when the Northern Grain & Warehouse company, of Portland, purchased the flour milling plant of the Dement Bros. company, of Walla Walla. The mill, which is the largest in eastern Washington, has a daily capacity of 650 barrels. A new bulk elevator, with a capacity of 160,000 bushels of wheat, and several country warehouses are included in the transaction.

The Red Cross of Cashmere early in the winter secured from Cashmere and Dryden growers 394 boxes of apples, mostly extra fancy Winesaps and Spitzenbergs. These were donated to the chapter to be sold, the proceeds to be used for its benefit. The fruit was sent to New York city by the Wenatchee Valley Fruit exchange and the services of Joseph Steinhart & Kelly were secured there. At a Red Cross sale the 394 boxes of apples brought $1150.

The old Ahtamum mission building, one of the first outposts of civilization in the Yakima valley as headquarters for the band of missionaries who came to this country with the first settlers is soon to be repaired and preserved as a historical relic through the efforts of the Knights of Columbus. The present mission was founded in 1867, but it was built upon the site of an older mission founded 20 years before, which was burned to the ground during the Indian wars.

An eight-hour day in Washington and Oregon shingle mills was decided on at a conference at Seattle between mill owners from both states. While many shingle mills in the Pacific northwest have been on an eight-hour basis since March 1, it was stated, the first formal action by the industry as a whole was taken at this meeting. About 15,000 men are affected by the order in Washington, a lesser number in Oregon. The change will take place immediately, it was announced.

More than $60,000,000 was expended by the emergency fleet corporation for shipbuilding in Washington and Oregon between August 1 and January 31, the two states during that period forming the Seattle district of the corporation. The district disbursements in the period named were double the expenditure in the next highest district, that of New York, known as No. 2 district. At present the emergency fleet corporation is disbursing more than $12,000,000 a month for direct contract ships in Washington and Oregon, and an equal amount for commandeered ships now under construction.

February records were broken by his office, State Land Commissioner Savidge reports. Receipts for the 1918 month are three times those for February, 1915. Demand for agricultural lands and timber grow steadily. A section of state rented land in Whitman county, now bringing in $2400 a year, formerly rented for less than half that amount. The state finds lessers for anything in the way of grazing lands. Even land with only a month's feed on it is being snapped up by the sheep men at advanced prices owing to the high prices for mutton and wool. The receipts for February, four-year period, follow: 1915, $107,247; 1916, $187,782; 1917, $234,738; 1918, $331,179.

The St. Joe Forest Users' association, consisting of sheep and cattle men of southeastern Washington, and principally of Whitman county, met at Colfax with Forest Supervisor Roscoe Haines of the St. Joe national forest. Arrangements are being made to permit about 50,000 sheep to graze in the national forests of Idaho next summer and probably 1000 cattle. In order to increase wool and mutton production it becomes necessary to find summer grazing outside of this state. It has been found that for winter range many more sheep can be kept in Washington than can find summer grazing. Government forest officers meeting with the sheep men think they can remedy this matter by giving grazing permits in the Idaho country.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Company, Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & COMPANY, Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all druggists, 75 cents. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
