Kettle Falls News

The corrected list of teachers engaged to teach in Kettle Falls schools for the coming year includes P. F. Schroeder, superintendent; Mrs. J. A. Burke, principal; Miss Irene Atchinson, assistant principal; Eva Root, 7th and 8th grades; Alma Wiegelt, 4th, 5th and 6th grades, and Miss Lydia Charlton, primary grades.

Paul Hofer has returned from Wisconsin. He sold his ranch to C. W. Leasure with intention of going to Switzerland, but on account of the war, decided it was best to delay his trip across until later. We are glad to see Paul back again and hope he will locate in this community again permanently.

Clarence Hamilton, aged 20, was drowned this week at Crab creek near Odessa, where he had gone to work in the harvest fields. The boy who made a brave effort to save him was also drowned. The Hamiltons were former residents of Kettle Falls and lost a son about ten year ago, who was drowned in the Bachman slough.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer R. Squire and Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler motored to Bossburg, Echo valley and Colville last Sunday.

A Chronicle of Events by our Local Correspondent

Local Representative, Miss Ruth Pierce.

Leander J. Johnson, an old resident of this vicinity, died at his home here Tuesday morning, July 23. Mr. Johnson was born February 28, 1853, in Sweden. He came to the United States in 1880 and located in Kansas. He moved to Idaho in 1901 and to Stevens county in 1903. A wife, three sons and a daughter are left to mourn their loss. The children are Amos of Port Hill, Idaho; Carl of Cascade, B. C.; Oscar of Daisy, Wash.; and Mrs. Nannie Thomas, Ossawatimie, Kansas. The sons were all here to attend his funeral, which was held Wednesday, July 24. Interment in the Fairview cemetery with Undertaker McCord of Colville in charge.

Col. Clair Hunt, water master for the district tributary to the Columbia river in Stevens county, drove over into the Daisy country Wednesday to make a survey to determine the rights of various claimants along the Cheweka creek. Some of the claims date back as far as 1883, making the settlement rather difficult. In some cases ditches are in use that were put in by Chinese before there were any white people in the district.

Correspondence from Rice
Mrs. D. C. Allen, Representative

Charles Deakins Jr., who left in the draft contingent of July 5, has been stationed at San Pedro, California.

Harold Clinton, who enlisted some time ago, has written from Camp Houston, Texas, saying that he is well pleased with army life, but does not particularly enjoy the extreme heat of the sunny south. If Harold could be at home a few days to enjoy our warm days, he couldn't complain.

P. G. Hoops and wife visited with their sons, L. G. and Ed Hobbs. Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs are old pioneers of Stevens county.

Mrs. Wilburn and daughters who drove from Spokane to visit Mrs. Henry Nettleton, have returned home.

Ozell Nettleton has returned to Seattle, after being home on a short furlough.

Much enthusiasm is shown at Sunday school over a birthday box, all the money received by said box to be given the Y. M. C. A. Many who have not had a birthday for a long time feel it their duty to have a birthday to help the boys out.

The Red Cross has not been so active during the warm summer months. During the next few weeks the interest will be centered in a Red Cross quilt to be sold at the fair this fall.

Harvesting of fruits and grains is much the vogue at present. Many are securing binder twine, so the indications are for a good wheat and oats harvest. The second crop of hay is being put in the stack.

Perey Savers left for Seattle to report on July 22 for service. During the winter he was employed in the shipyards, but was ordered to report for service. After a short visit with his parents, and his wife's relatives, he returned to Seattle. Mrs. Savers, formerly Miss Winnie Cranston, will remain with her parents while her husband is in the service.

Mrs. L. G. Hobbs is a tonsillitis patient.

Clinton Grimes and wife of Spokane are at the Hamilton home.

Elmer Allen will return to Ritzville for his car, thence to Mt. Hope, Wash., where he will work in the harvest fields.

Sunday afternoon forty-four people from Rice and vicinity met at the Small home near Daisy and pleasantly surprised Earl Small, who is a member of the July 22 draft. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening. Music and visiting, jokes and laughter whiled away the afternoon. Those in attendance were P. J. John and family, Dessie Mills, Spencer, Leona and Clara Byrd, Elmer L. Allen and family, C. A. Small and family, Bert Rice, wife and children, Alvadore Swank and family, B. L. Eddings and family, Chas. Baldwin, wife and child, Mrs. L. G. Hobbs and children, Chas. Lawson, the Small family and Earl Small. The guests departed wishing much joy and happiness in fighting for Uncle Sam.

C. A. Small, Clarence Small, Mr. and Mrs. Small Sr., Earl Small and little daughter Hazel left for Waterville Monday morning, where Earl was to appear before the exemption board as a member of the draft contingent being sent to training camps on July 22.

County Agriculturist Durdle and the Pig Club leader from Pullman, were in Rice this week, in conference with pig club members.

Meyers Falls Chronicle
Reporting the events about town

Mrs. A. L. Swanson, Representative
Mrs. Farnie's niece has been visiting here for several days.

The Sunday school picnic was a great success and the weather was fine after the first few drops of rain. There was a nice crowd out to enjoy the nice lunch. In the afternoon they had Christian Endeavor.

Mrs. Smith and children departed Thursday for Chewelah and all their friends regret to see them leave. May they find another home that they like as well as Meyers Falls is the sincere wish of their many friends here.

Mrs. Hale was over from Greenwood to attend the Junior Red Cross play. She spent the night at the home of Mrs. C. H. Gerking. Next morning she spent a few hours with Mrs. A. L. Swanson and had dinner at Bilde's.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of the president Mrs. Stephenson. It was so very warm that the ladies did not feel like working, so they began to talk about Red Cross and planned an ice cream social which procedure was favored by everyone. All went home saying that they had accomplished some thing if it was hot.

Miss Frances Farrar and Miss Helen Koerner returned home last week from a visit at the home of Mrs. Luther Price across the Columbia where they enjoyed a splendid time.

On Saturday about 11:15 o'clock, My! but you never heard such a noise in all your life! How that bell did ring! What for? The Americans had won a victory and Meyers Falls was celebrating the occasion.

Junior Red Cross gave a play at Meyers Friday night. They had a fine crowd and all enjoyed it very much.

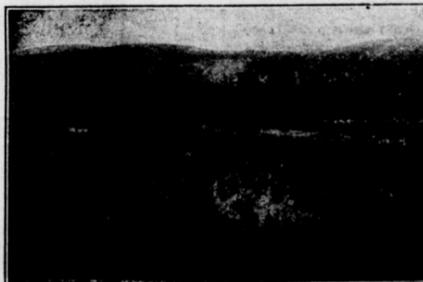

Frank Fedder, Luke Vanasse, A. L. Swanson, E. B. Latting and several more attended the Russell sale on Tuesday. They report a large attendance for harvest time.

Ernest Curry is at the home of his brother Bert Curry, to spend a few days.

Mrs. H. Paulinier is visiting her many friends in Meyers Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller motored to lone on Tuesday expecting to return this week.

The Christmas club met at the home of Mrs. L. Vanasse on Wednesday and were pleasantly entertained with music, and before going home lemonade and Hoover cookies were served. Had a very large attendance for such a warm day.

Raymond Zapel left for Camp Lewis with the last quota of men.

George Zerbrugg came home on a furlough last week. He will stay for 30 days unless Uncle Sam sends for him. George is looking fine and has his same old smile.

Mrs. Will Richardson is visiting at Grandma and Grandpa Richardson's. She will return Saturday to Chewelah.

Sugar seems to bother the people just now. I wonder if it bothers those who are in battle just at present as much.

Glen Higgenbotham went to Northport to visit his father for a few days.

Don't forget the movie on Saturday night; we want a big crowd.

Fred Abbott has gone to the harvest fields.

The News of Greenwood
Ada M. Brown, Representative

Miss Mildred Walston of Colville returned home Friday after a visit of a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Glenford Walston.

Clark Harlow left last week for the harvest fields near St. John.

George Zerbrugg has a thirty day furlough. He arrived at Wildrose ranch Friday and immediately took up his duties as "The Man With a Hoe."

The Junior Red Cross met at Pleasantview last Thursday but owing to the extreme heat very few were present.

Ray Jones is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Orion Coates.

Miss Bernice Leithead, who has been visiting her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Chase at Loon Lake returned home Saturday.

Miss Myra Kreuger of Woodland Meadows left for Spokane Saturday. Her stay will be indefinite.

Selah Look drove to Colville Saturday accompanied by his mother Mrs. Victor Look, Esther Look and Mrs. James L. Carpenter.

J. W. Reynolds motored to Colville Saturday. Among others who were there are Mr. and Mrs. Glenford Walston, Mrs. Frank Gordon and Frank Jr., C. F. Wheeler, E. H. Walston and daughter Clara, J. I. Noctor and Gus Nelson.

Alphur Hall and family are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Victor Look at Alfordale.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zurbrugg and Mr. and Mrs. Harve Zurbrugg were weekend guests at Wildrose, the home of their father. Harve Zurbrugg was married to Miss Emma Sheckler of Republic last Friday. He left Monday for Camp Lewis. His wife will return to her work at Republic in a few days and later will make a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walston and Miss Mildred motored out Sunday from Colville. Mr. and Mrs. Walston were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenford Walston, while Miss Mildred was the guest of her cousins, the Misses Jennie, Lottie and Clara Walston of Cresco.

A community car of cattle left Meyers Falls Monday. Those from Greenwood who had stock aboard were F. Zurbrugg, A. M. White, Glenford Walston, Frank Walston and William Koerling.

The entertainment given by the east end young people in the opera house at Meyers Falls Friday evening was a success in every way. Mrs. L. L. Harlow as director of the play is to be congratulated, for each of the performers were up to the minute. The proceeds netted the Junior Red Cross something over $25.

There was a dance given at Cresco Saturday evening which was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Norton are over at Meyers Falls this week helping Fred Abbott get ready for the harvest fields. Mr. Abbott leaves the middle of the week.

J. W. Brown is making his first cut of Sudan grass, a dry weather forage crop. It is five feet and just in bloom. He expects to get another cutting in about thirty-five days.

Miss Fay O'Neal was the guest of Miss Jennie Walston Saturday and Sunday, motoring to her home at Colville with the Frank Walstons Sunday evening.

Ernest Curry is visiting his brother Bert Curry at Snowflake ranch. Sunday evening they called at Evergreen to see Mr. and Mrs. James L. Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lynn and little ones, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hale motored to Lorenz Sunday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Harv.

Miss Fay Ross and nephew of Chewelah are the guests of Mrs. J. C. Lynn at Edgebank.

The Mingo Milling Co. has been running a few days this week and in consequence S. H. Bender delivered a load of boxes at Kettle Falls Wednesday.

WARM WELCOME FOR TWINS

Their Arrival in an English Home Meant Two Extra Sugar Rations for Family.

Capt. Norman Thwaites of the British intelligence department said the other day:

"The sugar shortage is felt keenly over the water. It's odd how you miss your sugar over there. You long for it as you'd long for tobacco."

"A Bayswater special constable hurried home from his beat at the Marble Arch the other evening to be present on a very interesting occasion, and, as he sat in his library in the small hours, the nurse came to him and said:

"It's all right, sir."
"The Bayswater man swallowed; he moistened his dry lips; then he asked: 'Is it a boy?'"

"The nurse smiled soothingly.
"One of 'em's a boy, sir," she said.
"And the Bayswater man, instead of turning pale or smothering an oath, as he'd probably done in peace time, uttered a glad cry of joy.
"Thank heaven!" he exclaimed, "that gives us two extra sugar rations."

Water Brooks.

There was a pool by which we stopped one day to look at a great dragon fly in golden mall lighting on a lily pad. I suppose that he did not live the season through, but his race has not lost a scintilla of his radiance, and there is a curious comfort in thinking that even in days like these, when mankind seems to have gone mad, and "when but to think is to be full of sorrow," I have only to go to the same pool to see a creature as beautiful, lighting on a lily pad as green, floating on water as pure. Nor is this mere sentimentality. To become aware of the fleeting permanency of all these bright short-lived things, their incessant change with essential changelessness, their passing beauties but persistent, beauty, brings health to the spirit of man. After his wars and revolutions he always returns to the brooks, and is surprised but happy to find them still dancing and singing.—Robert M. Gay in the Atlantic Monthly.

Origin Claimed by Turks.

According to the Osmanli historians, the original Turk was a grandson of Noah. Though there were only eight people in the ark when it was first floated, there were nine, it is asserted, when it landed at Mount Arrat. The additional one was the eldest son of Japhet, born during the flood. His name was Turk. A descendant in the fourth generation, one Alindje Khan, had two sons (twins) who were named Tartar-Khan and Mogul-Khan. Tartar was the father of the Turks; Mogul and Mongols were thus closely related by birth, and the wars which at once broke out between them, and the reconciliations that speedily ensued, had much of the nature of family quarrels. The Turks were the more frequently triumphant, one Mongol throne after another yielding to their arms. Not till the Christian era was well advanced did the ethnological name of these children of Japhet appear in history.

From Old Tins, $900,000.

A conference, representative of municipal and other local authorities in the Midlands, was held at Birmingham recently by arrangement with the national war salvage council to consider the question of the utilization of waste.

The lord mayor of Birmingham, who presided, stated that in Birmingham 600 tons of old tins were collected annually by the refuse disposal department, and that the recovered tin was sold at $1,500 a ton. The sum of $35,000 was obtained from the sale of recovered waste paper. Food for poultry and pigs was made from material from the corporation slaughter houses; condemned fish and meat were converted into valuable manures; fat was utilized for soapmaking.

Itching, bleeding, protruding or blind piles have yielded to Doan's Ointment, 66c at all stores.—adv
