The Examiner has for years made a specialty of high class job work, and in this department does all classes of commercial printing, society printing, color work, engraving, embossing, punching, ruling, perforating, loose leaf work and carries a stock of loose leaf binders and fillers for same. This office sells all classes of cuts, notarial and corporation seals, corporation books, stock certificates, bonds and warrants. Mail orders are promptly answered.

The pocket loose leaf billing and statement system is the latest in use in Colville. Bills and statements and memoranda can be carried in an indexed pocket book, thus saving much time, worry and calculation. It is also used for a petty ledger, or by houses which do a cash business with an occasional credit carried for a few days. The Examiner furnishes these books and fillers, and samples can be sent by mail.

Thomas Aspend received a card from Tom Donnahue, formerly a homesteader near Bear mountain, now somewhere in Luxembourg, stating that he wished he were in Colville for deer hunting, but that he expected to be back here as soon as he got everything fixed up in Germany. He left Colville in July.

Eric Peterson and Pete Christenson returned this week from Nome, having sailed on the last boat out of Nome. They are now on their homesteads on Blacktail mountain.

Subscribers to the Examiner should note the credit on their address, as showing when their subscriptions expire. In case of error, this office should be notified immediately. A notice of expiration will be sent to each subscriber either before the time is up or in the last issue, and renewals should be prompt in order not to miss any issues. All subscriptions expire with the date shown in connection with the address, and the Examiner follows the practice of all reputable publications in stopping at expiration.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

Many homes in and near Colville were made happy on Christmas day by the presence of boys in khaki or blue, a number of men in service having received their discharges, or furloughs, in time to be at home for the holidays. Uniforms have been a prominent and pleasing sight on the streets for several days, each train seeming to bring in one or more of the boys who had gone into the service from here.

David and William McMillan, sons of Senator and Mrs. C. R. McMillan of Orin, arrived home Sunday from Seattle where they were members of the University S. A. T. C. They were with the army section for three months and say that they enjoyed the military training and the camp environment. Both of the boys express a little regret that the news of the armistice kept them from a proposed change of camp, with opportunity for additional training. William had expected to be sent to an aviation camp in California.

Patrick Cronin, one of the "dry land sailors" from the naval unit of the S. A. T. C. at the University, returned Tuesday following the discharge of the unit. He was formerly in the office of the Northport Smelting & Refining Company.

Sergeant G. O. Kildow, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kildow, arrived from Washington D. C. where he has been a member of the chemical department of the American University for the last year. He was graduated from the Washington State College in the spring, and after being sent to Camp Lewis was transferred to the chemical department at Washington, doing research work. A rather surprising fact in regard to this research work is the amount of danger involved, statistics showing that casualties from explosions and other accidents made the service as dangerous as the front line trenches.

Ross Durland, son of Postmaster and Mrs. C. M. Durland, is home from Pullman where he was a member of the S. A. T. C.

Edwin Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rogers, is home from the University S. A. T. C.

Elmer Kaufman of Middleport is home on furlough from Camp Lewis.

Thomas Oakshot, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Oakshot of Aladdin, received his honorable discharge from the service in time to have Christmas dinner at home. He was formerly in Atty. W. Lon Johnson's office in Colville and was one of the first Colville boys to enlist. He received his discharge at Waco, Texas, where he was in the judge advocate's department. He now has a position with the Milwaukee railway in Spokane.

Edwin T. Rice returned Sunday to Colville, having received his honorable discharge from the S. A. T. C., at Cheney.

Among the Colville boys who have received their honorable discharge from the services are Oak Hardenbrook and Earl Mykins, both of White Lake. They were in the spruce division and were stationed in Oregon.

George Seal and Ted Emery former Colville high school boys, returned the first of the week from Seattle where they were attending the University of Washington as members of the S. A. T. C.

Earle Strong and C. F. R. Ostrum, who have been in the service and training at Pullman, have received their honorable discharge from the army. Mr. Ostrum has returned to the force at the First National bank, while Mr. Strong is again at work at the Colville postoffice.

Mrs. Anna Sherwood and sons Cameron and Donald were guests of Mayor and Mrs. W. L. Sax at Christmas dinner. Cameron Sherwood was a member of the S. A. T. C. at Whitman College, and Donald a member of a similar unit at Pullman until the recent demobilization.

Miss Dolores M. Cress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Cress of Marcus, became the bride of Walter W. Paxton of Meyers Falls Thursday, the ceremony being performed in Colville by the Rev. Leonard Garver. The bride is a trained nurse, working in her profession under Doctors R. S. Wells, W. C. Goss, C. S. Bumgarner, H. F. Craig, O. Getty and McCormack, the last-named a Spokane physician. Mr. Paxton is a rancher, owning one of the finest ranches in the Meyers Falls country. He has lived there for the past six years, during which time he made a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Paxton will make their home at Meyers Falls. Their many friends wish them a life of happiness.

A son was born December 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. May at Fairbank, Wash. The little one weighed eight pounds. The father is in the service and stationed at Fort Worden.

Miss Dorothy Dexter of the auditor's office is again out after an attack of the flu and spent Christmas with her parents at Kettle Falls.

A. B. Sansburn was down from Flavin to spend Christmas at home.

B. F. Reed, manager of the Reed Publicity service, was home this week to spend the holidays with his family on their ranch near Colville.

The associated banks of Colville have announced that after today the rate of discount on Canadian currency, drafts and checks will be reduced to 2%.

The following letters remain uncalled for at the Colville post office: Mrs. Doris Hall Brown, Lester Hobe, C. Kimberling, W. E. Meyers, Ward E. Parker, Mrs. Frederick E. Thompson and Mrs. G. E. Wright.

Harry Jesseph arrived home from Walla Walla to spend Christmas at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jesseph.

Greetings!

We wish to thank our many friends for their past liberal patronage we have enjoyed, and also the friends we shall meet in the coming year, and which we shall cherish; and with the joy of victory to thrill us, and the blessings of peace especially to gladden us, we wish you one and all

A Happy and Prosperous New Year
