

THE CLEARING HOUSE OF NATIONAL THOUGHT

Do you know that Uncle Sam conducts the largest printing-plant in the world? It requires five thousand people and a plant worth five million dollars to produce the printing utilized in operating the government.

Then there is the seven million dollar building—one of the most beautiful in the world—housing the Library of Congress.

The story of the small beginnings of these two great institutions, their steady growth, and their present importance in the work of the nation, is told in an attractively illustrated folder of the series on Our Government now being issued by this Institution.

There has been a great demand for these stories and it is evident that they have been doing a valuable work in informing the people of this community about our government.

FORDSON
Hitherto the farmer has woven the power of his own muscles with those of the ox, the mule and the horse, in the development of agriculture. Practical machinery for farming has come to him slowly. Where the value of machinery in labor saving, in profit-making, in usefulness, in comforts, in luxuries, has in the past been largely confined to the towns and the cities, it is now open to the farmer who is beyond all question the very bone and sinew of civilization. Civilization grows upon the land, therefore the land is Father and Mother and Sustainer to the human race, and those who till the soil, who plow, sow and reap, are surely the essentials in human existence. Therefore Machine power on the Farm is of the utmost importance, and the Fordson Tractor comes to the farmer as the best, we believe, piece of machinery that has yet been devised for his use.
We want you to read the book "The Fordson at Work." It is free for the asking. Call in and get one. Drop us a card and we will mail you one without charge. This booklet is along the line of the usual Ford way of giving the testimony of the users, those who have tried out and who know the real value of the Fordson Tractor. This book shows the Fordson at work in some ninety different lines of activity and to the farmer it presents the most valuable evidence of an all-around serviceable, economical, labor-saving, and money-saving machine that has ever been placed upon the market. We can only get so many each month, so leave your order now.
