GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

"THE LABORATORY OF LIFE,"

BACCALAUREATE SUBJECT

Sunday evening of this week witnessed one of the largest audiences ever present in a Colville church when the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. J. M. Huggins at the M. E. church. Led by Wallace Buckley, the seniors marched to a reserved section in the front of the church, while the congregation sang a processional hymn. The twelfth chapter of Romans was read by Rev. Guy Denney, followed by the invocation by Rev. G. E. Whitten. The girl's glee club gave a selection just before the sermon. "The Laboratory of Life" was the title of the sermon by Rev. Huggins, who urged the students to try out their ideas and desires and to discard the worthless and use those which proved of value. He advised them to use the Bible as a reference book throughout their life as in it could be found much that would be of service to them. Following the sermon the glee club sang "Sanctus" from St. Cecilia's mass. The girl's quartet composed of Neva Miller and June Sturman, sopranos, Luella Droz and Ruth Erickson, altos, gave a selection accompanied by the high school orchestra. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Guy Denney.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

PICNIC MONDAY EVENING

The orchestra of the Colville high school picnicked Monday evening on the hill above the fish hatchery. Ham, eggs and coffee were prepared while some of the youngsters present climbed trees and walked fences. An impromptu track meet was on the program as was also a song in the forks of a tree by members of the glee club. Wallace Buckley staged a fall into the creek as a part of the entertainment.

Those present were Misses Isabel Weiler, Clara Zurbrugg, Amanda Harris, Messrs. Dana Isom, Wallace Buckley, Harry Eslick, Wilbur Copp, Fay Baker.

JUNIOR PROM TUESDAY, BIG SOCIAL EVENT

The Junior prom and banquet Tuesday evening 7:30, at the I. O. O. F. Hall, was one of the main social events of the year. Plates were laid for 76 at the banquet, which was served by the ladies of the Rebekah lodge. Miss Maragret Taylor, president of the senior class, acted as toastmistress. Following the toasts, dancing was enjoyed in the lodge room.

Toasts were given by Harry Eslick of the junior class with a toast of welcome; Superintendent W. O. Cummings with reminiscences of the past in the Colville high school; Principal H. A. Scarborough on C. H. S. of the present; F. Leo Grimstead, clerk of the school board on what the board has been doing; Superintendent G. L. Putnam on future plans for C. H. S. Miss Dorothy Anderson, president of the senior class, responded with a farewell toast.

Present at the banquet were the members of the school board and their wives, members and wives of the faculty, County Superintendent W. O. Cummings, members of the senior and junior class and several invited members of the freshman and sophomore classes.

The lodge room was decorated in navy and gold, the senior colors. The same color scheme was carried out on the dancing programs. Lilies and apple blossoms were also used in the decorations. There was the usual program of 16 dances and in addition a junior and a senior extra. There were 86 present at the dance.

Class Day Exercises Held Wednesday

The class-day program held at 10:30 Wednesday and presided over by Miss Dorothy Anderson, president of the senior class, was as follows: Piano duet by Misses Helen Hemingway and Lilly Thom; vocal duet by Miss Neva Miller; presentation to editor-in-chief Dana Isom of an autograph copy of the first completed copy of the Skookum off the press. The copy was autographed by every member of the senior class. Reading of the class prophecy by the authoress Miss Florence Powell; reading of class will by one of the writers, Miss Gladys Crawford; fake graduation exercises and presentation of fake diplomas tied with the class colors of navy and gold in crepe paper; nine raps for the president of the student association, Wallace Buckley, led by yell queen Miss Josephine LaPlant.

Student Association Officers

Enos Rice has been elected president of the student association for next year. Assisting him will be Clayton McKern, vice president; Christine Kimple, secretary, and Hubert Page, treasurer.
