COLVILLE WINS SECOND GAME

DEFEATS SPRINGDALE TEAM BY SCORE OF 5 TO 3 LAST SUNDAY

Snoddy Pitches for Colville and Has Excellent Support—Play Chewelah Tomorrow

The redoubtable Springdale Reds invaded Colville Sunday confident of their ability to repeat their performance at Springdale earlier in the month but unlike the Valley gang last week they found it a case of "too much Snoddy" and the Bulldogs made their winning streak last at least two games. In one of the best fielding contests shown in the league this year the local regulars mauled the horsehide often and far while Snoddy had the visitors at his mercy all the way. Colville scored once in the third on Wernli's smack for three sacks and Snoddy's single. Hard hitting brought over two more in the fifth and two more crossed the pan in the seventh when Whitney chased E. Rogers off third and in attempting to catch him at the plate bounced the ball off his head permitting both Rogers and Wernli to score. With five runs to go on in the eighth, Snoddy eased up and permitted one run and two more came over in the ninth but the result was never in doubt. In justice to the visitors it must be said that they played good ball but all of the breaks of the game were against them. The Redlegs are great favorites in Colville and are a hard-working gentlemanly bunch of ball-players. They are a good drawing card and will always be welcome.

The box score:

Score by innings:
 Springdale 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2—3
 Colville 0 0 1 0 2 0 2 0 x—5

Summary: Three base hits, Wernli; two base hits, Wernli, Graham, E. Rogers, struck out by Oechs, 5, by Snoddy 3. Bases on balls off Oechs 2, off Snoddy 1. Left on bases Springdale 2, Colville 5. Time of game 1:45. Umpires Thomas and Donley.

Notes of the game:
 E. Rogers was tried out in right field, and while he had no chances in the field he looked good at bat, contributing a nice two sacker.
 Wernli crossed over and batted from the right side and mauled Oechs for a triple and double.
 J. Rogers and Bunn furnished the fielding sensations. Joe took a hard Texas leaguer back of second and Bunn made a circus stop of Graham's hard hit grounder.
 Snapp is fielding in old-time form and hitting the ball hard.
 Whitney had hard luck when he hit for a clean double but was called out for forgetting to step on first in passing.
 The hot weather is having a good effect on Graham's throwing arm and thefts were not numerous; Bush is in mid-season form also.
 Chewelah's hirelings invade our back-lot Sunday. The Bulldogs are going good and insist that the bigger they are the harder they drop.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Dean of Lewiston, Idaho, expected to arrive in Colville Sunday where they will be the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sansburn. Mr. Dean is half brother to Mr. Sansburn.
 M. S. Corey, principal of the Daisy high school, was a business visitor in Colville Wednesday.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE ARE MARRIED IN COLVILLE
 Tuesday at one o'clock in the presence of their immediate families and attendant, Miss Jean Hartwell was married to Horace G. Rice at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rice of south Maple street.

 The ceremony took place beneath an arch of white daisies. Rev. John M. Huggins officiated. The attendant of the bride was Miss Velma Exley, and Jack Rice, brother of the groom, was his attendant, while little Sue Hartwell, carrying an old fashioned basket of snapdragons, and bachelor buttons, was flower girl.
 The bride was gowned in a bisque traveling suit of heavy Russianian satin and wore a jade green French hat. Her bouquet was of Ophelia roses and sweet peas. Miss Exley wore pink organdie over silk, and Sue was daintily dressed in flowered silk.
 A luncheon was served in the dining room, profusely decorated with roses. The table decorations were pink and white roses in a large cut glass bowl.
 The wedding gifts received by the bride and groom were many in quantity, and rich and beautiful in design.
 After two days at the Pend Oreille lakes Mr. and Mrs. Rice spent several days visiting relatives of the groom at Coeur d'Alene. They will be at home to their friends after July 5th at the Williams Court apartments in Pullman, where Mr. Rice is associated with the Standard Oil Company.

Mrs. Rice has been a resident of Colville for about eight years, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hartwell. Mr. Rice is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rice and has resided in Colville for the past ten years, with the exception of the past year spent at Pullman. Mr. Rice is a graduate of the Colville high school of the class of 1915, and Mrs. Rice is a graduate of the class of 1918.

NIGHT LIFE IN COLVILLE IS NOT ON THE WANE

There are those that hit the downy at eleven and these are they that don't know the goin's on in these parts until after old ruddy-comb sounds his first call for rising on the chicken yard fence.
 According to Willett Bros., who neither slumber nor sleep, or more specifically, William McKern, the garage night watchman; Colville, since the first of February has been the "half way place" between Spokane and British Columbia for touring parties, business trips, etc., to get their gasoline.
 "At first, said McKern, the night alarm sounded less frequent, but now our being open all night is becoming know from boundary to boundary, and they like it and are beginning to depend upon us for that accommodation.
 "Then too, the local trade makes up a large part of our night work. The lumber camps have night shifts of trucks delivering poles and they depend upon us for gasoline. Then there are the unexpected trips, like the physicians, and altogether no one realizes what is going on here in the auto business after eleven o'clock at night unless they stay awake to see."
 J. E. True of Spokane was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Keller last week.

PIONEERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

STEVENS COUNTY PIONEER ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC AT COLVILLE

George H. Bevan Re-elected President for Coming Year—Next Meeting to be Held at Kettle Falls

The twenty-second annual picnic of the Stevens County Pioneer association, because of the inclemency of the weather, was held in the Odd Fellows hall instead of the park as scheduled, Thursday, June 30. Many members from Chewelah, Marcus, and rural districts were not in attendance this year, probably because of the weather. However, there was a good attendance and the three long tables of the hall were bountifully spread and seated to capacity.
 President of the association, Geo. H. Bevan of Kettle Falls (the pioneer at Kettle), with his air of southern hospitality, was also master of ceremonies.
 State Representative John T. Raftis greeted the members of the association and paid beautiful tribute to the pioneers of the northwest, the makers of a new race.
 "Never had I realized their strength so fully," stated Mr. Raftis, "as when I saw the men of the 91st division during the war. It had been said that there never before has been a body of men like these, the sons of the pioneers of the great northwest, the men of the last frontier."

The after dinner speeches were lively ones, characteristic of long residence and of old time friends. One of the oldest, if not oldest pioneer, Hon. John Rickey, who came here April 16, 1866, when Stevens county was bounded on the north by British Columbia, the east by Idaho, the south by Snake river and the west by the summit of the Cascade mountains and embraced what is now eleven counties—when there were 300 voters and no school district, and the nearest railroad was Sacramento City, cited many interesting events that served as milestones in the progress of the county.
 Other pioneers of note spoke festively of past events, while the younger members commended the older men on the construction work done under adverse conditions and difficulties almost unsurmountable. Great stress was put on the mention of the work of the women of the association, especially in the work of prohibition.

The meeting place of the pioneer association of Stevens county for the twenty-third annual picnic will be at Kettle Falls.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, G. H. Bevan, Kettle Falls; vice president, Frank Naff, Addy; secretary, Clara Shaver, Colville; directors, Mrs. W. H. Jackson, Colville; Lillie Rice, Colville; Mrs. Thomas Graham, Arden; Mrs. John Ehorn, Chewelah; Mrs. C. R. McMillan, Colville, and Mrs. F. B. Goetter, Colville.

Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Thos. Kirk, Frank Habein, J. H. King, W. B. Brewer, G. B. Ide, W. L. Bowen, Carl Buchanan, W. H. Graham, D. F. Ham, W. H. Jackson, Thos. Graham, Ed. St. Clair, Frank Naff, W. Lon Johnson, Ralph Bush, Wm. Miller, Harold Dexter, C. R. McMillan, David Burke, George D. Staves, George Thomas, C. A. Ledgerwood, M. F. Belknap, John Ehorn, John Wheeler, Mesdames May Clinton, Minnie Setzer, Emma Aspend, Nicholas Powers, Lillie Rice, Misses Dorothy Allen, Mollie Graham, Rachael McMillan, Ann Ehorn, and Messrs. John T. Raftis, Abert Ham, David McMillan, John Rickey, Geo. Hofstetter, C. A. Ledgerwood, J. M. Mahoney, Fred Ehorn, Edward Gibson and Laz Dannheiser.

MANY COLVILLE PEOPLE

CELEBRATE AT CHEWELAH
 The joint Stevens county celebration at Chewelah Monday and Tuesday of next week under the direction of the American Legion promises to be two big days of high class entertainment and sports.

The members of Frank Starr post of the American Legion in uniform, will be there in a body, as will the auxiliary of the American Legion, to take prominent part in the parade. The Colville band together with the band of Chewelah will play throughout the day. Meyer's five-piece orchestra will furnish music for dancing afternoon and evening. Colville's baseball team will play Chewelah the Fourth at Chewelah.

Colville has been honored by furnishing the speaker, State Senator W. Lon Johnson. The official program for the two days is crowded with interesting events.

Inchelium, on the Indian reservation, beginning Friday, will have five days celebration. The program provides for dancing on the pavilion, baseball games, races, Indian games, besides other attractions.

The Pend Oreille lakes residents have planned picnic dinners, swimming and dancing for the celebration there; accommodations have been booked for days over the holiday. Many Colville residents are planning a quiet day at the lakes, and also on Mill creek and at Arden. There are many auto trips covering the holidays to different points, while many are looking forward to a quiet rest on their own lawn, with their own family.

SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSN. MAKES GOOD HEADWAY

The Colville Valley Savings and Loan Association, whose officers are Dr. O. F. Vinson, president; L. M. McFarland, vice president; H. R. Williams, secretary and manager; executive committee, O. F. Vinson, H. R. Williams, L. G. Keller, L. M. McFarland and Quinn W. McCord are increasing their sales of stock in anticipation of the increased volume of loans occasioned by the resuming of home building which will accompany the adjustment of prices of hardware to the pre-war basis and the reduced cost of lumber and labor.

Organizations of this character have been tried and proved to be a strong force and economic factor in civic welfare in eastern communities. They are organized under state laws applicable to loans, just as are financial systems. These loans are acceptable to the state and are under the same supervision just as though they were made through the bank.

The Colville Valley Savings and Loan Association differs somewhat from other loaning systems in that with each monthly payment the principle is reduced and the interest grows less with each payment, and at the end of the contract the principle is paid in its entirety.

While the original purpose of the association is to loan money on new homes they have lately made loans on completed buildings, some of them of few years standing. The association is growing and getting new subscribers. Chances are still open to enter new subscriptions for stock in the company.

J. B. Hergesheimer and M. J. Rhodes of Hunters were in town Thursday on business connected with the preparation for the new high school recently formed at Hunters by the consolidation of eight adjoining districts.
