

"SERVICE THAT MAKES FRIENDS"

Have you ever stopped to consider that no one ever established a credit by paying out the cash?

The one you deal with may not even know your name if you pay with currency.

People in reality establish their credit by paying by check when they agree to.

You do not have to have large capital in order to write checks.

Your monthly salary or income is sufficient.

We invite your business.

Mrs. C. H. Carroll has been quite ill this week.

All business houses will be closed Monday, January 2nd. This day is a legal holiday.

Miss Martha Ide of Portland has been visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Ide.

The annual dance of the Odd Fellows will be given at their hall Monday evening, Jan. 2. The committee in charge comprises L. E. Baird, Ed. Nyholm and C. K. Pederson.

The Colville band gave an enjoyable Christmas eve dance at the band auditorium, with receipts over $80. Another band dance was given Wednesday evening, taking the place of the New Year's dance.

"Green Stockings," a three-act comedy drama by A. E. W. Mason, will be given at the Colville theater Feb. 6 by the American Legion. The play is under the direction of Mrs. L. Wernli, formerly of the history department of the high school. This play has been successfully presented at Whitman, Washington state college and U. of W.

Miss Mary A. Lucas, teacher at Republic, spent Christmas eve in Colville, on her way to Chewelah and Spokane. She was accompanied by her sister Miss June Lucas. Miss Lucas was superintendent of the Kettle Falls schools last year.

As a result of the bonus plan started by the J. C. Penney stores of the country Jan. 1, 1921, Miss Thelma Dorman received a Christmas present of a bonus of $69.52 for her work during the year. These bonuses are given for length of service and sales during the year, and Miss Dorman was the only one in the Colville store who could qualify as eligible. The bonus increases from year to year up to 10 years service.

"Doc" Reynolds of Cedonia was a Colville visitor Tuesday and Wednesday. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Reynolds was Stevens county's commissioner of District No. 2.

Archdeacon G. H. Severance of the Episcopal church was a Colville visitor Tuesday.

J. L. Brown, formerly proprietor of the Brown Shoe Shop, is now on his ranch near Daisy. Mrs. Brown expects to leave this week for the ranch home.

Honoring the thirty-ninth wedding anniversary of Justice of the Peace A. L. Knapp and Mrs. Knapp, their son Ivan Knapp gave a dinner for them at his home on Route 1, Monday, Dec. 26.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Colville Valley Coal Co. is to be held at the Old National bank, Spokane, on the evening of Jan. 9. The stockholders will be asked to devise some plan whereby the debts of the company can be paid and the company taken out of the hands of the receiver, J. F. Herriek. The receiver reports that the company has $1.25 in cash on hand, and that the debts are $22,739. This company opened a large vein of coal on the Weatherwax place west of Valley, but it is alleged that poor business management caused the company to be placed in the hands of a receiver. The final account of the receiver is to be heard in the Spokane county courts Jan. 30.

E. L. Ricketts and A. L. Anderson were each assessed $10 and costs on Tuesday by Justice A. L. Knapp, on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct filed by Deputy Sheriff M. A. Daggy. The occurrence was said to have taken place Sunday afternoon.

George A. Thompson, residing on the 320-acre place three miles northeast of Colville formerly known as the Gates place, is preparing to irrigate 190 acres of the land from Mill creek next year. Mr. Thompson was engaged in the dairy business before coming here, and it is probable that he will turn his place into a great dairy farm before he is through with his plans. He has not decided as to the breed of milk cattle, but states that he has always had a preference for Jerseys.

The Stevens County Power and Light Co. is occupying the adjoining room in the Bank of Colville building recently vacated by Homer E. Miller's plumbing shop. The new room is 16x30, which has been calomined and tinted, and handsome lighting fixtures have been installed. The room will hereafter be used for the office. For the convenience of patrons a writing desk has been installed. The public office is separated from the private office by a counter of native stained wood with iron screen. To the private office has been added a paneled screen of stained fir, and to the office equipment a Youngstown fireproof cabinet safe and vault. The room formerly used as the office will be utilized as a supply room for the linemen.

Mrs. Ruth Mantz Larsen has been visiting at the home of her grandmother Mrs. E. K. Arnold.

Charles Van Tuyl and Miss Alice Fay were united in marriage Dec. 24 at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. Geo. E. Whitten.

Mrs. A. W. Goodenough and daughter Florence of Spokane visited over Sunday at the home of her brother F. J. Van Buren.

Walter and Clayton McKern drove to Newport Tuesday for a few days visit with Boyd McKern and family.

The warmth of the Christmas spirit in the Colville valley was appreciably noticeable this week when the thermometer registered an average of 10 degrees higher than for the previous two weeks. Temperature throughout the day has averaged 30 to 35 degrees.

The Congregational church was the scene of merriment and sorrow at the farewell reception given for Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Casey Wednesday evening. The unexpected early departure for Chewelah, where they will make their permanent residence, hastened reception plans and necessitated an informal reception. Notwithstanding the time in which the invitations were issued, the committees in charge provided a most interesting evening for the large number of friends who were there to tender their regrets at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Casey.

Every one who entered the Sansburn & Freeman billiard parlors on Christmas day was the recipient of a gift of some kind, candy, cigar, or soft drink. This revival of an old-time western custom proved most popular with strangers and customers alike.

Mrs. L. P. Miller has purchased the C. C. Casey home on Sixth avenue.

Willett Bros. have commenced the sale of their new "Skookum" gasoline for motor cars, and already have several distributors throughout their territory, furnished by their motor tank. This gas comes from an independent refinery in Wyoming, and among the claims made for it by users are that it has a higher test, gives more power, starts easier and affords more mileage than other kinds used. One hydrometer test made in Colville showed 64 1/2 degrees as compared with the 57 degrees of the gas which had been in common use.

Items of Interest at Farm Bureau Office

The Farm Bureau is now pooling orders for barbed wire and picnic acid. All orders must be in the hands of the secretary not later than Feb. 1.

It is the opinion of a frequenter of the Farm Bureau office that if wood cutters got as much for wood in proportion to the price they pay for produce, they would be selling wood at $12 a cord.

Saturday the Farm Bureau sold ten cords of wood. Since the bureau has been acting as a medium between producer and consumer, it has been successful in marketing both wood and hay for its members.

The publicity committee of the Stevens County Farm Bureau met Tuesday in the Farm Bureau office for the purpose of editing contributions to the Farm Bureau News. This committee is composed of Mrs. J. F. Golder, Mrs. Ray W. Hall, and Frank A. Savage.

H. J. Plumb, Stevens county agent, and F. A. Savage held a very interesting meeting at Douglas Falls school Tuesday and at Greenwood Wednesday. Mr. Plumb and Mr. Savage spent the remainder of the week in the southern part of the county.

John Savage of Addy, commissioner of the 3rd district, visited the Farm Bureau Tuesday.

Van Ritchie of Daisy has received a consignment of powder through the county agent's office.

Among the Farm Bureau visitors this week were C. A. Barton, W. R. Myers, J. A. Harris, A. R. Myers of Douglas Falls, Bert Rice of Rice, G. E. Mathews of Meyers Falls, Rosco Ramsey, Gus Toulou of Kewa.

The Haller Creek shingle and box mill near Orin has installed up-to-date machinery for the manufacture of egg cases and has contracted with the Colville merchants through the Stevens County Farm Bureau for sufficient cases for the year 1922. The Farm Bureau office has assured J. W. Broderick, manager of the plant, it will be able to sell his entire out-put at satisfactory prices. This will be of great interest to the poultry raisers of the county as it will mean a great saving in the cost of egg cases.

Lee's Shoe Shop is now located in the other room of the same building. Bring down your shoes and rubbers. All rubber goods neatly repaired.

Filipinos Will Thump Out Native Melodies on "Bandurias," "Laud" and "Octavina"

Quaint Instruments Bring Out Wonderful Harmonies Played by Native Artists—To Appear Here in Vocal and Instrumental Concert.

The members of Ne Pomoceno's Filipino Quartet are masters of the "Bandurias," "Laud," the "Octavina," the "Guitarra," the "Banjo" and other native Filipino instruments, and in their program featuring their own beautiful melodies these famous instruments will be used. This is a group of real Filipino artists who, while they specialize in their own melodious harmonies, at the same time play exceedingly well the classical and popular numbers of America. Excellent vocal work is also a feature of their program which will be given here soon.
