Mrs. A. R. Mann will leave the first of the week for Puyallup where she has been called because of the illness of her son Bradish Mann.

Mrs. Harry Smith and little daughter are spending several days at the home of Mrs. Smith's parents Mr. and Mrs. Gust Weigelt.

Little Walter Welch had his tonsils removed by Dr. Olds at Mt. Carmel hospital last Saturday.

Mrs. Mary M. Fish will leave tomorrow for Chewelah where she expects to spend the winter with her daughter Mrs. R. V. Rigg.

Mrs. E. K. Jacobs entertained the bridge club yesterday afternoon.

Pine Tree Chapter O. E. S. of Kettle Falls were hosts to about 30 members of Colville chapter at their regular meeting Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gerking of Meyers Falls received the degrees of the order. After a social hour, supper was served in the dining room to about 100.

Mrs. J. M. Williams was toast mistress and called upon several for their reaction, and the responses were both clever and witty.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knight motored to Spokane Thursday. Mrs. H. J. Bangs accompanied them as far as Spokane and will continue on to Idaho where she was called on account of the death of her daughter.

The newest, up-to-the-minute hats, are on display at Mrs. Karen Fogh's and she will appreciate a call from you.

Hunters Happenings

Things that are doing in our bustling state city. Reported by our special correspondent.

There has been a slight fall of snow here a couple of nights but by the next day it had melted each time. The mornings also have been decidedly frosty.

The Hunter Land Co. put out 66,616 packed boxes of apples this year. They have about 10,000 more boxes this season than last.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Anderson and Miss Ellen Hamilton all of Spokane spent the week-end at the home of Miss Anna Melin and at the Fred Hamilton home.

Mrs. Quimby visited with Mrs. C. Thomas one day last week.

Mrs. E. Walker is fixing up her little supply shop in Hunters this week.

Mrs. B. Friske visited at the Chapman home one day last week.

Ralph Markham left last week. Frank Ewing is here again. We are glad to see his smiling face.

The News of Greenwood

The Ladies' club met Nov. 2 with Mrs. G. C. Walston. The day was so nice and everyone had a good time. The afternoon was spent in sewing. Refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be Nov. 15 with Mrs. F. C. Walston in Colville. Ladies, bring your fancy work.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bender were calling at the J. F. Cassell home Thursday evening.

We are glad to report that Mr. Gordon was able to go to Meyers Falls Tuesday to cast his vote.

One wedding over and wedding bells can be heard ringing again.

Meyers Falls Chronicle

Reporting the events about town

Mrs. A. L. Swanson, Representative

Many from Meyers Falls went to Kettle Falls on Wednesday of this week to attend the Eastern Star meeting and several were initiated into their mysteries.

The weather has been just lovely since the little covering of snow dispersed, and in the afternoon you can see people out enjoying the beautiful fall weather.

Harry Leslie and Rube Schenk have been the only ones to report the killing of a deer so far this fall, but many hunters spend Sunday behind a stump waiting to have one come to them, and then come home telling how many tracks they have seen while out. It is only part of hunting life.

Grangers do not forget that Pomona grange meeting at the Colville Valley grange hall known as the Wigwam, and do not forget your well filled baskets and show them we can make apple pie and other good dishes from them and potatoes, of which we farmers have plenty. The date is Nov. 16.

Mrs. Helen Blynn went to Spokane to spend a few days and from there she will go to Seattle to spend the winter with her son John Blynn and family. Mrs. Blynn is over 80 years old, but if one could see her about her home and in the orchard would think she was younger. Her orchard is weedless and her flowers are well kept.

Election day has come and gone, and some hearts are glad and some are sad. Never in its history did Meyers Falls people scratch their ballots as they did this year, very few voted a straight ticket. C. C. Dill made a good showing here.

Misses Clarabelle and Maybelle Gerking are sorting and packing apples across the Columbia river for Mr. McMama.

Items from Mingo

Mrs. M. J. Tiddy moved from this place to Kettle Falls where she expects to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dougan visited relatives in Pleasant Valley Sunday.

Mrs. C. H. Markham went to Colville Sunday where she expects to visit a few days before starting for her old home in Gary, New York.

Fred Sheldon came up from Spokane Sunday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Morton.

G. P. Halverson was a Kettle Falls visitor Wednesday.

C. G. Spencer is on the sick list this week.

Volney Morton made a business trip to Boyds Friday, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dougan were Colville business visitors Thursday.

J. A. Martin of Colville was a Monday evening guest at the V. G. Morton home.

Nearly a score of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. C. H. Markham sprung a well planned and complete farewell surprise upon her Friday afternoon, as she expects to soon depart for a visit in the Dakotas and an indefinite stay with her sister and adopted daughter in New York. Mrs. Morton had attempted to camouflage the affair by inducing Mrs. Markham to accompany her to the mail box and then persuading her to sit on a log while she read letters from mutual friends, but the anxiety of Mrs. Markham over the dinner already cooking of which she hoped to persuade her friends to partake, forbade too prolonged a stay. Then after starting home a great wonderment came to the mind of Mrs. Markham (as was afterward divulged) because though Mrs. Morton was 20 years her junior, she had to stop and rest so frequently, while the former although having passed her three score years and ten and one half, a decade more, yet felt like climbing the hills like a gazelle. But the puzzle was solved when soon after their return to the house an invading party laden with baskets and bundles filed into the house, taking complete possession. A sumptuous dinner provided by the guests was soon laid and partaken of with great relish and enjoyment. Many appropriate and useful gifts as tokens of the love and esteem of the donors were presented to Mrs. Markham. The afternoon passed all too quickly when the guests departed wishing their hostess a safe and pleasant journey with many happy years to come. Mrs. Markham has been a resident of this place for the past 13 years and is held in high esteem by all who have been fortunate enough to become acquainted with her, and it is considered a great privilege to be counted as one of her friends.

Louie and John Hoegerl made a business trip to Spokane last Thursday, making the round trip in a day.

Mrs. Hoegerl and son John made a business trip to Colville last Friday to see her daughters Mrs. C. Colvin and Frances Hoegerl.

Marble Valley News Notes

Mrs. C. H. King, Representative

There was a pretty good attendance at Sunday school and preaching Sunday afternoon. The hour for Sunday school has been changed to 2 p. m., and Rev. Patterson will preach at 3 o'clock every alternate Sunday. Everybody welcome.

Strikes are quite in vogue, even among the children. There was a walkout at school Monday because the fire did not heat up the room quite early enough, and the children of about four families went home. One parent realized the demoralizing effect of such a precedent and sent his child back to school, while the rest sympathized with the strikers, and thus encouraged more rebellion.

Many of the valleyites had to go to Addy to cast their vote, and a goodly number patronized the Ladies' Aid dinner, and they were not sorry, as the ladies had provided a feast of good eats.

Dan Nickerson has rented his place and expects to take a trip down to the Big Bend country soon.

The Bill Schuoler family are back again for a visit. They are at present at the home of B. A. Hubert.

Mrs. Zbinden and Mrs. Paul Hubert called on the Meyer and Mrs. Biehl homes Sunday.

Leon and Herman returned home Wednesday evening. They report a fine trip over good roads.

A. J. Schuoler hauled a load of hay to Colville Wednesday.

Alex. Hender is working on the new hardware building in Addy.

L. Cunningham is helping to get out logs in Addy.

Bill Zbinden returned Saturday evening from Colville where he has been helping build a house for Rudolph Striet of the TopNoch mill.

C. H. King is pulling apple trees this week.

Mr. Clark has returned to this neighborhood. He is living on the Robt. Staeheli place and will make ties this winter.

BLACK LAKE NEWS

(From S. G. Constantine)

The fishing season closed last week. The boats have been overhauled and painted and are stored for next season, and everything is in a shipshape condition for the winter. I extend my thanks for the appreciation of my friends and patrons during the past season and to the Examiner for giving space to the Black Lake news.

S. G. Constantine has been working for C. H. Barnes for several days the past week.

Milt Klein, Mrs. P. J. Pepin, daughter Rose and son Alexander, Mrs. Claud Marshal, daughter Dorothy and son Raymond, Miss Kathryn Rima were at the lake last Sunday afternoon enjoying boating, the children especially. They called on S. G. Constantine before their departure and light refreshments were served.

Activities of the County Bureau

News of Work of County Bureau and Business of Head Office

(From Farm Bureau News)

As yet we have not joined the state and national farm bureaus but hope soon to reap some of the benefits to be obtained by reason of such affiliation. County Service Station is another name for the county Farm Bureau. If it fails to give service to the farmers in the county whose membership fees maintain it and make it possible for it to be a link in the state Farm Bureau Federation and the American Farm Bureau Federation chain, it has weakened the entire chain. Its offense, then, is against not only the farmers in that particular county, but the farmers in all the counties where farm bureaus exist.

A county Farm Bureau will not grow if left to itself. It must have the support of its membership—not a half-hearted interest, but the live and active enthusiasm of men and women who are working together for a common purpose.

First of all, therefore, a county Farm Bureau must have membership. Next in importance is a definite program of work. Then leaders are essential to carry out and direct the program. Without a sound financial policy any organization with the best coordination of membership, work and leaders would find its hands tied. Here then are four factors necessary to the successful operation of any county farm bureau: membership, program, leaders, money.

Every cent of the Farm Bureau's income is from the dues of its members. It has no other source of income and never has been on any other basis. The Farm Bureau's surplus energies depend upon the fund provided by the farmers themselves. If it is ever to reach any proportions, do its work well, develop the agricultural business, fulfill its possibilities, it must have finances, just as John Smith must have financial resources and credit at the bank in order to run his farm successfully and take his place in the community.

When you pay your membership fee you are merely making a personal investment. It isn't the national, state or county organization to which you are paying your dues after all. It is to yourself. The Farm Bureau is you and your neighbors. You make it. It belongs to you. No one in the world can take it away from you. It is yours to make organization as an individual service organization, or what you will.

A Farm Bureau is not unlike other organizations—it will not thrive unless it is run according to business principles. Agriculture is the farmers' business and the Farm Bureau—his official organization—must have that same financial soundness that makes business in general successful.

Many of our members are in arrears for dues. If you have not paid yours, come in and settle up. Then ask your neighbor if he has paid his dues. Let us all pull together—start off with a paid up membership—ready to take hold and carry out some of the projects which we have in view and which will benefit every farmer in the county.

Looking into the future I believe that the great need of the Farm Bureau is a better understanding among the membership of the work that is being done in the county and state and in the nation. It is much harder for the average farmer who is busy with his many duties to get a close-up view of the Farm Bureau than for him who is in daily contact with the office. We need more interest and enthusiasm among our project leaders and others in touch with the Farm Bureau and through them spread the interest in every county.

In the next issue of the News I'll try to have more stuff pertaining to membership, program and leaders.

State Farm Bureau

We, the members of the state Farm Bureau executive committee and county presidents in conference assembled for the purpose of considering matters of importance to the Farm Bureau, believe the tax question to be of vital importance, at the present time, and wish to make recommendations, endorsements and objections of the state tax committee's report.

Sec. 1. We endorse the establishment of a state tax commission of three members to be appointed by the governor for a term of years and at sufficient salaries to attract high class men and a thorough revision of our system of tax administration under the control of this tax commission.

Sec. 2. We endorse the introduction of assessment at full value with proper safeguards against local extravagance during the transition.

Sec. 3. We endorse the most careful economy and efficiency in public expenditures on the part of state, county and local officials.

Sec. 4. We endorse the assessment of all public utilities by the proposed state tax commission.

Sec. 5. We endorse the equalization of all assessments by the proposed state tax commission and the abolition of the present ex-officio board of equalization.

Sec. 6. We endorse the administration of the inheritance tax by the proposed state tax commission.

Sec. 7. We endorse the increase of the filing fees and annual license taxes on corporations with the amendment that the annual license tax be on a graduated scale, and further that no non-profit corporation be affected by this change.

Sec. 8. We reject the increase of the tax on fuel oil used in internal combustion engines to 3 cents per gallon.

Sec. 9. We disapprove of the increase of fees charged by various county offices sufficient to make these offices self-sustaining.

Sec. 10. We reject the establishment of a highway tribunal under the highway department for the purpose of securing more vigorous action against those who violate the highway law and propose that we make the present law more effective instead.

Sec. 11. We endorse restriction of the personal exemption to household goods and personal apparel.

Sec. 12. We endorse more strict construction of the exemption of cemeteries.

Sec. 13. We endorse the regulation of the maturity of bond issues in accord with the life of the improvement financed thereby and the use of serial bonds to prevent refunding.

Sec. 14. We reject the program of reforestation through tax adjustment. A constitutional amendment probably will be necessary to secure the full benefits of this program. We recommend instead that logged off lands be taxed in accordance with the value asked for in the sale of these lands by the logging companies.

Sec. 15. We endorse the extension of the jurisdiction of the department of public works to all motor vehicles using the highways, and the adjustment of the schedule of fees to a level that will make this division of the department self-sustaining. Consideration of a gross earnings tax on commercial motor vehicles when all have been brought under the jurisdiction of the department.

Sec. 16. We endorse the taxation of intangible property.

Sec. 17. We endorse the introduction of a gross earning tax for telegraph companies.

Sec. 18. We endorse the centralized assessment of the property of all public utilities by the proposed state tax commission.

Sec. 19. We reject the introduction of a mortgage recording tax of 50 cents on each one hundred dollars, to apply to all mortgages in excess of $1500.

We consider that an ill conceived move on the part of some with the intent to consolidate the extension service with the state department of agriculture is inimicable to the best interests of the public and especially the farmers.

GLENDALE NEWS

F. B. Schmid, Representative

Last Sunday marked a very pleasant birthday party in honor of Mrs. Bertha Traan, better known as "Grandma Traan," at the home of Mrs. M. C. Garthe as Mrs. Traan's home was inadequate to accommodate a crowd. Mrs. Traan was quietly invited up to Mrs. Garthe's and here the entire community gathered to pay their respect to her on the anniversary of her 60th birthday. Grandma Traan was certainly surprised; she never expected to see the whole community gather together in her honor, an invalid, who is not able to get around save on crutches. The crowd to show their appreciation of her, presented her with a fine aluminum cooking set. Rev. J. O. Rosand gave an elegant address on life, commenting that every birthday represented a milestone of our life. Every one brought a basket full of lunch along; Mrs. Garthe got the coffee, and a jolly feast they all had.

Postoffice Department Wants to Give Service

Perfect packages in the mails facilitate their handling and delivery in good condition to the addressee. Mail better packages for your own benefit.

If your package is worth sending, it is worth good wrapping and packing.

1. Wrap with tough paper.
2. Tie with stout cord.
3. Write or print a plain address with ink.
4. Attach address to article itself inside the wrapper.
5. Place return address in upper left corner.
6. Inclose articles liable to breakage in corrugated paper or wooden boxes and pack in excelsior or similar substance.
7. If contents are perishable or fragile mark the package conspicuously or have mailing clerk do it for you.
8. Think of the miles it must travel rubbing up against other parcels, handled and rehandled.
9. When ready to mail, give it the "once over" for address, inside address, return address, stamps, wrapper, packing.
10. Mail it early.
11. Insure it.

But the Home Paper Told It!

"Wasn't it fine about Priscilla getting honors in her school work last term?" said Mrs. Smith to Mrs. Brown. "What?" asked Mrs. Brown. "I didn't know about it."

"But it was in the Home Town Paper," replied Mrs. Smith. "Don't you take it?" "No," said Mrs. Brown, "but I am going to."

And she did, for this is a true story.

As much a part of the community life as is the school or church is the Home Town Paper.

The Examiner is your home paper.
