NEWS IN COLVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Martindale of Wenatchee, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keller and family of Addy, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Saylor and family of Addy and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knauss spent the Christmas holidays at the home of D. J. Knauss.

Mrs. L. E. Critchett of Northport has been visiting at the home of her daughter Mrs. R. S. Wells.

Mrs. Claude Smith left for Spokane Thursday upon receipt of a message that her father J. H. Jackson was seriously ill. Mr. Jackson died at 5:30 p. m. on the same day, before Mrs. Smith's train reached Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Van Buren entertained at Christmas dinner for Miss Ruth Burns of Grand Forks, B. C. A pleasing surprise on Christmas to Mrs. Van Buren was a beautifully trimmed tree given her by her neighbor Mrs. L. P. Stewart. Mrs. Van Buren has been ill for the last week.

Miss Mildred Campbell will enter the University of Washington next week.

The past week has seen warm weather, some rain, and the disappearance of most of the snow from the Colville valley. Snow now runs from 2 to 4 inches in depth. The Spokane valley is free from snow, but there is some snow from Dean north.

D. H. Kimple left yesterday for Kennewick on account of the serious illness of his brother William Kimple.

Prof. E. C. Durdle and family left Thursday for South Bend where he takes the position of county agent.

Mrs. Ella Droz had a family Christmas dinner Monday, among those present being Alfred, Dan and Roy Droz and families, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Fain and daughter, and Wilbur Copp. All went to the home of Dan Droz for the Christmas tree in the evening.

In the basketball games at the gym Thursday night, the Colville second team beat the high school alumni 16 to 15, and the Colville high school was victor over Vera by a score of 20 to 14.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Maylotte returned from Spokane Friday where they spent Christmas with relatives.

For good food and fair prices you can't beat the Tray Tavern Cafeteria in Spokane.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST
(Evangelist C. F. Rider)

A capacity audience filled the auditorium of the new Congregational church Sunday evening to witness the "Christmas Pageant" given by the pupils of the Sunday school under the direction of the superintendent, W. C. Keller, assisted by Mrs. McCord, Mrs. Keller, Mrs. Crewse, Mrs. Priday and several others. The stage was effectively draped with white, the upper part representing the sky glittering with myriads of stars, whose silvery light was reflected from heaps of snow and icicles that sparkled in the dim light. Forty little girls dressed as angels occupied the back of the platform and sang choruses from all the Christmas hymns known and loved by every one. The first part of the pageant was "the Angels and the Shepherds," and included the choruses, appropriate scriptural recitations and the dialogue of the shepherds given by several boys. The second part represented the visit of the Magi to the manger led by the star which shone over the place where the young child lay.

At the close of the pageant, a service entitled "White Gifts for the King" was given, each class contributing gifts of money, food or clothing for the needy. An abundance of fruits, vegetables, meats, cakes and sacks of flour were donated by the classes, even the tiny children giving an apple or an orange, thus emphasizing the true spirit of Christmas which means giving instead of wondering what one will receive. During the offertory played by Mrs. Lloyd Dodson, the audience contributed a substantial gift of silver and many returned the white envelopes which had been distributed during the past week which contained a promise of a gift of "self, service and substance" to the church and Sunday school during the coming year.

Chester Skeels, Fred and Hezie Skeels, directors of the Marble Valley school, were in town Tuesday to employ a teacher for their school, Miss Florence Hanna having resigned. They secured Mrs. Heaton of Colville, an experienced teacher, who will begin teaching Jan. 1.

Cooperative Marketing by the Farm Bureau

Coordination on a national basis under the leadership of the American Farm Bureau federation of all cooperative marketing associations, numbering several thousand in this country, was approved by the adoption of a resolution at the fourth annual meeting of the Farm Bureau federation at Chicago in December. The federation will send a committee to Washington to present the stand taken by the federation before a meeting of more than 200 cooperative associations. Coordination of all such organizations into a comprehensive program, directed by a staff of experts under the guidance of the federation and followed by an intensive campaign throughout the country in behalf of cooperative education, is called for by the resolution.

More than $1,000,000 business was done by such organizations last year, federation officials pointed out, and a unification of these organizations would greatly increase this amount they said.

This resolution was preceded by another calling for a conference of egg and poultry producers to effect the establishment of centralized cooperative sales agencies. The presentation of these resolutions followed a program of marketing in which the various subjects were discussed.

It was declared that more than one-half of the livestock of the country was being produced in less than carload lots and the producer was at the mercy of the local country buyer or speculator.

The cooperative marketing movement has progressed so far in the fruit and vegetable lines that a national program, started January 1, 1922, has increased rapidly in its scope. About 140 sales offices are maintained at the various carlot markets.

NOT A PROFITABLE FAMILY

"So you've lost that family you've been attending for several years," said one doctor to another.
"Yes," he replied, "they've changed over to Doctor Green. 'But I'm just as pleased.'
"Weren't they good pay?"
"Oh, they paid their little bill regularly enough, but there wasn't one among 'em who would ever consent to have an operation."—Detroit Free Press.

Worth Knowing.
"My dear," said Mr. Bibbles, "I don't want to object to your friends, but Mrs. Wopplit is quite impossible."
"I thought so, too, before I got well acquainted with her," replied Mrs. Bibbles, "but she is really quite a charming woman, and she tells me Mr. Wopplit is an expert in making home brew."

"Well, well. I guess we ought to be neighbors. We'll run over together this evening and ask how they are."

On Duty.
"Some of those street beggars are pathetic looking objects."
"Not more pathetic looking than the men who hang about the entrances to auditoriums and wait to escort their wives home from highbrow lectures. The way those unfortunates pace the sidewalks, stare at electric signs, read last week's lithographs on the billboards and chew meditative cigars would melt a heart of stone."

CUPIDITY FINDS A WAY
She—The man I marry must have a fortune equal to mine.
He—That's easily fixed. Make over half of yours to me.

Never.
The dietitian's broth came in, I gave a whoop.
"Mother made nothing quite so thin And called it 'soup'."

Lesson in Business.
"Pop!"
"Yes, my son."
"What is a gardener?"
"A gardener is a man who raises a few things, my boy."
"And what is a farmer?"
"A man who raises a lot of things."
"Well, what is a middleman, pop?"
"Why, he's a fellow who raises everything, my son."

The Living Present.
"Your name," exclaimed the admiring constituent, "will echo down the corridors of time."
"I don't demand that much," said Senator Sorghum, much affected. "All I ask is that my services may be considered sufficiently worthy to keep my name mentioned in the various political conventions."

Reducing His Ego.
"What's the cause of this traffic congestion?"
"A man who is the power in the community is having an argument with a traffic policeman."
"Getting any results?"
"Yes. He doesn't know it now, but the experience is doing him a lot of good."

Family Economy.
"So you are going to have your boy study law?"
"Yes," answered Farmer Cornstossel. "Josh is always gettin' into some kind o' trouble and instead of hiring lawyers for him I might as well teach him to protect his ownself."

SHARING THE HONORS.
Visitor—So you are going to speak a piece in school?
Bobby—No; only a piece of a piece. I'm in a dialogue.

The World's Show.
I wish that taxes they would out Until the lot were ended. But I'd like to be a deadhead. But The free list is suspended.

The Modern Idea.
"The man who is always ready to seize an opportunity is great."
"Yes, but the man who can seize what somebody else has made out of an opportunity is greater."

Strictly Biz.
"Party just asked to be directed to a lady barber."
"After a flirtation, I suppose?"
"No, this was a bearded lady."

Question.
"My rubber plant is ailing."
"Well!"
"Should I take it to a druggist or a florist?"

On Limitations of Leaving.
Stella—Great questions are being settled by conferences.
Bella—Then why don't they hold one on how to keep cooks?

Fastest Pursuit Plane in World Gives America War Mastery of Sky

Skeleton View of New Curtiss Pursuit Plane, Showing Metal Construction.

The test performance of a new Curtiss Pursuit Plane has caused a sensation in the Army and Navy services. Ever since the Pulitzer Race at Detroit, in which a new all-American motor finished in the first four places, it has been expected that military planes of a super-type would make their appearance at almost any time. The actual performance of the first pursuit ship of a series surpasses expectation.

In many respects, this aeroplane is a departure from precedent. It uses the same Curtiss motor used in the racing ships at Detroit. It is equipped with wing radiators, the most radical advance in the art of cooling a motor since 1917, and which reduces the resistance of the air almost to zero. These features were expected. The construction, however, is said to possess, also, a new feature, in that the entire machine can be stored for a period of twenty years, if necessary, and taken out of storage, ready to assemble and fly on twenty-four hours' notice. This machine is also stated to be the first real fighting ship of all-American construction and design. While tests are not completed, expert opinion is that it is not only the fastest, but also the most powerful fighting ship in existence in any nation today.
