

ANOTHER PILGRIMAGE OF DONKHOBERS

A Woman Fanatic Exhorts Believers To Start Out Again—Exodus Checked.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 19.—Ever since the Dukhobor outbreak of a year ago, when over two thousand started on a pilgrimage in search of Jesus, only to be called to a halt by the mounted police, ran into a corral and bundled off to their homes in guarded trains, the religious excitement has been smouldering in the faraway villages of the colony of the strange Russian sect.

Several times has it blazed forth in incipient crusades, but the presence of the police and the growing influence of the more enlightened of Dukhobors have prevented a repetition of a crusade of equal magnitude.

About a week ago a woman agitator named Sophia Storboloff managed to secure a following in the settlement back of the Swan river. The men were away at work in the fields some miles from their homes, and in their absence she wrought up the females to such a pitch that they discarded all their clothing and prepared to follow her on the journey to Christ. They formed a procession, and, chanting the weird dirge-like hymns of their sect, deserted their homes and all.

Word was conveyed to the men at work and they followed the women to secure a speedy return. Words were of no avail and resort was had to force. The men used the whips they had for their horses and oxen, and the naked cortege was soon broken and in homeward flight. Many of women were badly injured by the blows of the lashes which fell indiscriminately on their bodies, and they were cowed into obedience. The woman leader was treated to a severe castigation before she was turned adrift from the settlement.

The work of Peter Veregin, the great Dukhobor leader who came from Russia last winter has done much to dissipate the religious mania and nearly all the men have become more rational. The women are still under religious influence, and have to be kept down with a strong hand.

HE ACCUSES A PRIEST.

Waterbury, Conn., Aug. 19.—Louis Strucks has brought suit against the Rev. Joseph F. Senesac, pastor of St. Ann's Roman Catholic church in this city, for $10,000. Strucks charges Father Senesac with alienating the affections of his wife.

Mrs. Strucks is a pretty woman of 26. Her husband is nearly 50. Father Senesac is a handsome man of 38. Strucks in his complaint says his wife first met the priest at a church fair in Hartford in the winter of 1900. He declared the wrong doing of the pair began Aug. 1, 1900, and has continued up to the present time.

He says that when he first discovered it he drove his wife from his home and started to shoot the priest. Friends who learned of his plan, prevented the shooting. He adds that he brings suit only in order that Father Senesac may be exposed and punished.

Father Senesac, who comes of an old Montreal family and who has made several pilgrimages to Rome, was declared not at home when a reporter called at the parochial residence. His intimate friends in the parish declare that the charges were untrue.

SMUG EMBEZZLER

STOLE $138,000.

Boston, Aug. 19.—It has been discovered that William S. Allen, the embezzling treasurer of the Methodist Preachers' Aid society, also took $8000 of the funds of the Methodist Historical society, of which he was trustee. This brings the total of his embezzlement from Methodist organizations up to $118,000. Before he fled he borrowed $20,000 from friends. It is generally believed his losses in Wall street were not heavy, and that he took with him fully $75,000.

Following the clew furnished by Lewis S. Cates of this city, who reported having seen Allen at Rochester, N. Y., Thursday, the Boston police believe they are squarely on the track of the fugitive.

ON EQUAL FOOTING

Eastern Teachers Are Given No Advantage.

Salem, Or., Aug. 18.—The State Board of Education has recently made a ruling which will prevent the graduates of normal schools of other states from securing state papers in this state, unless they have passed state examinations the same as are now required of graduates of Oregon normal schools.

The reason for this is that the board will not give to certificates and diplomas of other states a higher credit than is given to similar papers in this state. This ruling is in a measure a matter of protection to the Oregon teacher, who is required to take state examination whenever his or her graduation may be. In announcing the ruling, the state board gave out the following brief statement:

"The state board of education is not authorized to indorse a state paper from another state, unless it was secured in consequence of an examination conducted by state authorities of the state issuing the paper. In other words, a state paper issued from an institution of learning cannot be indorsed by the Oregon State Board of Education.

"If applicants would bear the above ruling in mind, when making applications for state papers, much time and annoyance to all concerned would be avoided."

It often occurs that a teacher comes to Oregon from an eastern state and has a state diploma secured in pursuance of graduation from a state normal school after an examination before members of the faculty of the faculty of the school. Such teachers apply to the state board of education for a state paper in Oregon upon the credit of the paper they already hold. The law upon the subject authorizes the board to grant state papers upon the credit of such papers from another state, "provided the board is satisfied that said papers were secured by passing an examination equivalent to that given by the state papers."

Teachers who come here from the east put a liberal construction upon the word "equivalent," but the State Board of Education, being the state judge in the matter, holds that "equivalent" means not only that the examination must not only be upon satisfactory subjects, but that the examination must have been conducted by state authorities.

Any more liberal rule would be giving to graduates of normal schools in other states privileges which are not granted to graduates of normal schools in this state, and this the board will not do.

OFFICERS BLOW DEADLY.

Seattle.—Coleman Tierney, a sailor between Seattle and Alaska on the steamer Spokane, was killed by Patrolman W. H. Searing, in the basement of the White House saloon. H. O. Fuhrberg, the proprietor, who tried to get the man to leave, was struck a blow and called the officer. On his arrival, after repeatedly requesting the sailor to move, Tierney began an onslaught on Searing. The latter drew his handcuffs and dealt Tierney a blow on the side of the head, fracturing his skull, from which instant death resulted.

Tierney was 6 feet 1 1/2 inches in height, weighed 216 pounds and was a giant in strength. He had been drinking.

LAWYERS TO HOLD

ANNUAL SESSION.

State Bar Association to Meet Next Week.

Tacoma, Aug. 19.—The annual meeting of the State Bar association will open here Tuesday, August 25, and last three days. The association has 200 members, and President Hudson expects 175 of these to be present. The business will consist of the reports of officers, the reading of papers by members and others and discussions. A committee on entertainment has provided for several social features to vary the monotony of legal papers and discussions. The meeting will be opened, according to the arrangement of the program, by the annual address of the president. Following this will be the report of the officers of the association, and the report of the executive committee, which consists of all the officers of the association. New members will also be elected on the first day. Hon. Thomas Burke, of Seattle, will make the only address other than that of the president on the opening day, his subject being "The Life and Character of John B. Allen."

The second day of the meeting reports will be made by the committees on jurisprudence, on judicial administration and remedial procedure, on legal education and admission to the bar, on commercial law, on uniformity of state laws, on grievances. Papers will also be read on that by Frank D. Nash, of Tacoma, on "Street Assessments;" John T. Congdon, of Seattle, on "A Theory of Legal Obligation;" Judge J. B. Reavis, of Tacoma, on "Taxation of Franchises;" N. T. Caton, of Davenport, on "Some Pioneer Judges I Have Known." A smoker, with refreshments and speeches, will be given at the Tacoma hotel on the evening of the second day's session.

The committee on publication and on obituaries will report Thursday. Officers will be elected and also delegates to the American Bar association. J. Frank Browne, of Seattle, will read a paper on "The Use and Abuse of the Labor Union." All of the business, the reports and discussions will be wound up at the morning session Thursday, and in the afternoon the members of the association will be given a trolley ride to Spanaway park, where bathing, boating and other diversions will be provided.

The officers of the association are: President, R. G. Hudson, of Tacoma; first vice president, William A. Peters, of Seattle; second vice president, P. F. Quinn, of Spokane; third vice president, Edward Whitson, of North Yakima; secretary, Eugene G. Kreider, of Olympia; treasurer, Nathan S. Porter, of Olympia.

HE CAPTURES A BURGLAR.

Coffax Man Gets Good Grip on Thug's Collar!

Coffax.—A daring capture of a bold burglar was made shortly after midnight by O. L. Cave, one of the proprietors of the City Bakery and Lodging house. Mr. Cave was awakened by hearing someone in his room, which is over the bakery. He leaped out of bed and saw two men, who ran out of the door and down into the alley in the rear of the building. Cave followed and overtook one of the men in the alley and seized him by the collar. The man scuffled for a short time, but finally surrendered and Mr. Cave marched him up the street until he found Deputy City Marshal Mackay, to whom he gave the prisoner.

The man gave his name as Frank Hennessey, and is a tough looking individual. It is believed he and his partner came to town with the circus and remained here to work. He was taken to the county jail and will be charged with burglary. Cave lost a valuable watch and chain, but these were not found on the prisoner, and it is thought his pal got the jewelry. Mr. Cave, when seen, did not appear to think he had done anything out of the way in capturing a burglar.

A LIBERAL OFFER.

Domestic—Please, sir, the grocer and butcher and baker and milkman are downstairs and they say they won't leave until they are paid. Mr. McAuber—Hem! Very well; tell them that if they will continue to supply me with provisions, they are welcome to stay here and board it out.

Ethel—Yes! The poor chap has lost his money but not his friends. Edith—Ah! That is what you might call a double misfortune.

POOR CIGARS SOLD AS NOTED BRAND

U. S. Internal Revenue Agents Make One Arrest and Expect More—Retailer Is Accused of Selling Imitation Cremos.

The arrest of Henry Silberstone, a cigar dealer, charged with having refilled cigar boxes, marked the beginning of a war that will be waged by the United States Internal Revenue agents against dealers all over the city who have been engaged in similar practices.

Silberstone is alleged to have bought several boxes of "Cremos" cigars, and after selling the genuine article at the regular price, refilled the boxes with a cheaper article, which he sold at eight for 25 cents, explaining his customers that the only difference in the cigars was in the matter of the bands.

A cigar manufacturer interested in the case said:

"Substitution of cigars or refilling of boxes has been going on for some time. We have spent thousands of dollars advertising one particular brand of cigars, and it is the name of this cigar that has been illegally used. The bands were placed upon our goods to protect our customers against just such a fraud. The Federal authorities expect a number more of arrests shortly."

ELOPERS COME TO GRIEF.

The Men Arrested for Horse Stealing The Girls Also Locked Up.

Carlyle, Ill., Aug. 19.—Two gay young Lochinvars are in jail here, charged with horse stealing, while the girls with whom they ran away, are detained until their parents can be heard from. Rosa and Flossie Williams, of Carmi, Ill., are the girls.

The youths, who give the names of Harry Williams and Paul Holland, were until recently performers with John Robinson's circus. They hired a team and carriage in Vincennes and accompanied by the girls, whose parents are well to do, started for St. Louis.

When the quartette arrived here they were penniless. It is believed the girls were infatuated with the circus performers, who induced them to run away from home.

SAW DEPUTY ABUSE CONVICT.

Sensational Charge Brought to Light in Ortoff's Case.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 19.—Pursuant to legal advice, Michael Egan abandoned an autopsy upon the remains of Frank Ortoff, the Wyoming stage robber and leader of the recent jail break, whose body was found hanging in a cell Saturday morning.

The allegations were made that Ortoff's suicide was due to terrible punishment inflicted at the jail, it being alleged in a signed statement made by Edward Dorval, chief operator of the Western Union, that he had seen a deputy sheriff stamp upon the prisoner's stomach until the shackled man became unconscious.

Coroner Egan declares that the question of Ortoff's treatment by the jailer is a matter for the county commissioners, and not for him to investigate, as it has been proven beyond a doubt that death was directly due to the suicide. It is stated that the federal authorities will order an autopsy, as Ortoff was a United States prisoner, charged with robbing the mails of stages.

IT IS NOT A BATH TUB.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—"This aquarium is for tadpoles and fishes and is not intended as a swimming pool for students."

This notice on a large placard was tacked to a tree near the new aquarium on the university of Chicago campus today.

The beautiful $6000 home for the tadpoles, frogs and fishes is almost completed. The basins were filled with water Monday evening.

This little lake, with its cool water, proved tempting to a number of men who live in Hitchcock hall and after dark Tuesday night they went over in to Hull court, where the aquarium is located and had a refreshing plunge. Hence the sign on the tree.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
