A BENEFIT PERFORMANCE.

At the request of the local lodge of Eagles Manager Rasmus of Shields' park has generously consented to give a benefit performance Tuesday night to raise funds to aid Mrs. Bertha Kober, who recently underwent a severe surgical operation at the Walla Walla hospital. Mrs. Kober and her husband, Walter Kober, are professional acrobats and aerial performers and are well known all over the United States. Their clever and winsome little daughter Irene is employed by the Shields' company as a contortionist and soloist and she is a prime favorite with the crowds that nightly attend the entertainments at the park. No doubt the benefit performance will be liberally patronized, as the object is a most worthy one.

KOBER BENEFIT.

A grand benefit at Shields park tonight will be tendered to the "Kober family" by the local lodge of Eagles and the Shields park management. An unusually strong bill will be presented. Aside from the regular bill some volunteer talent will appear. The bill at Shields' park for this week is one of the best yet given. The Harrison Bros. in their laugh-provoking comedy sketch, "A Matrimonial Agency" made a decided hit last night and will be strong favorites for the week. The Leons in their startling aerial act was a surprise and delight to all. Their act is most thrilling, showing how daring feats can be performed with the utmost confidence. Don't fail to see them. May and Baby Owens in their captivating and sweet honeymoon act won the hearts of all. Little Baby Owens is certainly one of the greatest child artists now before the public and the children of the city cannot afford to miss an evening with this clever little artist. Irene Kober sang the illustrated songs with pleasing effect. The management announced Thursday night as amateur night; Friday night as children's night; when two children under the age of 12 years will be admitted free when accompanied by one adult. This is for the purpose of having the children of the city meet the two child artists Baby Owens and little Irene Kober, a formal reception will be held on the stage at the close of the performance. Come and bring the children.

PASSES.

Almost simultaneously with the announcement that Senator Tillman had been so unfortunate as to lose his railroad passes came the story of a new representative in congress from Maryland named Baker, who, in a manner not altogether free from ostentation and vulgarity, took occasion to return an annual pass offered him by the B. & O. railroad. He contended that it was a bribe. Last winter, it will be recalled, many members of the Montana legislature indignantly returned the passes sent them by the Northern Pacific because instead of being annuals, they were limited to sixty days; or, according to Representative Baker's theory, because the recipients of the sixty-day passes weren't being bribed hard enough. All of which recalls the story of a Kansas legislator who started an agitation for purity in politics. "Fellow legislators," said he on the opening day of the legislature, standing up for a speech and putting on a look of righteous determination, "let us make this session long to be remembered by having it wholly free from any taint of dishonesty." He made a long speech in this strain and ended by stepping up to the stenographer's table and laying down a railroad pass. "In order to back my words with deeds," he concluded, "I will lay down my pass on this table; and I urge every other member of this legislature who stands for clean government to step up and do likewise." Not a soul stirred. The speaker watched them for a few moments with a triumphant gleam in his eye. Presently, when everybody had had a chance to lay down his pass and nobody had improved it, he burst out: "Not an honest man in the chamber! Very well. You thought you had me, didn't you? Well, you haven't. That's last year's pass."—Anaconda Standard.

TAKEN FOR A BURGLAR.

Well Known Linotype Operator Met With Exciting Experience Yesterday Afternoon.

To be taken for a bold bad burglar fleeing from justice was the rather amusing experience of William Myers linotype operator on the Union yesterday afternoon, as he stepped from the O. R. & N. train after a brief visit to Spokane. Earlier in the day the sheriff's office received a dispatch from Spokane asking that a lookout be kept for a stranger who was charged with burglarizing a Co-fax store the night before. The dispatch said the man would probably be on the Spokane train due in Walla Walla at 4 o'clock.

Acting upon instructions Deputy Kees and Ben Gilliam were on hand and as Mr. Myers stepped down from the train he was collared. Appreciating the fact that the officers had made a mistake, Mr. Myers resolved to have a little fun out of the incident, and, began answering in a rather hazy manner, questions the officer commenced firing at him, regarding his identity and where he hailed from. The joke was carried so far that the officers bundled him into a hack and started for the jail. It was then that Mr. Myers demanded that he be taken to the Union office where the manager no doubt would establish his identity. The request was complied with and the result was that the officers were the victims of a good-sized "horse laugh" when he was pronounced a law-abiding citizen.

we Urge You

If you are thinking of buying soon, to visit the store while our Cleanup Sale is still on. Don't want you to regret after a while that you overlooked it.

If you want BED ROOM SUITES

for instance, you surely would not like to miss this kind of pricing:

Mahogany finished bed room suite, three pieces—bed, dresser and commode. Bed is 4 feet 6 inches wide and 6 feet high. Dresser top is 18 inches by 39 inches. Dresser has three large drawers, each fitted with lock, and has beveled French plate mirror 20 by 24 inches. A tasty yet simple design of mounted carving—not the cheap embossing—ornaments the bed and dresser. The commode is of usual dimensions and has one large drawer, two doors and a neat splashier and towel holder. These suites were bought to sell for $25, but were slightly chafed in the shipping, hence marked $22.

Cleanup Sale Price $15.75.

Solid oak bed room suite, three pieces, consisting of bed, dresser and commode. Dresser has two large drawers, fitted with drop handles, and two small swell front drawers, each with two gilt knob pulls. All drawers fitted with locks. Two top drawers have quarter sawed oak fronts. Has beveled French plate mirror 20 by 24 inches. Bed is 4 feet 6 inches wide and 6 feet high. Has heavy cap on foot board and neat carving on head. Commode has one large drawer, two doors and a neat splashier holder. Dresser has neatly shaped double top, size 18 by 40 inches. Solid oak, mind you, neatly finished.

For this Cleanup Sale only $19.50.

Twenty other styles are here at all prices from $14.50 to $150.

Dutch Auction Stock

has dropped another point. Some sudden changes are due to take place very soon. That most of these articles should remain in our window a single hour at present prices seems incredible, but people will take chances. Will the aftermath bring regrets or rejoicings?
