The first meeting of the Associated Students of Whitman college will be held next Wednesday morning when important business will be transacted.

Tales of big trout teeming in the Walla Walla river will attract a number of Walla Walla fishermen to that stream tomorrow morning. The stream has reached its normal stage and fishing is said to be excellent.

Prof. O. A. Hauerbach, formerly of Whitman college, is now managing editor of the Municipal News association of New York, located in the Postul building. The association sends out literature regarding municipal improvement.

The reception to new students at Whitman college tendered by the two Christian associations last night was well attended. The chapel was prettily decorated in golden red. Owing to lack of time the program prepared with the exception of one number was omitted. Refreshments in the form of fruits were served during the evening.

Farmers of Franklin County
Will Sow Fall Wheat.

IEWS OF DR. R. S. JOHNSON

More Intelligent Farming Methods
Will Be Employed All Over New County Next Year.

"Farmers of Franklin county learned by bitter experience this year that fall sown wheat is the only safe crop for the new county, at least for a time until the ground becomes thoroughly cultivated," said Dr. R. S. Johnson this morning, who is in Walla Walla for a few days from his Franklin county ranch. "As a consequence next year's crop will consist principally of fall wheat.

"It is true Franklin county had a short wheat crop this year, much shorter in fact than some people suppose, but for all that farmers are not discouraged. They are only disappointed. The pronounced shortage in the year's rainfall was responsible in a great degree for the short crop, though in many instances the land was not properly cultivated. This became apparent when fields properly cultivated lying alongside of those which had been merely plowed produced much better crops. Next year will see much more intelligent methods employed all over the county. The result will be that with a normal rainfall Franklin county will show up a banner crop."

Dr. Johnson reports Connell prospering since moving onto the new townsite. A water system has been installed and now an electric light system is under contemplation.

HEIRS TO FORTUNE.

By the will of Mrs. H. E. Durkee, of Grand Island, Neb., Alan J. Stark, of Walla Walla and two other nephews and two nieces, fall heirs to $17,000. Alan J. Stark and Viola Dederman being the favored ones, received $1000 each and their fifth of the remainder. As the young lady named is not of age it will be nearly a year before the division takes place.

Experts at Work on County
Books Have Long Job.

BEEN BUSY SINCE LAST APRIL

Expert Clark Says Work Being Done
Thoroughly and True Statement of Affairs Will Be Given Out.

The work of experting the county books is proving an exceedingly long and tedious job with little prospect of a report being filed for some time yet. Expert Clark is now superintending the work and is being assisted by Accountants Randall and Newell. The work was started last April, but owing to an outside demand for the experts' services little was accomplished during the early summer months. The work so far has cost the county in the neighborhood of $700.

"Owing to the amount of work it is necessary to do it is hard to say when our report will be ready," Expert Clark said this morning. "The books of every county official for a period of a little over six years have to be gone over and this requires time. The work is being done thoroughly in every particular and the true state of the county's books will be embodied in our report."

GERMAN COUNTESS WAS SOCIALIST

Secretly Aided the Cause With Money and Information—Sensation in Berlin.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—The sensation in court circles is the discovery that Countess Adele Oriola, who died recently was secretly a socialist, moved in the highest circles and learned the government secrets from cabinet members. Since her death it is learned that she subscribed immense sums to the socialist propaganda and attended socialist meetings in disguise.
