Women of the Federation Entertained By Addresses and Personal Reminiscences of Pacific Coast Pioneers

The reception given last night in honor of the women who are attending the Federation convention was a brilliant affair. The residence of Mrs. Frances Dooley, where the reception was held was profusely decorated with flowers and ferns and during the evening over 500 people were introduced to the visitors. The spacious parlors of the beautiful residence were thrown open and for over two hours the visitors and guests engaged in conversation while Meckelson's orchestra rendered a choice program of musical numbers. During the evening dainty refreshments were served in the dining rooms. Mrs. P. M. Winans served ices while Mrs. S. B. L. Penrose poured coffee.

Those in the receiving line were Mrs. John L. Sharpstein, Mrs. C. C. Brown, president; Mrs. George H. Tarbell, first vice president; Mrs. William L. Clark, second vice president; Miss Bessie L. Winsor, recording secretary; Mrs. George E. St. John, corresponding secretary; Miss Janet Moore, treasurer.

This morning the delegates attended the chapel services at Whitman college and listened to the program of an organ recital.

The Convention.

At the afternoon session yesterday quite an animated discussion was entered into over a motion made by Mrs. Bessie Savage of Seattle instructing the secretary of the federation to request Governor Mead to fill the vacancy in the board of regents of the University of Washington with a woman. Some of the delegates heartily endorsed the motion while a few were opposed to it. The motion was carried by a vote of 67 to 8.

The report of the membership committee showed that eight new clubs had become members of the federation during the year.

Mrs. Kate T. Holmes, a member of the advisory committee to the state library commission gave a detailed report of the work accomplished to the past year.

The Federation convened this morning after the delegates returned from attending the chapel exercises at Whitman college. After the roll was called and the minutes of Wednesday's session were approved Miss Lulu Paul rendered a pleasing musical number.

Historical Program.

Professor W. D. Lyman of Whitman college was introduced to the Federation and he made an interesting and entertaining address on "The Value of Historical Material in Our State." He commended the Women's Federation for its untiring efforts in gathering and preserving facts and data of a historical nature relative to the Pacific Northwest. The material now being gotten together by the women, the speaker said, would prove a great benefit for educational purposes, and he urged that the work be carried on until every bit of history of this section of the country had been compiled and filed in archives of the federation.

W. P. Winans, a Walla Walla pioneer, followed Professor Lyman, giving in an entertaining manner many of his personal experiences in the early days. His remarks were listened to with great interest by the members of the convention, who evidenced their appreciation by great applause when the gentleman closed.

James P. Goodhue, the oldest express agent in the Northwest, and a pioneer of Walla Walla, related many reminiscences of pioneer life on the Pacific coast. Some of his personal experiences he related in his usual humorous manner, which proved a great treat for the women of the Federation.

The officers of the Federation then submitted their reports which were read and adopted. The report of Bessie L. Winsor, recording secretary of the Federation was as follows:

Report of Secretary.

"According to Section 10 of the by-laws of the Federation it devolves upon the recording secretary the duty at the end of each year of submitting to the president and the members of a detailed report of the regular meeting. I have taken the liberty of performing this duty by consolidating two reports in one, by filing a duplicate with the president and one in the archives of the Federation.

"I assume that the report required of me is that covering all the proceedings occurring during my term of office.

Men Get More Money

"The first proceedings were that of examining the reports to the Federation of the numerous clubs belonging thereto. A thorough examination was necessary to the preparation of the club directory and published with the last annual report. This work was necessarily delayed by failure of many of the clubs to promptly file their reports with the recording secretary as requested by the president in her call of the last convention. The failure made it necessary for me to request by personal letter the delinquent clubs to make their reports, which, I am pleased to say, resulted in every one responding except that of the Santa Jaunita club of Friday Harbor. Let me express the hope that the reports of all the clubs will be in the hands of the recording secretary before this convention adjourns. In this connection I wish to state that the officers of the Federation are not responsible for the delay in the publication and issue of the last annual report. Such delay was due to the failure above referred to, the neglect of some of the standing committees to file reports.

"The annual meeting of the executive board was held at the home of your recording secretary in Seattle, February 25, 1905, at which time the date for the convention was submitted to the Walla Walla local committee and plans were discussed for said convention.

"Resolutions in regard to the death of Mrs. A. B. Bull, of Tacoma, state chairman of our Musical Committee, were passed by the committee and copies were sent to the family, the press and the organizations with which Mrs. Bull was actively associated, the Tacoma Red Cross Society and the St. Cecilia Musical Club, and which are herewith submitted as a part of the report:

Whereas, The State Federation of Women's Clubs in the death of Mrs. A. B. Bull has lost an enthusiastic supporter and friend, whose services and loyalty were of unquestioned value, and

Whereas, At the state meetings her presence was both a pleasure and an inspiration, and her influence always to be counted upon for any movement affecting the Federation's best interests, and

Whereas, Her work for the Federation was especially important in the Department of Music, of which she was state chairman; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Federation officers on behalf of the organization they represent, express the sorrow generally felt in the death of one so prominently identified with the Federation and offer to the family and relatives sincere sympathy in their bereavement. Be it also

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, the press, the organization with which Mrs. Bull was actively associated—Tacoma Red Cross Society and St. Cecilia Club—and be incorporated in the Federation records.

By the Secretary, Miss Winsor.
 "The executive board also directed your recording secretary to have published in pamphlet form two thousand copies of the articles of incorporation of the Federation, which has been done and they are here for distribution.

"Your recording secretary, in the discharge of her duties, has written 135 letters and one postal card. She has also mailed to date 180 copies of the annual report, 50 of which were sent to the other State Federations, 10 circulars and 26 programs of this convention, and received 131 letters, two postal cards and 19 yearly books.

"I have expended $7.50 and received from the treasurer, Miss Moore, $5.

"Owing to the illness of your corresponding secretary the duties usually performed by her have to a large extent devolved upon your president and recording secretary.

"The annual report of the Federation for 1904-5, as compiled by your president and recording secretary and published under their supervision, has been filed with the custodian of the Federation at Everett.

"Permit me to again express the hope that the club reports and the committee reports will be promptly filed with your recording secretary to expedite the compilation and publication of your next annual report.

"Respectfully submitted,
 "BESSIE L. WINSOR."

Runaway

Circus day was too much for one of our delivery teams and they ran away this morning. As runaways go, they made a pretty fair job of it.

But it didn't quite come up to the way this store runs away from all competition when it comes to selling the choicest Groceries. Because we keep ahead, well, that is the main reason for our great success.

Now's the time to buy Strawberries; prices are going up; they will be off the market in a few more days.
