FARMERS ON BARNES JURY

Men Selected to Decide Fate of Alleged Murderer

DEFENSE ENTERS NEW PLEAS

CLAIM FORMER ACQUITTAL AND RAISE POINT OF TWICE IN JEOPARDY.

THE JURY.

- * A. O. Rowley, retired farmer.
- * Chas. J. Bierman, teamster.
- * E. E. Hennesse, undertaker.
- * P. J. Nelson, farmer.
- * O. M. Shelton, farmer.
- * Anson Patterson, farmer.
- * E. S. Green, farmer.
- * J. F. Davis, farmer.
- * John Edwards, farmer.
- * C. H. Whitman, farmer.
- * Ben Pilcher, retired farmer.
- * W. B. Buffum, flour mill manager.

By the timely arrival of W. B. Buffum and another juror from Prescott in an automobile just before noon, the jury in the Barnes case was completed. The venire had been exhausted and it was only upon the arrival of the two new jurors, dust covered, tired and travel-stained, that the proceedings could continue. The choosing of Mr. Buffum completed the number.

It was only after examining 88 jurors, and after the exercise of all six of the peremptories of the prosecution and 13 by the defense that the above 12 men were chosen to decide the fate of Hezekiah W. Barnes, commonly and better known as "Bud" Barnes, the slayer of Mrs. Anna Aldrich. The defense was allowed an extra peremptory challenge by Judge Brents as they were not satisfied with the jury. At three minutes before 12 a second extra peremptory was allowed them, but they accepted the jury.

The list of jurors was pretty well exhausted when the jury was selected. Once proceedings were stopped, but Quincy Stretch was found and called and the proceedings kept in motion until the arrival of two more jurors from Prescott in an automobile just at the nick of time. W. B. Buffum was one of these and he was immediately placed in the box, where he qualified without trouble. The attorneys for the defense consulted briefly and then announced they would take the jury. As seen by the list of names above the jury is distinctly a "farmers' jury."

The Morning Proceedings.

The proceedings this morning were practically featureless. Bud Barnes sat in his usual place, seemingly little interested in the proceedings. His wife appeared in the room this morning and sat beside him for about two hours. Her presence seemed to brighten the prisoner and he appeared more cheerful than at any time during the second trial.

The following were examined this morning and dismissed for cause: A. L. Wiggins, C. H. Callahan, Joseph H. Stockwell, Robert Talbot, Robert Horn, R. O. Sanlers, T. W. Coflinger and Quincy Stretch were passed for cause and dismissed by peremptory challenge. C. H. Walthman and W. B. Buffum were waived and accepted.

Former Jeopardy Raised.

The plea of former acquittal and former jeopardy was again brought up in a lengthy argument by Attorney Mills. The claim is that as the man was once before in jeopardy for the same offense. The former acquittal by dismissal of the jury while asking for instructions and without the consent of the defendant was also introduced.

Pleas Overruled.

Upon the opening of court this afternoon the attorneys for the prosecution replied to the plea of former jeopardy, claiming that the former jury was asking concerning the punishment Barnes would get if convicted; and not for information that would help them to decide whether or not the prisoner was insane.

Judge Brents overruled the plea and the jury was sworn.

For the prosecution, Otto Rupp has charge of the case; and for the defense Oscar Cain is examining the witnesses.

Mrs. Barnes sits beside her husband, and bears affectionately toward him. "Bud" looks vacantly in front of himself, holding his hands in his chin.

The First Witness.

Issue Page was the first witness put on the stand, although Hollis Conover was called first, but not appearing. Page told of Bud Barnes talking about buying the Aldrich ranch.

Jeff Daggert was called next and again told his long, rambling story, which in every important detail tallied with the testimony he gave before.

President to Attend.

OYSTER BAY, June 25.—President Roosevelt and his wife leave here for Princeton tomorrow afternoon at 1:40. They will go in a special train to Long Island city. A boat will convey them from there to Jersey City, from which place they will continue their journey on another special.

JAP PORTER KILLED.

Hotel Cook Buries Big Knife in Porter's Side.

STOCKTON, Cal., June 25.—Ishu Kansuki, a Japanese porter, was killed in a duel with a cook, Ross Harr, in the kitchen of the Yosemite hotel today. Waitresses say Harr buried a knife three inches wide in the Jap's side. The cook fled.

Tennis Player Injured.

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Miss Mary Brown, the champion tennis player, was one of eight seriously injured in a head-on collision of electric cars in the northern section of the city today. She had a narrow escape from fatal injuries.

FUNERAL TO BE HELD TOMORROW

WITH SIMPLE SERVICES FORMER PRESIDENT WILL BE BURIED.

PRINCETON, June 25.—The funeral services of former President Cleveland will be held at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. They will be simple and every wish of Mrs. Cleveland in this respect will be carried out. The line of the cortege will be roped on both sides and guarded by special police to prevent the crowd from breaking through.

It has been arranged for the cortege to pass down Bayard street to Nassau, through Main street, and past the buildings of Princeton university. Details of the service will be announced tonight.

Edward Wilson the sculptor, is today making a death mask of Cleveland. It is feared the mask will not present a good likeness as Cleveland failed greatly in appearance.

The mask will form part of the collection of Princeton university. The pall bearers will be Paul Morton, former secretary of the navy; Commodore E. C. Benedict of New York; Dr. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton; John Hibben, professor of logic, Princeton; Prof. Andrew West, dean of graduated college, Princeton, and President John Finley, of the college of New York City.

The choice of minister will be between Rev. L. C. Baker and Dr. Van Dyke.

A message of condolence was received this morning from Baron Takahira of Japan.

The coffin will be made in simplest design, without decoration. The plate will be plain and bear only the following inscription: "Stephen Grover Cleveland, Born, March 18, 1837. Died, June 24, 1908."

There will be nothing to indicate that he was more than a citizen of the United States.

The obsequies will be in every way designed to carry out the simplicity and unpretentious character of the great man.

Friends of Mrs. Cleveland say she believed he would not have desired any display or show of grandeur; that he would have wished to be buried as a plain citizen of the country he loved, and served in the highest capacity as long as any man was permitted to hold its greatest office.

Mrs. Cleveland is bearing up well. The city is filled with visitors, the majority of whom come to attend the funeral. The widow received more telegraphic messages than are usually handled by the office here in weeks. Many messages come from all parts of the world and from every corner of the country.

WHITE ELEPHANT ON COMMISSION

INTERSTATE COMMERCE REGULATORS ARE UP AGAINST IT AT NATIONAL CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The interstate commerce commission may be embarrassed considerably in the near future with a large, active, strenuous and loud white elephant, unless its officials can figure out some way in which to sidestep the burden.

At its last session congress delegated to the commission the task of regulating the street car lines of the national capital. Washingtonians brought a lot of pressure on the legislators for a universal transfer system for the city, and demanded a sweeping improvement in conditions. Congress was simply besieged with petitions. And the legislators hadn't time to delve deep into the matter, being so busy connecting gas, rules and listening to roll calls. Therefore the matter was shelved on to the interstate commerce commission, which is now experiencing the same influx of petitions.

Citizens residing in Brightwood, a suburb in the northern part of the city, recently came forward with a vociferous howl for through car service. At the present time they must transfer at the city limits to another car. They demand that the Brightwood Car company give them through car service to downtown points. The Brightwood Car Co. declares this impossible, and asserts they would lose money. The Brightwood suburbanites came out with another petition, asserting the car company was subverting the truth, or words to that effect. The Interstate Commerce commission dutifully forwarded this deft to the company.

Now the Brightwood car people come forth with an astonishing ultimatum. In brief, they declare that if the commission wants to accede to the citizens' demands and run through cars, they can just take the old Brightwood line themselves and run it and see how it works. The officials wash their hands of the affair. Either that, or they swear they will go into voluntary bankruptcy and stop the line altogether.

With the Brightwoodites breathing dire threats and demanding their through cars on one hand, and a car company that professes to be entirely satisfied to hand over the whole shebang, the interstate commerce commission is considerably worried.

BRYAN ON THE FIRST BALLOT

Friends of the Nebraskan Are Confident OTHER CANDIDATES BUSY

SUPPORTERS OF JUDGE GRAY AND GOVERNOR JOHNSON DO NOT GIVE UP FIGHT.

(By Jacob Waldeck.)

DENVER, June 25.—Supporters of Bryan today declared they were sure of at least 750 votes for the Nebraskan on the first ballot and that he will probably have eight hundred. A total of 672 which is two-thirds of the vote in the convention is required to nominate.

The Bryanites say this estimate does not include the New York delegation and declare that Bryan will win despite the efforts of Tammany against him.

The report that Charles Murphy, Tammany chief, and William J. Conroy, of Buffalo, are coming here to oppose Bryan failed to cause fright. The Bryanites say 484 delegates have been instructed for the Nebraskan, that 67 more are pledged, and are confident of more.

Friends of Governor Johnson and Judge Gray, are continuing the fight, denying the claim of the Bryanites.

SAYS "THANKS" TO THE VOTERS

WILLIAM GLASFORD FILES A UNIQUE ACCOUNT OF ELECTION EXPENDITURES.

William Glasford, who was an unsuccessful candidate for the republican nomination for the office of councilman from the First ward, has filed a statement of his ante-election expenses which reads like a political last will and testament. In "Exhibit A" in which the candidate is supposed to enumerate in detail every cent expended in efforts to entice the voter to get in line, Mr. Glasford solemnly says:

"For the love and affection of 101 voters and their votes cast for me on the above date, without fear, favor or reward, and to all those who cast their votes for my opponents, I return my sincere thanks, William Glasford."

Mike Davis, who won the republican nomination for marshal, reported the heaviest expenses, his statement showing a total of $49.50, which included the $18 filing fee. According to the statement, seven men were employed in distributing the chief's cards and he paid them $3 per. Outside of his fee of $18, Nels O. Peterson, also a candidate for the republican nomination for marshal, spent only $5.75, $3.75 of which was for advertising and $2 for a horse and buggy. George Casey spent $25.50, including his $18 filing fee. Emil Sanderson, who got the democratic nomination, paid only his filing fee of $18.

Stirling Heads List.

Neither Councilman McKean, who got the republican nomination for mayor, nor Councilman Tausk, who got the democratic nomination, spent a cent, according to their official statements. W. L. Stirling heads the list of spenders in the aldermanic column. Mr. Stirling was the unsuccessful candidate for the republican nomination for councilman in the Second ward and confesses to expenditures of $42.10, all of which was devoted to advertising in various forms. Of this sum $12.00 went to Uncle Sam for postage. Fritz Lehn who won the nomination in the Second ward spent only $11.65, of which $2.25 went for cards, $3 for letters, $1.45 for envelopes, and $5 for postage. C. H. Hunt spent $5.10 for cards. J. M. Turner, who was the other republican candidate in this ward, alleges that he did not spend a cent. C. M. Taylor, the democratic candidate says, in his statement: "I have not spent one cent."

Albert Neibergall, the republican nominee in the Fourth, confesses to advertising expenses of $9.75, while J. W. Morris, his unsuccessful opponent, had no expenses.

J. A. Dunham confesses to expending $5.50 for cards to secure the nomination in the Third ward, while T. C. Elliott claims it cost him nothing to run in the First.

Bought Lemons.

Charles Berg, unsuccessful candidate for street commissioner, solemnly enumerates the sum of 40 cents, expended for lemons, in his expense account, which included a filing fee of $12. Chris Olson, another unsuccessful aspirant for this office, confesses to blowing in $35 in mailing circulars to the wary voters, while Dan McLeod,

SEATTLE, June 25.—I. A. Nadeau, director-general of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, has issued the following statement:

"The last legislative session passed a law allowing each county in the state to appropriate a sum equal to one-half of one mill of the assessed value of the property in the county, this money to be devoted to exposition purposes. Already fifteen of the thirty-seven counties have appropriated $177,577.41. Many of the other counties will, and in several of them the commissioners meet the first Monday in July, that is July 6 next. If all the counties avail themselves of the privilege of contributing money to see that they are properly represented at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, the sum of $385,000 will be available from this source."

The counties and the sums so far appropriated for this purpose is as follows:

Asotin, $2,033.95;	Chelan, $2,467.94;

BIGGEST SPORTING EVENT OF YEAR IN SEATTLE.

Much Interest Taken in Match of Dr. Roller and Champion Gotch.

SEATTLE, June 25.—Dr. B. F. Roller of Seattle vies with the Totem pole in being an object of interest and pride to Seattle citizens. He is a husky surgeon who enjoys a large practice and took up wrestling as a recreation. There was nothing in the amateur field to make him work hard enough to keep himself warm so he commenced to keep on the professionals. In one year he had defeated all of them except the champion of the world, Gotch, and he goes after that gentleman and his title on July 1. Seattle did not take much stock in him at first but now is thoroughly interested and will fall over itself to get a good seat from which to see Roller go after Gotch next week. It should be a wonderful match.

MEADOWS MURDER CASE.

Mrs. Meadows to Stand Trial for Murder of Her Husband.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 25.—Charged with murder of her husband, because of her alleged infatuation for another man, Mrs. Lila Meadows will be placed on trial tomorrow.

The body of J. R. Meadows, a telephone lineman, was found in a grave near Capitol Hill about a year ago. Mrs. Meadows and her alleged paramour, Rudolph Tegeler, were arrested. The latter has been tried and convicted and sentenced to prison for life.

The prosecution will attempt to show that Tegeler and Mrs. Meadows were seen together on the night Meadows was supposed to have been murdered. Evidence of a startling nature is anticipated.

JOHN W. CUNNINGHAM LOCKED UP IN THE COUNTY JAIL.

Crazed with whiskey and weakened from the effects of a protracted booze, John W. Cunningham of Spokane, was this morning lodged in the county jail with delirium tremens.

Cunningham's is a story the same as that of many other well meaning men. Whiskey is too much for him and he cannot resist it. On June 7 he registered at the State hotel and commenced to sell whiststones on the street. He made considerable money at this business and was doing well. But he made friends as well as money and as he is a good spender his downfall soon came. His friends sent him to the Walla Walla hospital, where he became crazed with the "jimmies" night before last and barricaded his room. With all the portable furniture in the room piled against his door, he threatened the life of anyone who tried to gain entrance. After that he left the hospital and was taken up by the police. He was again taken to the hospital but was so unruly and crazy that they could do nothing with him. Thereupon he was taken to the county jail, where he is recovering from the effects of his terrific spree.

SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN SUFFERING PAIN AS RESULT OF MISTAKE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Mrs. Emilo Lau is in a hospital suffering excruciating pain as a result of drinking a large quantity of furniture polish, which she mistook for cough medicine. She swallowed it early this morning. She may recover.

Populist Convention.

JACKSON, Miss., June 25.—An attempt to revive the populist party in Mississippi, which has been quietly slumbering for six years, will be made today by the handful of Watson followers gathered here today for a state convention. A Watson and Williams electoral ticket will be nominated. The Hearst Independence party has also announced that an electoral ticket will be put in the field in Mississippi. Neither party is taken seriously by the voters at large and it is unlikely that either will poll as large a vote as the socialists.

Illinois Lawyers.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Members of the bar in Illinois assembled this morning at the Chicago Beach hotel for the thirty-second annual meeting of the state association. Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, of Maine, will make the annual address. The Illinois State Attorneys' association is meeting at the same place and will join the bar association in the annual banquet tomorrow night.

Vermont Convention.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 25.—It is likely that Vermont's eight delegates to the Denver convention will go uninducted, although a strong sentiment has developed in favor of Bryan as the presidential nominee. The state convention will be held here tomorrow.

Optical Specialists.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 25.—An address by President H. L. Stokes, of Oskaloosa, Ia., opened the convention of the Optical Specialists' association of America at the Hotel Savoy this morning. Papers will also be read by optical experts who are here from Massachusetts to California.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD

Large Crowd of Religious Students Assembled at East Northfield.

EAST NORTHFIELD, Mass., June 25.—Early arrivals point to the usual vast crowd of religious students at East Northfield this summer, beginning tomorrow with the students' conference, which will last until July 5. Hundreds of students are already here. Aside from the religious instructions, there will be swimming, rowing, tennis, baseball and other athletic sports.

The Young Women's Conference follows that of the students. This conference is not especially designed for college women. This year, however, delegations are expected not only from churches, but also from many colleges and boarding schools, such as Wellesley, the Bobbs Ferry school, and Dana Hall.

The latter half of July is given over to the Women's Home Missionary conference, July 16th to 20th; and the Summer schools, the first for Sunday school workers, July 18th to 25th, and the second for women's foreign missionary societies, July 21 to 28.

The General Conference, July 31 to August 16th, founded by D. L. Moody, is responsible, perhaps, more than any other cause, for the religious atmosphere with which so many thousands of people invest the name of Northfield. This year W. R. Moody has engaged four speakers from abroad. In the singing more than three thousand voices will be joined, under the leadership of Charles Alexander.

HAS BAD CASE OF THE "JIMS"

DISPENSATION IS NOT FORTHCOMING

PRINCE DE SAGAN AND ANNA GOULD MUST WAIT FOR CEREMONY.

LONDON, June 25.—The archbishop of Canterbury today declined to be affected by the piteous appeals of Prince DeSagan and Anna Gould and he has refused to grant a special license. The archbishop refused, and the prince jumped into an automobile and rushed to the French embassy for assistance. The affair has been a big joke here. They must wait until they can comply with the English laws.

READY FOR BIG RACE.

SHOT DOWN WITHOUT TRIAL

TROOPS MOBILIZING FOR SUPPORT OF REVOLUTIONISTS IN STATE OF SEIGE.

TEHERAN, Persia, June 25.—The shah today ordered the execution of all prisoners captured in the uprising of yesterday and wholesale arrests are being made following the order for the death of all participants in the riots.

The shah's troops began arresting early today and in many cases leaders of Ahmijunans and other political clubs were shot without trials.

In some instances homes of revolutionists were broken into and leaders taken from their beds to be killed. The shah is in complete control of the city, but troops are mobilizing north and south to assist the revolutionists.

According to witnesses the first shot around parliament was fired by Ahmijunans. The shah ordered bazaars to be opened or demolished. Teheran is in a state of seige.

Uprising Expected.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 25.—Persian dispatches say rebels are marching on Teheran from the north of Persia, and that the shah has dispatched five thousand soldiers to meet them.

The situation in northern provinces is critical. In the south, Prince Zeiv-e-sultan is reported to be gathering an army to march against the shah's troops. The prince is friendly to Great Britain.

Today's dispatches say a great uprising may be expected against shah in a few days.

HANDCAR TAKES SECOND PRIZE

MEMBER OF SECTION CREW SERIOUSLY INJURED IN RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Hurled violently through the air as a result of the collision last night between O. R. & N. passenger train No. 46 and a hand car carrying the section crew, E. Mathews, one of the crew was seriously injured. Just how badly he is hurt it is impossible to tell, but at present he is at St. Mary's hospital undergoing treatment. He is injured internally.

The crew had just quit work and was returning to the section house when the evening train from Portland, via Pendleton, crashed into the handcar on which the men were riding. The accident happened near Sacks siding.

All the men on the car were thrown off and the car itself was thrown from the track. So terrible was the impact that a crowbar was driven straight into the earth about half its length. All the men were more or less injured, but none seriously except Mathews, who was badly hurt. He was placed on the passenger train and brought to this city where he was at once taken to the hospital. The accident is said to have been due to carelessness on the part of the section gang.

Sherman Improving.

CLEVELAND, June 25.—At 9 o'clock this morning the physicians attending Vice-Presidential Candidate Sherman, announced that the patient was resting easily and was considerably refreshed. He will be in the hospital another week at least.
