Not at His Best

"I was surprised," said the Rev. Mr. Goodman sternly, "to see you playing golf last Sabbath. I should think you'd do better."

"Oh," replied Hardman, "I usually do. I was in wretched form last Sunday."—Philadelphia Press.

Polyglot Surely

Hewitt—Does your wife know more than one language? Jewett—She certainly does. She reads French novels in the original, talks in her sleep in English, discharges the servant in German and converses with our youngest in baby talk.—Exchange.

It Sounded Right

Teacher—Who can complete this sentence, "He went from bad to"—W. H. Fred (who has been abroad with his parents)—Baden-Baden.—New York Press.

The Moral of Playing Cards

Playing cards have had their moral side, it may surprise you to know. At the Blenheim club in London, lecturing on the subject of playing cards from the point of view of the collector, Mr. Alfred Whitman said that the most valuable packs were those that taught Biblical history or inculcated moral lessons. In Italy in the eighteenth century it was customary to issue packs of cards with Old Testament scenes engraved upon them. In Germany of the same period playing cards with fables to which morals were attached were customary. French playing cards of the time of Louis XIV. were used to teach geography and history, while in the England of Elizabeth and the Stuart playing cards were used as political pamphlets. Most valuable were cards issued in France at the time of the French revolution, when figures of Genius, Liberty and Equality took the place of kings, queens and knaves.—London Saturday Review.

He Has Two Signatures

There is one New York business man who is reasonably proof against the forger, as he has two signatures and the forger must first get hold of one of his bank checks to get any action. Seeing the signature on a letter or hotel register would do the forger no good. The bank would not recognize it. "I don't particularly fear the forger," the business man admitted, "but my two signatures make me feel safer just the same. I am surprised that everybody doesn't hit on the same plan. It's very easy after you get the knack of signing your name two separate and distinct ways."—New York Globe.

Hard to Do Without Pockets

"The most annoying thing in navy life for a recruit is the absence of side pockets in the uniform trousers," said a yeoman at the navy recruiting station. "The average man doesn't realize how strong is the custom of thrusting his hands in his trousers pockets until he dons a pair without pockets. I've worn the navy uniform four years now, and I frequently find myself trying to put my hands in my pockets."—Kansas City Times.

The Points Were There

Little Clara's parents often discuss reincarnation, and the small maiden has acquired some of the phraseology. "Mamma," she said one day, "my kite must have been a paper of pins in a previous state of existence."

"Why do you think so?" asked her mother.

"Because I can feel some of them in her toes yet!" was the logical reply.

An Iron Tip

Teacher—Johnny, can you tell me how iron was first discovered?
Johnny—Yes, sir.
Teacher—Just tell the class what your information is on that point.
"I heard pa say yesterday that they smelt it."

Sarcastic

"When reverses come you find out who your friends are."
"So."
"Yes. They immediately proclaim that they knew you were an accident."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
