Lynden School Notes.

Miss Wallace spent Saturday and Sunday in Custer.

Miss Ambrose spent Saturday and Sunday in Bellingham.

The 2nd grade room is beautifully decorated with brilliantly colored leaves especially prepared.

A case is being made for the new physics apparatus by Pixley & Smith, also a teacher's desk for the 8th grade room.

Five volumes of Macaulay's History of England have been purchased of Rev. Whitfield and added to the high school library.

Messrs. Green, Knapp, and Storey have arranged to equip the 8th grade with work bench, vice and tools to work in Mechanical training.

The 7th grade has been divided into groups of eight for work in recitations, each group to take its turn in furnishing a program for Friday afternoon. A spelling contest was arranged for Friday afternoon.

On Friday afternoon the boys of the 8th grade constructed standards for pole vaulting. Most of the lower rooms had constructive work of some kind planned for a part of Friday afternoon; sewing in the 4th and 6th grades, painting of furniture in the 6th.

Potted plants have been brought by various pupils for school room decorations. Curtains are also being made by pupils of two of the grades as a part of their work in manual training to help in giving to their school room a cosy and home-like appearance.

Committees have been appointed from the various rooms to plan for athletics. Pupils from the 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th grades and the high school have organized for foot-ball, and have ordered three balls. The girls of the 7th and 8th grades have organized for basket-ball.

Thursday afternoon the 9th grade enjoyed a pleasant and profitable excursion down Fish Trap Creek, for some practical study in physical geography. The class have written their reports of the excursion and the point of special interest are to be illustrated with kodak pictures.

Chamois Maker is a Magician.

Most everybody uses chamois, and everybody imagines it comes from the graceful goats of the Swiss Alps, but it doesn't. It really hails from the cavernous depths of tanneries of Peabody, in New England. Peabody tanners make beautiful leathers of sheep pelts. The chamois maker is a magician of the leather trade. To his door he draws sheepskins from the great ranches of Montana, or their possible future rivals on the plains of Siberia, the pampas of Argentina or the fields of Australia. Mary's little lamb, masquerading as brave Swiss chamois, has a wonderful career.

Natural Anxiety.

A very talkative little boy was allowed to accompany his father to a friend's house on the understanding that he should not speak until somebody asked him a question. He remained silent for half an hour. "Father," he then murmured, "when are they going to begin asking me questions?"

The late Professor Greene, author of Greene's Analysis and the English Grammar with which so many have wrestled in their school days, was one of the most genial and fatherly of men.

During the later years of his life he was professor of mathematics and astronomy in a New England college. There was in one of his classes a somewhat slow witted though studious young man, whom we will call Jones.

On a certain occasion after Jones had repeated carefully the text book statements about the effects of the motions of the earth and was trying to remember what came next in the book the professor interposed with:

"Were you ever in the shadow of the earth, Mr. Jones?"

Jones (slowly)—No, sir.

Professor—Where do you spend your nights, sir?

Jones didn't want to tell.—Universalist Leader.
