Surprise Mr. and Mrs. Berggraff

Last Friday evening about forty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Berggraff gathered at the home of Mrs. Mary Jones, where they are staying for the present, and gave them a very pleasant surprise. Games were played and light refreshments were served. The wedding cake was cut and one of the young ladies was the happy recipient of the piece containing the ring. A beautiful cracker bowl and a set of silver knives and forks were presented to the bride and groom by Rev. Wilder, in a few well chosen words.

"A Matter of Results"

BY HENRY W. FRANCIS

For many years he struggled 'gainst
A fate that was adverse,
How'er he tried to better things,
They went from bad to worse;
He never went into a deal
But he was surely stuck,
And day and night he railed against
His beastly wretched luck!

But suddenly there was a change,
One day by Fortune's whim
A mining stock he'd sank cash in,
A million yielded him;
And ever since he's prospered and
Has added to his gains,
And now he says luck is a myth,
The thing that wins is brains!

It may be and it may be not
That chance determines things,
But it is true that Circumstance
Alters the tune one sings;
He who succeeds is certain that
It's due to brains and pluck;
While he who fails attributes it
To his infernal luck!

Lynden School Notes.

Several of the rooms now have sash curtains.

The H. S. girls are planning a large pennant for their room.

Three foot-balls and two basketballs are now owned by the students.

The H. S. girls have their basketball. The posts for the baskets are being erected.

The school and class spirit as it is being manifested is very gratifying to the teachers.

Most of the teachers are saving some of their regular work for the Parent's Day exhibit.

Halloween exercises were held in the 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th grade rooms, Friday. Ghosts were quite common.

Several of our pupils have begun work on our debate as outlined last week. We are in receipt of some good material from the Librarian of the University of Washington. We solicit material from our grangers and interested patrons.

The tenth grade at their class meeting last week, decided to use their colors of the 9th grade again,—navy blue and white. Their motto is to be the same as the one they had in the 8th grade, "Not finished but just begun." A class song was agreed upon, but a class yell was left to decide at a later date. A committee was appointed to assist in making a H. S. banner of red and white felt.

"We have a foot-ball game scheduled with Blaine for this week, Saturday. The Blaine boys will drive over in company with the H. S. superintendent. The game will be called at 1:15 P. M. Our plan is to give a free game. In doing this we are indebted to the business men for their loyal support which makes this game possible. They have given liberally. Later we shall try to show our appreciation in a substantial way. Patrons we are anxious to improve our school Athletics has its proper place. Come to our games.

Orange Social.

There was a large attendance at the Orange last Tuesday evening, and a good program was enjoyed by all. A question box has been added to the regular program to which all are invited to contribute questions of interest to members of the Grange. After the program a supper was given and according to all reports, George Erz knows more about a certain pumpkin pie than he is willing to admit. The initiation of B. Oltman, of Greenwood added to the evenings entertainment.

Sweet cider for sale. See Stark.

See, "The Pride of Virginia," at Jamieson's Opera House, tonight.

Will Close Stores at Six in the Evening.

There is a move on foot to close the stores in Lynden, at six o'clock, during the winter months. This is good news. The clerks need a little rest in the evening as well as other laboring people, and it will work no great hardship on the patrons after they get used to the change.

Sales Agents Wanted.

$25.00 per week or 400 per cent profit. All expenses, maintenance, and art catalog free. We want one permanent agent in this locality for the largest picture and frame house in America. Experience unnecessary. We instruct you how to sell our goods and furnish the capital. If you want a permanent, honorable and profitable position write us today for particulars, catalog and samples.

Frank W. Williams Company,
1214 W. Taylor St., Chicago, Ill.

Chicken Thieves.

Chicken thieves are out these nights and according to reports from the farmers southeast of Iowa, are reaping a rich harvest. One rancher lost over fifty chickens in one night, and others almost as many. It's all right while it lasts but some night these same shiftless night marauders may get their hides filled with lead, if they keep the business up long enough. It is said that the ranchers have suspicion already on a certain bunch of toughs, and are only waiting for a little more evidence before landing them in the county jail.

Halloween Party.

A Halloween party was given at the I. O. O. F. hall Saturday evening by Miss Lena Daly and Miss Mattie Steinhauer. A fine time was had and refreshments were served at midnight. Those present were: Misses Eva Mulder, Winifred Ireland, Helen Staigt, Cecile Watson, Lena Daly, Ethel Daly, Ellen Johnson, Mattie Steinhauer, Gertrude Barnhart, Ruth Frazier, Edna Peabody, Marguerite McKinnon, and Mae Milan.

Messrs. Will Frits, John Frits, Ray Slade, Bob Rittenburg, Carl Johnson, W. O. Grant, and Owen Hadley.

Cuts Arm Badly.

Monday forenoon, Goodman Hamre mangled his left fore-arm quite badly on a shingle saw, at the Buffalo shingle mill. He had just placed a block on the machine, and tripped the carriage before he had removed his arm, the dog that holds the block caught his sleeve and carried his arm into the saw. He will not lose the arm and if no complications set in, will soon be all right again. After the accident he was brought to town and Dr. Howe dressed the wound.

Engineer Electrocutted.

A very sad accident happened last Thursday evening at the electric light plant. Charles McKettrick, while fixing the machinery around the generator, accidentally formed a short circuit for the full current of the machine, which is 2,300 volts, and was instantly killed. Mr. McKettrick was day engineer, and at the time, it seems, he had volunteered to fix the belt, which runs the big dynamo, for the night engineer, Isaac Stoutjesdyk, before leaving the plant. Fred Saxauer, the electrician, was to take part in the play "Pride of Virginia" and the men at the plant did not wish to bother him that evening, if possible.

He leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his loss.

Charles McKettrick was born in 1876, in the northern part of New Brunswick. When a boy his parents brought him to Omaha, Neb. where he learned the printer's trade. The people of Lynden are best acquainted with him as editor of the Lynden Sun, a paper which he established here about four years ago.

A short funeral service was held at the home Sunday afternoon, at which Rev. Case delivered a short address comforting the family in their great bereavement.

The remains were shipped to Grand Island, Neb., yesterday, and will be followed by Mrs. McKettrick and the children.

Entertain at Five Hundred.

Mrs. B. W. Loring and Mrs. M. S. Williams entertained last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Loring, several of their lady friends at Five-hundred. Among those present were: Mesdames W. H. Waples, A. R. Hay, Marion Biehler, D. L. Beckes, D. Mulder, Ed. Knapp, J. C. Beach, George Cole, and G. C. Garman.

Halloween Party.

Last Saturday evening, Miss Vera Robinson, assisted by Misses Esther Axlund, Elizabeth Anderson, and Gertrude Pearson, entertained a number of her High School and Greenwood friends at her home. The guests began to arrive a few minutes after eight o'clock and were surprised when met at the door by ghosts. When their wraps had been laid aside they were introduced to "Madame Non Cents," who was the fortune teller for the evening.

The evening was merrily spent in telling fortunes and in playing games at a late hour refreshments were served and the merry ones departed for their homes, wishing to meet at many similar occasions.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Messrs. Clarence Barnhart, Dwight Rose, Walter Meunscher, Eddy Krulser, Roy Clarke, and Fred Rose; Misses Anna Bowman, Hannah Blankenforth, Esther Axlund, Elizabeth Anderson, Edith Harris, Bessie Taylor, Anna Tromp, Rosetta Ferris, Crete Topping, Ethel Draney, Mabelle Wright, Ethel Holmes, Gertrude Pearson, and Vera Robinson.

Advertised Letters

Mail for the following persons, remains unclaimed in this office. If not called for in 30 days, will be sent to dead letter office. Bowles, Mrs. Louis; Bortle, Mrs. J. R.; Bingham, Miss Norma; Cook, Miss Ivy; Ehlers, Fred; Silre, Euloo; Moore, Charley; Montgomery, Tom;

Robert O'Neil P. M.

Last Friday evening, three Indians, Mack Joe, Dick Harry, and George James, filled up on "O-be-joyful" and late in the evening became rather noisy and disorderly on the streets. Marshal Bailey put them in the cooler to sober up.

Spelled Musicians.

Rubinsteln disapproved of marriage for musicians. Just before his death he spoke sadly of his Russian lady pupils. "What have I wasted all my time on them for?" he asked irritably. "Every one married! It's too provoking! Here they are, spoiled forever for art life. What did they study for?"

The London Musical World remarks that "those who ask why we have no great lady composers may be left to think on these things."

A Nice, Petite Man.

There's some good things in town this week," said the girl who was hinting for an invitation to the theater. "Well," responded Mr. Grouch, "I ain't one of 'em."—Kansas City News-book.

REPUBLICANS VICTORIOUS

TAFT GETS 291 ELECTORAL VOTES

Altho the Democrats show gains since 1904, the national ticket has carried Republican. The state and county have also elected the entire Republican ticket. Kinsey, for commissioner of the first district, is an easy winner, while Van Zandt, for sheriff, wins by about 100 votes.

Frank Bixby will succeed Judge Kellogg

One of the best jokes of the Election is the election of Attorney Frank Bixby to fill the short term of office of superior judge, the interval of time between Nov. 3, when Judge Kellogg's present term expires according to the wording of his commission from Gov. Mead, and the long term of four years beginning Jan. 1. Had Judge Kellogg mentioned this short term on the primary ballots or if no person had received any votes for the short term at the general election, he would serve over the next two months as he was appointed to serve until his successor qualified. So far we have heard of no one receiving any votes for this short term, except Mr. Bixby; so it seems his election is assured. He has received about thirty votes all told.

Lost—Finden please return, "Mary Tips," by Dix, to the library at the P. O. as soon as possible.

Lost—A short two-hook loggin chain between T. H. Smith's place and my place on the double ditch road. J. M. Smith.

F. P. Marsh has bought an interest in Thompson & Son's blacksmith shop. Mr. Marsh formerly owned the shop and his many old friends will be glad to see him back at the old stand.

For Sale—A baby-walker, in good condition. Call at this office.
