LAUREL AND WISER LAKE

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday at two o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Mary Neilson of Ferndale, when her eldest daughter, Miss Zera became the bride of Robert Sorenson, eldest son of N. P. Sorenson of Laurel. The Neilson home was beautified for the occasion with quantities of margarites effectively arranged with greens. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Edgar Sorenson and Miss Mildred Masston of Mount Vernon the bridal party took their places under a pretty arch of green studded with white flowers. Rev. Duncan N. McPhail of the First Baptist church of Bellingham conducted the ceremony before the immediate relatives and friends present. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Carl Pederson and was charming in her wedding gown of white Crepe de Chine elaborated with silver lace. She wore a bridal veil which fell in graceful folds to the hem of the skirt, and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaids, the Misses Ila and Clara Neilson, both sisters of the bride, were attractive in their dainty gowns. Ernest carried pink carnations, and Ernest and Bert Sorenson, brothers of the groom were the best men. During the ceremony Mr. Edgar Sorenson and Miss Mildred Masston played very softly "Where Roses Fair," by Prince Gustave of Sweden. After a buffet luncheon had been served Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson left for Ocean Beach at Seaside, Oregon, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mrs. Sorenson is a graduate from the High and Normal Schools and a successful teacher many years. Both have a wide circle of friends who wish them much happiness and prosperity. MRS. DORA CRYDERMAN

Candidate for Congress.

Mrs. Dora Cryderman, who on Monday filed on the Progressive ticket for Congressman from this District, makes announcement of the fact to the general public of the Second Congressional District, and especially to her old friends and neighbors of Lynden.

Mrs. Cryderman's father, L. W. Wellman, homesteaded a quarter section of land across the river from Lynden in 1882. Subsequently the family built and lived in Lynden.

As a girl and young woman, Miss Wellman was identified with the church and school, as well as social interests of the community. She taught school at Pleasant Ridge, Bertrand, Prairie, Licking, Clearbrook, and later in Fairhaven and New Whatcom, now Bellingham.

The school board of Lynden paid Miss Wellman the compliment of voluntarily electing her principal of the school, an offer which she was unable to accept because of a previous contract with another city. She served two years as member of the county board of education by appointment of J. M. Hitt, County Superintendent.

In 1884, she was married in Lynden to John Jerome Cryderman, a Civil Engineer, one of the bridesmaids being Mrs. Pebe Judson, mother of Lynden. The couple have no children.

Mr. Cryderman's frequent absences from home in pursuit of his business, gave Mrs. Cryderman opportunity for school work and public service, most of which has been unpaid. In 1897 she was appointed ed a member of the state board of examiners for teachers, serving sixteen years. She is of the opinion that the school system of the state is "top heavy," i. e., that a much greater proportion of the public funds is spent on higher institutions of learning which the minority attend, than upon the grade schools which the vast majority attend, than is justifiable. She believes in practical and vocational education, and prepared a paper for the State Teachers' Association of 1891 on the subject of Industrial Education which was widely copied by eastern journals. She has been interested in library work and served as a member of the library board of Bellingham.

Mrs. Cryderman was a member of the State Equal Suffrage Association from its beginning to the time of the success of its object in 1910.

Mr. and Mrs. Cryderman have recently moved to Oyster Point (postoffice Blanchard) in Skagit County where they hope to establish an oyster business on the Samish Flats.

In spite of her many activities Mrs. Cryderman has always done her own work and prides herself upon being a good cook and housekeeper, and insists that the greatest accomplishments any woman can have is that of being a good, wholesome cook and a cheerful home maker. The power and responsibility of transforming unformed childhood into worthy citizenship is largely placed upon the mother and she can give no greater service than this to the state.

Mrs. Cryderman has long been interested in legislative work as she realizes it is to the law-making bodies that we must look for relief from burdensome laws, especially our ancient and unequal tax law, our partisan primary law, and others. At present she is a member of the legislative committee of the Skagit County Federation of Women's Clubs, of the Women's Union Label League No. 256, and the Women's Good Government League of Bellingham. She is also a member of the National Committee Women and Children's Welfare Daughters of the American Revolution.

It goes without saying that Mrs. Cryderman believes in state and nation-wide prohibition, tho she does say it upon every occasion.

She believes that the prosperity of any nation depends upon the prosperity of the farmer and the laborer and that their interests should be well looked to.

As a Progressive, Mrs. Cryderman believes in the principles outlined in the national platform of the Progressive party. Believing that the judicial department of our government is too greatly overshadowing the legislative and executive departments, she is strongly in favor of the recall of judges and judicial decisions as a wholesome check. She is not a strong partisan, and believes they are wise leaders who realize that the party gives its followers the greatest liberty of choice will have the staunchest adherents.

In her campaign she has no backer and no manager. If she succeeds she will be under no obligations to any person or corporation, and if she fails, she can blame no one. She is handicapped in the thorough prosecution of her campaign by a lack of funds and depends upon the help of her friends and those who have confidence in her campaign, to push it to a successful conclusion.

It will be no unworthy motive for the Second Congressional District to wish to prove its fair minded and enlightened worth by sending the first woman, or one of the first, to the National Congress.

Mrs. Cryderman does not wish to be looked upon as a woman's candidate, but as everybodys candidate, able and willing to impartially represent the interests of the district in the National congress, and the best that is offered for the people's choice.
