FARMERS TO STUDY IN LYNDEN NOV. 5-6

Lynden farmers will have an opportunity to go to school Friday, and Saturday, when five agricultural experts will hold a free institute in the city. Dairying, poultry, horticulture, and good roads problems will be discussed and studied.

Prof. H. L. Blanchard of the Western Washington Experiment Station will have charge of the courses in dairying, poultry feeds and feeding. Dr. J. W. Kalkus will lead the discussions in animal diseases, Prof. S. P. Davis in better roads, and Prof. J. L. Stahl in horticulture. All three men are from the Washington State Agricultural College.

Just to show Lynden people how easy it is to keep the roads in good shape, Professor Davis will make a Missouri split-log drag during the institute, and will explain its use. An evening stereopticon lecture on good roads is planned.

The sessions will be conducted in strict school style. The lecturers will answer questions put them by the farmer students, and will try to make the work fit the needs of each individual. The meetings will begin promptly at 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 8 p. m.

Following the institute at Lynden, meetings will be held at Laurel Nov. 9 and 10, Gulph Nov. 11 and 12, Haynie Nov. 13 and 14 and Bellingham the afternoon of Nov. 14.

The committee arranging for the local institute is composed of Walter Elder, B. C. Crabtree, Nels Jacobson and H. Shagren.

COUNCIL TO PASS ON 5TH ST. PAVING

Lynden may see Fifth street paved at once, if the Council at its meeting tomorrow night passes favorably on the petition from property holders.

If the consent of all the owners along the street is obtained before the meeting of the Council, Mayor P. A. Onkes will suggest that the Washington Asphalt Paving Company, which is now working on Front street, be employed to finish the Fifth street job before leaving. The usual course will be followed, however, should some owners fail to sign the petition, and the work will be delayed until spring to issue a call for bids in the manner prescribed by law.

H. Jamieson is circulating the petition among the property owners. Of the 2,400 feet affected directly by the improvement, owners of 1,150 feet had signed up to this morning. The Methodist church and the Telephone Company will take up the question at meetings today.

Harvey A. Stauffer will hold a public sale at the Oscar Knutzen place on East Grover Street just outside the city limits, on Wednesday, November 11. Mr. Stauffer has decided to give up farming. Beginning at 10:30 a. m., he will offer the following property: 6 head of horses, 11 head of cattle including choice milk cows, heifers, and calves; 1 brood sow and ten pigs; two sets of harness, saddle, wagons, and other property. A free lunch will be served at noon.

The usual terms will prevail. George Bostwick will act as auctioneer.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wright were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simpson in Tacoma last week during the teachers' convention. Mr. Simpson, who was a teacher here last year, is now secretary of the Credit Men's Association of Tacoma, and although he holds an excellent position, is longing to return to Lynden Mr. Wright says.

A. A. Bauman drove back Saturday in a new Maxwell machine with Conrad Axlund as his passenger in spite of bad roads crossing from Whatcom to Skagit County. Mr. Bauman brought the machine thru without a mishap. Mr. Axlund liked the ride so well that he purchased the car before the end of the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knapp, Miss Frances and Master Bradford Knapp Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rathman were among those who went to Bellingham Sunday to see De-Wolf Hopper in "The Mikado"

Miss Allie Shin who has been visiting relatives and friends here for the past few weeks, left Monday for Seattle where she will spend some time before going to her home at Ashland Oregon.

While attending the teachers' convention in Tacoma last week, Miss Marguerite Fleming received the sad news of the death of her father at her home in Iowa. Mr. Fleming was more than eighty years old.

Four young men of Blaine returned through Lynden Saturday night from Sumas. During a scuffle on the streets one of them had his head injured. Dr. F. L. Wood dressed the wound.

MRS. VANDER YACHT DIES

With her six sons as pallbearers, the body of Mrs. Harry Vander Yacht was carried to its last resting place Monday. The funeral was held from the Christian Reformed church, where the services were read by the Rev. E. Breen and the Rev. G. J. Brouwer.

Mrs. Vander Yacht was born at Drachten, Netherlands, July 29, 1850. Her maiden name was Gertrude Veltzing. In 1872 she was married to Harry Vander Yacht, and the couple moved to the United States in the spring of 1883, and located in Michigan. Here they resided until December 17, 1907, when they moved to Lynden.

Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Vander Yacht, two of whom have preceded her in death. These were Sarah, who passed away on October 13, 1903, at the age of 9 years and 6 months, and Joe, who died at Lynden, October 13, 1913, when 21 years and 6 months old.

There remain to mourn her death, her husband, Harry Vander Yacht, six sons and two daughters—Charles, Henry, John, James, Andrew, Albert, Mrs. Walter Telgenhoff and Mrs. Carl Boice, all of Lynden.

Those of the community who had known Mrs. Vander Yacht mourned her sincerely when she closed her eyes on October 29. Her good deeds and her kindness to the poor had won her many friends during her lifetime, both in Lynden and in Michigan. Her home was always open to the stranger, hospitality being one of her many good qualities.

MRS. BRIGGS AND FAMILY WILL HELP AMUSE LYNDEN

Mrs. Briggs and her famous funny family will be visitors to Lynden tomorrow night. They are coming to Jamieson's Hall as guests of the Y. P. 'B', which is selling tickets at Edson's Drug Store to those who wish to have the pleasure of spending an evening with the humorous Briggs folks.

Heun's Orchestra, assisted by Mr. Elza Tremain and Ernest Jacobs will furnish the music during the evening and the following will be seen in the amusing comedy:

Mrs. Briggs, a woman of business, Lucy Austin, Ralph, Paul Johansen; Jimmy, Percy Bays; Alvin, Lucile Ecker; Melissa, Edna Daniels; Mr. Lee, a wealthy neighbor, John Bay; Silas Green, a near relation, Lewis Tromp; Virginia Lee, Ruby McDaniel; Daisy Thornton, her friend, Iva Jacobs; Mrs. O'Connor, with no love for goats, Lela Breenbridge; Mandy Bates, whose tongue will stumble, Mary Jamieson.

That Lynden has one of the best equipped and organized domestic science departments in the state is the opinion of Prof. Effie Rausch, head of the domestic science work at the University of Washington. Miss Rausch inspected the high school courses two weeks ago, and praised the department this week in a conversation with Superintendent P. A. Wright.

Several Lynden teachers inspected county schools Thursday and Friday. Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher visited Laurel, Miss Edith Harris Bellingham, and Miss Mabel Plank Nooksack.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gromers, who sold their place to A. H. Westbrook moved Tuesday to the Showers residence on West Front Street. Mrs. Gromers who has not been well has recovered. Mr. Gromers will farm his river bottom place in the spring.

A. H. Westbrook of Britt, Iowa, has purchased A. Gromer's place just outside the city limits, through Taylor and Riddle. Mrs. Westbrook arrived in Lynden Monday night and will assist her husband in raising chickens.

A. Dunker went to Bellingham Sunday to visit his wife, who is recovering from an attack of illness at St. Luke's hospital. He brought little Lols Dunker back with him, after a week's visit in Bellingham.

H. E. Bell of Chicago has been at the home of Walter Elder for the past few days. He was called here by the illness of his mother Mrs. Mary Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brown and daughter Merle, came up Friday for a few days' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fountain.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Vander Griend returned Friday evening after a visit of several months in Nebraska and other middle west points.

The teachers club met Tuesday at the home of Mr. William Fisher and read from Bryan's Fundamental Facts for the Teacher.

Mr. P. A. Wright and Miss Eva Cole will attend a principals' meeting in Bellingham a week from Saturday.

Mrs. A. A. Bauman and two children returned Saturday after a visit of several months with relatives in the East.

SEATTLE PAPER TELLS OF LIFE OF MRS. JUDSON

An article telling of the useful life of Mrs. Phoebe Judson appeared in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer Sunday.

The following is the P-I story about Mrs. Judson:

"The home is the cornerstone of good citizenship," has always been the motto of Mrs. Phoebe Judson, who has come to be known as the "Mother of Lynden." She is 83 and her mind is as clear and alert as it was fifty years ago. She was reared in a pioneer home in the western reserve, on the shore of Lake Erie. She crossed the plains by the Oregon trail on her honeymoon when she was scarcely twenty, and with her husband located in Olympia.

Here in Whatcom County she reared four children and won the cognomen of "Mother of Lynden" because she has taken into her home ten other children and given them the same motherly care and devotion that she gave to those of her own brood. She has been the nurse in many a home during a critical illness and is accredited with having saved the lives of many children.

In the early days of the Puget sound country she was wont to go about in a canoe with an Indian crew or along the forest trails on errands of mercy to the bedside of some sufferer. Through all her life she has spared, and she has lived to see her great-granddaughter born and to gather with five generations of her kin.

A daughter, Anna, is the widow of Eason B. Ebeby, of Whidby Island, whose father, Col. Isaac N. Ebeby, was slain in the pioneer days by Indians while a customs officer. The third generation is represented by Mrs. Victor A. Roeder, who is a past president of Chief Whatcom Chapter of the D. A. B. Mr. Roeder is president of the Bellingham National Bank. He is the son of Captain H. Roeder, the first white settler of Bellingham. The fourth generation in this remarkable family is Mrs. James Russell Boalster. She is Capt. Roeder's grandchild as well as Mrs. Judson's great-grandchild. Mrs. Briggs, a woman of business, Mrs. Judson's great-grandchild, Phoebe Elizabeth for her great grandmother and for Capt. Roeder's wife, Elizabeth Austin Roeder, a pioneer.

Here in these five generations we find the blending of the blood of the pioneer families of Puget Sound. An added interest is given to this combination of these good old names by the fact that these two grandmothers, though on different branches in the family line, were dear friends and playmates in their childhood, both crossed the plains in ox-drawn wagons, lived near each other on the sound and together braved the hardships of the early days. Mrs. Roeder died in 1897.

The little daughter of Henry Van Os, who was operated on for appendicitis in Bellingham, has returned home entirely recovered.

Mrs. J. C. Nelson left the hospital in Bellingham last week and went on a visit to her son at Glacier.

PIONEERS TO CELEBRATE ADMISSION OF STATE

Citizens who came to Lynden before there was any Lynden, and others who arrived in the state of Washington before there was a State of Washington, are getting ready to make merry Wednesday in Odd Fellows Hall in Lynden.

The Ancient and Honorable order of Clam Diggers will hold their annual reunion to celebrate the admission of the State, and to recall the good old days. Contrary to custom, the Clam Diggers will not eat clams; this time they will dine on chicken, which will be brought by each family attending. In addition to the fowl, those who attend have been asked to bring any two of the following staples: pie, cake, beans or salad.

Badges of admission will be sold at the door to each adult for 25 cents. All persons who were residents of the state at the time of admission, together with their children and grandchildren are entitled to membership and are urged to attend.

Miss Marie Bauman and Miss Katherine Lindhout entertained twelve of their friends last week at a Halloween party. Autumn leaves and Halloween decorations surrounded the rooms, where Halloween game were played and Halloween refreshments were served. The following were guests: Emma DeHoogh, Emma Zylstra, Alice Haverman, Sadie Bauman, Abel Dysterling, Paul Zylstra, John Spaan, Corlie Van De Meer, Henry Lindhout, and Arthur Bruene.

Mr. and Mrs. Gehrlach and Miss Caroline Cole were among the Lynden people noted in the audience at the performance of "The Mikado" in Bellingham Sunday.

Mrs. Biehler and Miss Bessie Biehler were Bellingham visitors over the week end.

Mrs. Wilder Jones and Mrs. Rice have left for Seattle, where Mrs. Jones will be the guest of Mrs. Rice for a few weeks.

Miss Rena Haveman, who was a guest of Mrs. John Schuylerman at Custer for a few weeks, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Milan, have moved from their ranch at Everson to the Brown house on Grover Street.

S. H. Thompson and Howard Thompson returned Saturday from a business trip to Seattle.

Miss Gertie Hoover, of Everson, visited her sister, Mrs. John Gehrlach, Sunday.

Can you play the cornet? The Lynden Band is looking for a cornet player.

Miss Helen E. Smith was a Bellingham visitor over the week end.

The W. C. T. U. will meet next Thursday.

Mrs. Krouse spent a couple of days last week in Bellingham.

This Is Century of Child; Upon Its Care Depends Happiness of Future Generations

*****

By Dr. WOODS HUTCHINSON

*****

EVERY child born into the world is entitled to food, clothing, shelter and a good education. It happens so, however, that not every child is provided with these things, and it should THEREFORE DEVOLVE UPON SOCIETY TO TAKE CARE OF IT. There comes a time in the development of the child when its mental horizon reaches beyond the home. Then the state should step in and guide the child in its growth.

THE COMPLEXITIES OF MODERN LIFE ARE FAR BEYOND THE CONTROL OF ANY MOTHER, NO MATTER HOW CAPABLE AND INTELLIGENT SHE MAY BE, AND THE STATE, THROUGH A SPECIAL CORPS OF TEACHERS AND TRAINERS, IS FAR MORE CAPABLE TO LEAD THE CHILD. I DO NOT MEAN THAT THE CHILD SHOULD BE TAKEN FROM THE MOTHER IN ANY CASE. THE BEST WAY WOULD BE TO TRAIN MOTHERS HOW TO TAKE CARE OF THEIR CHILDREN AFTER THEY ARE ABOVE THE AGE OF ELEMENTARY DEVELOPMENT. MOTHERHOOD IS A GIFT WHICH AMOUNTS ALMOST TO GENIUS, AND NOT EVERY WOMAN IS FOR IT.

We should give the child the greatest amount of freedom possible, give it all the food it wants, all the sleep it desires and all the play it yearns for. The rest of the time spend in instruction. Society is coming to realize that the child is a diminutive man and is entitled to the same right of liberty every adult demands. I mean that amount of liberty compatible with the welfare of the individual and society as a whole.

UPON THE EDUCATION, TRAINING AND OPPORTUNITIES OF OUR CHILDREN DEPENDS THE HAPPINESS OF FUTURE GENERATIONS. THIS IS THE CENTURY OF THE CHILD.

Miss Mary Jamieson and Miss Lucille Ecker entertained Saturday evening with a Halloween party at the home of Miss Jamieson. The evening was spent in Halloween entertainment and at the conclusion, refreshments, consisting of elves' salad, goblin food, witches' brew, lucky pie, twisters and mystic sweets, were served. The following were the guests: Misses Nellie Onkes, Iva and Blanche Jacobs, Lucy Austin, Bessie Frick, Lela Breenbridge, Ruby McDaniels, Helen Smith, Alma Ecker, Bessie Biehler, Alitha Landaul, Elizabeth McNeely; and Messrs. Cecil Jamieson, John Bay, John Wolfe, Ray Jacobs, Percy Bays, Lewis Tromp, Lester Landaul, Cornelius Spaan, Paul Johanson and Paul Zylstra.

The population of the Lynden district grew quite a bit during October. The following were some of the arrivals: Oct. 4, a girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schuylerman; Oct. 8, boy, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DeMotts; Oct. 10, girl, Mr. and Mrs. William Raschke; Oct. 15, boy, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Haynes; Oct. 15, boy, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Davy; Oct. 19, boy, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Youngedyke; Oct. 20, boy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kilcup; Oct. 24, boy, Mr. and Mrs. James Roosma; Oct. 27, boy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schuyler; Oct. 31, girl, Mr. and Mrs. R. Van Egdom.

Mrs. Mollie Stark Williams was hostess to the Kensington club at her home Friday afternoon. The decorations were suggestive of the Halloween season, and luncheon favors were artistic little baskets of yellow and black crepe paper, ornamented with black cats, and filled with nuts and sweets. Besides the fourteen members present, Mrs. Williams' guests were Mrs. Arthur Howard, of Mount Vernon, Mrs. Engel, Mrs. DeLong and Mrs. Weber. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. George Frick, Friday afternoon, November 12.

The high school had an election all their own Tuesday. Without any preliminary discussion, the students voted as follows: For prohibition measure No. 3—52; against, 54. For Eight-hour measure—10; against—54. For Teachers' Pensions—6; against—60. For U. S. Senator: Ole Hanson, 30; Black, 16; Jones, 8; Barnes, 3; Caton, 4. For superintendent of schools: Ethel Everett, 55; Prof. Schusman, 15.

D. J. DeHoogh returned Wednesday from Greenbank, Whidby Island, where he had sold three cows to one of the largest Holstein dealers in the state. Mr. DeHoogh received many compliments on the excellence of his stock.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thompson to the wedding of their daughter, Edna Marie, to Donald William De Puy, of Wenatchee, on Wednesday evening, November 11.

In honor of Miss Edna Thompson who is to be married next week, the Klatawa club entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Bessie Biehler.

Mrs. R. Gruen was the winner of the handsome 42-piece gold band dinner set at the Armstrong-Hammond Co's store yesterday.

Andrew Jamieson, of Seattle, visited his brothers, H. H. and C. A. Jamieson, last week. He has recently moved to the Northwest from Minneapolis.

Mrs. P. H. Kooyman and daughter Lena have returned from an extended visit in Iowa and Michigan.

The Amphletton club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ray Slade on Thursday, November 12.

Mrs. C. H. Humphries, of Ferndale, was a visitor Sunday at the Jamieson home.

Mrs. Mary Collins spent Friday at Riverside visiting Mrs. Blankenorth.

C. B. Bay and little son spent Sunday in Bellingham.

Miss Nell Collins visited Bellingham Saturday.

Mrs. C. C. King visited Lynden friends Friday.

TWO CLEVER ADS

Col. Henry Watterson, who has made a collection of unique personal advertisements, tells of a fencing of wits that once took place in a Berlin newspaper. One ad. read: "The gentleman who found a purse containing money and valuable papers, in the Blumenstrasse, is earnestly requested to forward it to the address of the loser as he is recognized."

The finder retorted with this: "The recognized gentleman who found a purse, containing money and valuable papers, begs that the loser will call at his house at the earliest convenient moment."

STATE GOES DRY REPUBLICANS WIN

Washington has gone dry. Reports from the "wet" headquarters in Seattle received at The Tribune office this morning admit that prohibition has carried by 18,000 majority. Fourteen hundred and eight precincts already in give the bill 11,000 majority, and with the country returns still to be heard from it is likely that the total will reach 25,000.

The proposed eight hour law was defeated 2 to 1, and the constitutional amendment to permit aliens to own land was defeated by a large majority.

Whatcom county gave the Republican party a heavy vote. With the exception of Wilson Stewart, the county Republican ticket won out. The election of Tom Brown for representative over Guy Dunning, Progressive, is still in doubt. At noon, the county auditor reported Brown leading by 100 votes.

Jones has defeated Black and Hanson for the senate, and Hadley has won in the fight for congress. Four states have gone dry.

Washington, Oregon, Colorado and Arizona voted dry, and Ohio and California wet. Women's suffrage carried in Montana and Nevada.

Chadwick, Crow and Holcomb were elected to the supreme bench.

Eighty-three precincts in Whatcom county gave the following returns: No. 3, For—8899; Against, 6374; No. 7, For—6894; Against, 6435; No. 8, For—7979; Against, 6193; No. 9, For, 7315; Against, 6348; No. 10, For, 5239; Against, 8613; No. 13, For, 6544; Against, 8488; Referendum No. 1, For, 2580; Against, 11,860; No. 2, For, 2575; Against, 8,889; Amendment, For, 7749; Against, 8364. Senator—Jones, 5492; Black 2842; Barth, 1758; Hanson 4187; Caton 466. Congressman—Hadley 6326; Husted 3043; Loomer 1883; Campbell 2223; Murray, 463. Representative—Hoff, 2507; Brown, 2430; Davenport 1401; Dunning 2287; Waite, 1956. Assessor—McArthur, 7514; Steers, 4485. Clerk—Adams 7509; Sampley 5563. Sheriff—Williams, 3962; Stewart, 6012; Aitken, 4504. Engineer—Adams, 6773; Noble, 5515; Prosecuting Attorney—Brown, 7428; Sligh, 1600; Martin, 5058. Superintendent Schools—Everett, 9328; Schusman, 4326. Commissioner—Olsen, 2765; Sinnes, 3074; 3rd. ever 1st District, McMillan, 6889; District, Slater, 6909; Falkner, 4654. Judges, Chadwick, 7404; Crow 6170; Mills, 5860; Holcomb, 7578; Humphries 3275; Pemberton, 6495.

Blaine went dry in its local option fight by a 358 majority. Sumas had no local option fight, but voted as follows on No. 3: For, 136; Against, 204.

Everson gave No. 3 a majority of 77. The vote at Nooksack stood 100 for, and 13 against. Nooksack gave Sampley a majority of 12, and Hanson 50 votes to Jones' 36. Seven precincts of Mountain View and Ferndale gave No. 3, 817 for and 423 against. The same precincts voted down the eight hour law by 402 votes. The first aid measure was carried in Nooksack by 122 votes.

Lynden gave the prohibition measure a majority of 243 out of 419 votes cast. In the following summary, the Lynden figures are given first and the total figures for Lynden, including Delta, precincts, second: No. 3—For, 324-829; Against, 81-370. No. 6—For, 172-420; Against, 125-373. No. 7—For 125-346; Against, 172-446. No. 8—For, 182-470; Against, 132-366. No. 9—For, 174-433; Against, 143-405. No. 10—For, 141-349; Against, 176-505.
