No. 50

LYNDEN HONORS NATION'S HEROES

Lynden and the surrounding district called to memory Monday the brave who had fought that the nation might survive. Patriotic services were held Sunday at the Methodist church and Monday morning at Jamieson's Hall.

The Rev. Paul Ashby spoke eloquently Sunday of the lessons of the day, and the choir gave a special musical program. The following program was given Monday under direction of Superintendent P. A. Wright:

America—Audience
Prayer—Rev. Ashby
Recitation—Walter LeCompte
Address—Rev. Ashby
Jolly Cadets—Boy Chorus
Cornet Solo—Gertrude Schuylman

Recitation—Phyllis Lindsey
Flag Drill—3rd and 4th grades
Recitation—Alberta LeCompte
(a) "Santa Lucia", (b) "Stars of the Summer Night", 7th and 8th grade girls

Solo—"His Buttons are Marked U. S.", Carrie Jacobs Bond, Reta Jamieson.

Tenting Tonight—Audience.

Led by Comrades Shoemaker, Price, Pym, Wampler, Worthen, Rusco, Dickerson, Baker, True, Bays, Rinehart, Spalding and Wilmore, of the G. A. R. and the members of the W. R. C., the Memorial Day parade passed down Front Street Monday afternoon on the way to the cemetery where the ceremony of decorating the grave was held. The Lynden band marched in the procession, and gave a stirring program of national airs.

County News

The secretary of state is sending out instructions that operators of motor vehicles, when they go to the county auditor's offices to secure their temporary licenses and number plates before June 10, the date on which the new auto code goes into effect, must see to it that they get two of such temporary number plates, one for the front and one for the rear.

Residents of Everson and vicinity are having a hard time to accustom themselves to the new whistle installed at the condensery by Mr. Ossinger, the new engineer. When you hear the whistle, you imagine you are on a boat and are ready for the movement of the vessel. It has a deeper tone and can be heard in the factory by the men, whereas the old whistle was more shrill but not as easily heard where there was other noise.—Everson Valley Home.

He Knew Nelson.

This one is told on a certain pugilist, who is far better acquainted with the big names of fistic chronology than with those in the school history books. Having reached England in the course of his pugilistic travels, he was TOUCHED THE BED APPRECIATIVELY. patronized by a nobleman with sporting tastes. A week end visit to the country estate was in order. The gentleman personally conducted his guest about the mansion, and when they arrived at a certain pretentious bedroom he said with pride, "Here, sir, is where the great Nelson slept." The pugilist stepped over and touched the high, white covered bed appreciatively. "Gee," he remarked, "leave it to the Battler to pick a soft one!"—Everybody's.

LYNDEN TWENTY-TWO YEARS BACK

(From the Pioneer Press, Feb 2, 1893)

To Our Readers: Three or four little things has hindered the Press coming out its usual size this week, the breaking of our press, the cold weather and two of our compositors being sick. Next week, the Press will shine as of yore. Hoping this will find none of our readers frozen to death.

39 degrees below zero today. It's as cold as the deuce.

The city council will have another whittling bee Saturday.

George and Miss Clara Vinup were in the city yesterday.

Ed Edson, W. H. Dobbs, and Dr. Wilbur will start next Monday on a trip around the world. They will cross the Behring sea on bicycles.

LYNDEN TWELVE YEARS BACK.

(Pilot, June 4, 1903)

While slashing Tuesday on the George Worthen place five miles west of the city, Herman Pen met with a serious accident. In some manner, the axe struck him on the face, cutting a gash six inches long, and severing an artery and several veins.

A Lynden Street Scene of 1910

The changes a few years have made in the Lynden business section is strikingly shown in the above picture. The two big stores, one of which has burned and the other has been remodelled, appear on the corners. The picture was taken at the time of the Street-fair, and one of the exhibit buildings in the street is shown.

CLASS OF SIXTEEN IS GRADUATED BY SCHOOL

Attention to detail, a fixed purpose in life, and a trained will are the important factors in life, declared the Rev. A. D. Leonard of Seattle in an address at the graduating exercises of the Lynden High School in Jamieson's Hall Thursday night. Dr. Leonard's subject was "The Art Supreme."

The stage was prettily decorated in purple and white, the class colors. The members of the class who received diplomas from H. E. Stuart, president of the school board, were Ruby H. McDaniel, Will H. Rutgers, Della C. Reid, Thressa M. Stone, Elizabeth J. Schuyleman, Esther L. Swenson, Elsie T. Worthen, John C. Breckenridge, Bessie M. Biehler, Lela M. Breckenridge, Edna K. Bradley, Bertha J. Colton, Jennie T. Haveman, August O. Jacobson, Helen M. Lindseth, Hazel M. Lowrey.

The Rev. Paul Ashby gave the invocation, and Miss Jennie Haveman won much applause for her salutatorian address "Vocational Guidance." Miss Elsie Worthen gave an excellent valedictory, her subject being "American Neutrality". A feature of the program was the music, which was given by Kenneth Heun and Mrs. Charlotte Heun, and a quartet composed of Misses Orel Jackman, Earnestina Zweegman, Ruth Ireland and Alberta Heun.

Mrs. Max Blonden of Sumas visited her mother Mrs. Plummer Monday.

Mrs. F. M. Smith, age 66, passed away Tuesday morning at her home on Grover street. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. M. Waples of Bellingham visited in Lynden Monday.

SPLENDID ROADS WILL BRING CROWD TO FAIR

Whatcom County has had a bumper crop of fine new roads this year, and the long, smooth highways that lead to Lynden now are expected to carry a steady stream of traffic to the Fair Grounds October 5 to 9.

Last year during the County Fair, the roads in this section of the county were practically impassable. Front Street was torn up for paving, and Grover Street which carried most of the travel was torn with deep ruts. The cemetery road leading past the Fair Grounds was also bottomless at many points, while the Guide Meridian was sadly in need of repair.

The Guide is now in fine shape, and it is not unlikely that the pavement from the Bellingham limits to Laurel may be completed by Fair time. The city street through Lynden is perfect, while the road to the Fair Grounds has been gravelled and dragged until it is in good condition.

The condition of the roads will be an important factor in increasing the attendance at the Fair this year. Improvement of the exhibits, the construction of new cattle sheds, and the proposed erection of a new educational building are other drawing cards that will have a pronounced effect on the gate receipts.

A. A. Bauman and Warren Hawley spent Thursday in Sedro Woolley on business.

Mrs. R. Michels has purchased a new Maxwell.

There will be no meeting of the W. C. T. U. next week.

The county convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held June 10 and 11 in Bellingham.

Mrs. J. W. Tremain, of Bellingham, was visiting friends here the first of the week.

Detail of the Court of the Universe

ILLUSTRATION shows a fountain scene in the Court of the Universe at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco. The succession of star-crowned figures surmounting the top of the circular colonnade is most effective, especially at night when under illumination. Be sure to see the great Exposition.

TO CELEBRATE 4TH AT FAIR GROUNDS

Lynden's Fourth of July celebration will be held at the Whatcom County Fair Grounds this year, according to a decision reached Friday night by the committee in charge. The money taken in for concessions and admission fees will be turned over to the Fair Association to go towards the erection of a new educational building on the grounds.

The committee had originally planned to hold the races on Front Street, but owing to the lack of accommodations for viewing the events, and the difficulty of providing picnic grounds and other conveniences in town, agreed on transferring the entire program to the Fair Grounds.

A general admission fee of twenty five cents will be charged for adults, while children under twelve will be admitted free. The fee will include admission to the horse races, and all other events of the program.

Merchants who subscribed funds for the celebration will be notified of the change in plans by a committee composed of E. Edson, Frank Knapp and George Frick and given an opportunity of withdrawing their donation if they desire.

From the time of the big street parade at ten o'clock, there won't be a quiet moment on the grounds until nearly six, according to the plans of the committee. Racing of all kinds from fat men to horses, baseball, sports and contests, new and old, will keep the program crowded.

FRIENDS GATHER AT VAN PATTEN FUNERAL

Union service was held in the Methodist Church on Tuesday at 10 a. m. for the funeral of Faith Irene Van Patten, aged 15 years and 2 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Van Patten, of this city.

Rev. Paul Ashby conducted the service, the sermon being preached by the Rev. Percy H. Davies. The church was crowded with friends, and the service was a touching one, for she was loved by all who knew her. The following girls dressed in white acted as pall bearers, they being some of her intimate acquaintances, Hilda Elder, Almada Bowman, Gretchen McDaniel, Hazel Hoverson, Ruth Maneval. The following young ladies, by Faith's own request were the singers, and her favorite songs were sung: Misses Nellie Oakes, Pearl Tucker, Ruby McDaniel, Celia Hathaway, Flovilla Hathaway, Helen Davis. The songs were "Jesus Lover of my Soul," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Jesus Calls Us," and "Surrendered Life".

The altar of the church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers, and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. At the grave side the casket was completely covered with flowers.

Faith was born in Colfax, Wis. The remaining members of the family are, Lovina, Whitney, Lois, Leonard, Robert, Harold, and Howard.

Miss Edna Daniels was visiting her friend, Pearl Baxter, Monday.

Miss Ruby McDaniel is visiting her friend Miss Mildred Tremain of Bellingham, this week.
