Fair Wages For Labor Are More Important Than Dividends

By JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, Jr.
Capitalist

IN order to live the wage earner must sell his labor from day to day. Unless he can do this the earnings from that day's labor are gone forever. Capital can defer its return temporarily in the expectation of future profits, but labor cannot.

IF, THEREFORE, FAIR WAGES AND REASONABLE LIVING CONDITIONS CANNOT OTHERWISE BE PROVIDED, DIVIDENDS MUST BE DEFERRED OR THE INDUSTRY ABANDONED.

I believe that in matter pertaining to industrial relations the public, quite as much as the parties engaged in industry, is entitled to confidence and consideration. Industrial relations are essentially human relations, and HUMAN RELATIONS SHOULD BE NOT LESS THE CONCERN OF THE STATE AS A WHOLE THAN OF INDIVIDUALS ENGAGED IN INDUSTRY.

Powers In Conference Could Be Shown Way to End Warfare

By Professor GEORGE W. KIRCHWEY, Columbia University

AMERICA is already in the war—very much in it. Whether we will take hold or not is best to be guessed by the way we usually do things. That way is to muddle along, somewhat as the British have been doing for a year or more, instead of organizing for national military efficiency.

I have no particular sympathy for the people on one hand who are frightened and profess to see all the world in arms against the United States. Neither have I much sympathy for the people who would leave themselves and the rest of us naked to the enemy. THE FACT IS THAT WE ARE NOW IN THIS WAR. WE ARE NOT UN-NEUTRAL—FAR FROM IT. WE ARE FIGHTING ON BOTH SIDES.

It is our duty to call a conference of the world powers. I believe that President Wilson can bring such a conference into being. It is our duty to act immediately.

THERE IS NO POLITICAL BALANCE OF POWER THAT, COMBINED, CAN EFFECT PEACE. BUT HONEST NEGOTIATIONS, FAIR DEALING, GOOD WILL, THESE WILL ADJUST MATTERS, AND THE UNITED STATES CAN AND OUGHT TO LEAD IN SUCH ADJUSTMENT.

BIG NUMBER OF COURSE TUESDAY

The Apollo Concert Co., the leading number on the high school lecture course, will appear in Jamieson's Opera House Tuesday, Nov. 26.

Those who had duplications in seats should phone Superintendent P. A. Wright who will see that they get seats equally as good.

In variety of musical offerings, splendid solo work and strong ensemble no organization on the platform surpasses the Apollo Concert Company, for a dozen years one of the leading platform companies of America. Every member of this organization is a finished artist.

For several years past the Apollos have had the distinction of being the first musical company to have their time entirely sold out, and this distinction comes as a result of real merit as shown in their platform appearances.

Reserved seats for the Apollo concert will be seventy-five cents, general admission, fifty cents.

Knowing Oneself and Others Fundamental to Real Democracy

By BENJAMIN IDE WHEELER, President University of California

WHEN a man goes to college he had better make himself as quickly as possible a thoroughgoing member of the body politic and see to it that NO ACCIDENTS OF BIRTH OR BANK ACCOUNT PUT HIM OUT OF TOUCH WITH THE MASS.

Here may be a man's one chance in all his life to submit his mental mechanism, his notions and his manners to a breezy tribunal of public opinion, which takes him just as he is, and plays fair. Such an unrivaled opportunity to know oneself is worth any man's while, but it ought to be precious beyond the price of rubies to those coddled ones who have grown up under the protection of the system and never fought banded and never were plainly told, so that they could understand it, what was really the matter with them.

This much about knowing oneself we must believe everybody has recognized, whether or not everybody has recognized how fundamental it is to real democracy. It is the ordained prerequisite to knowing other people and respecting them. Under his own way of expression and within his own personal horizon the other fellow will be found to exercise reasonable sense and various compassions, much as we do, and frequently to bungle things and misjudge much as we do.

BUT WE MUST KNOW THE OTHER FELLOW—ENOUGH TO GET INTO HIS HORIZON. THEN DEMOCRACY WILL TAKE CARE OF ITSELF.

TURNED THE TABLES.

A Show Manager Who Got Even With an Obstinate Landlord.

In the book of reminiscence that P. T. Barnum, the famous showman wrote forty years ago there is an amusing anecdote that recalls the days when the one ring circus was the chief attraction of the long, hot summer.

The incident occurred when we were at Hanover Court House, in Virginia, wrote Mr. Barnum. It rained so heavily that we could not perform there and Turner, manager of the show, decided to start for Richmond tomorrow.

He was informed by the landlord that as our agent had engaged three meals and lodging for the whole company the entire bill must be paid whether we went then or the next morning. No compromise could be effected with the stubborn landlord, and so Turner proceeded to get the worth of his money as follows:

He ordered dinner at 12 o'clock, which was duly prepared and eaten. The table was cleared and reset for supper at half past 12. At 1 o'clock we all went to bed, every man carrying a lighted candle to his room. There were thirty-six of us, and we all dressed and tumbled into bed as if we were going to stay all night. In half an hour we rose and went down to the hot breakfast that Turner had demanded and that we found smoking on the table.

Turner was very grave, the landlord was exceedingly angry, and the rest of us were convulsed with laughter at the absurdity of the whole proceeding. We disposed of our breakfast as if we had eaten nothing for ten hours and then started for Richmond satisfied that we had fairly settled with the unreasonable landlord.

Content.

Seek not to be rich, but happy. The one lies in bags, the other in content which wealth can never give.—William Penn.

A Matter of Kin.

"Are you sisters?" asked the census taker of two colored women who sat on the tiny porch of their cabin. "No, sir," one of the women replied "us ain't no blood kin. You see, pointing to a rather pretentious look ing house on the hill, "hit's dis er way, Sanders, up dar in de white house, he married me fust; den Sis' Liza heah come 'long, an' he 'vorsted me an' put me out beah in de cabin so he could marry her. But himbe he 'vorsted her, and den he fetch her down de hill to de cabin to make room for dat young gal, Corn, he done married. No, str, us ain' no blood kin—I guess we's wives-in-law."—Everybody's.

Would Go Even Further.

Judge Porter, a popular Irish magistrate of some years ago, in sentencing a notorious drunkard, said:

"You will be confined in jail for the longest period the law allows, and I hope you will spend your time in cursing whisky."

"I will, sir," promptly answered the toper, "and Porter too."

TO NOMINATE AT CAUCUS MONDAY

An official caucus for the purpose of making nominations for the general municipal election Dec. 7, will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall. Formal notice of the caucus is given by the mayor on page two.
