

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

A ten pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Otter Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lopas have returned from Seattle, where Mr. Lopas was manager of the Lynden Creamery branch.

Ben Turk, great uncle of Mrs. V. D. Bussard and Ben Crabtree, visited in Lynden the past week. He is moving from Oregon to Chelan, Wn.

Victor H. Beckman, taxation expert, will deliver an address in Lynden Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Jamieson's Hall.

Mrs. Jacob Zylstra had as her guests this week her mother, Mrs. Cornelius Ossewaarde of Bellingham and her sister, Mrs. Joseph Leopold of Seattle.

Thirteen scores in the sixth inning were too much for the Sumas business men, and they lost to Lynden 18 to 16 Wednesday. Seat, Hildebran, Elenbaas, Matthews, Colby, Rocky, Wright, Wiese, Hemingway, Vander Griend and Walsh were the heroes who shared in the triumph.

William Fisher broke the bone in one of his fingers while catching for Sumas at the Fair Grounds Wednesday.

Dena Brink, little daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Brink, underwent an operation for appendicitis this week, and is recovering nicely.

War relics from Europe are being exhibited by Wilder R. Jones this week. They are a part of the $100,000 collection made by the Royal Tailors.

Fog Monday caused two collisions on the Guide. A. Strandell's auto and a stage figured in one, and an auto truck and a stage in the other.

One of the prettiest exhibits at the Fair is made by the Equitable Assurance Society. Local agents Anshell and Bauman have contrived an attractive home as a rest room.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knapp, Miss Eva Haggerson, and Bradford Knapp returned Sunday from Seattle where they visited Miss Frances Knapp, who is attending the University, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Green, formerly of Lynden.

The Lynden Creamery has given up its office in Seattle following an experiment of several months to determine whether a saving could be made by marketing direct. The Creamery found that it was cheaper to do business from Lynden, than to maintain a Seattle house.

Fires threatened the Troost place and the Fairview school this week, and several other points in this district, but no damage has been reported.

O. J. Bylsma and John Lubbers shipped a car of potatoes this week to Iowa, and will follow it up with another next week.

Born last Thursday, to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Palmer, a son.

William Redd had one of his fingers crushed Friday.

Henry D. Esterbrook of New York will speak in Bellingham Saturday evening. Mr. Esterbrook was a candidate for the Republican nomination for President of the United States. He carried on a very aggressive campaign and for a time it was felt that he might be seriously considered as a presidential possibility. He is rated as one of the few great orators in public life.

Dr. S. S. Howe, Oculist and Aurist. At Dr. Mounter's office Tuesdays. Glasses accurately fitted.

An error of one cent was made last week in reporting the price being paid for butterfat in Lynden. The price went up four cents, and is now 41 cents a pound.

The first meeting of the Ladies' Music Club will be held Wednesday evening, October 20, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. P. A. Wright. Plans for the year's study will be discussed, and all members are requested to be present.

Her Delight.

She was walking around the corridors of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts with her pince nez held at elbow length, evidently admiring some of the works. Alighting the gown that she wore was very expensive, it did not show good taste, and a single glance would convince one that she was of the class known as the "newly rich."

An acquaintance accosted her with the remark, "I didn't know that you were such an admirer of curios Mrs. —"

"Oh, yes, indeed," she replied; "I just delight in iniquities." — Philadelphia Ledger.

Blessed Ignorance.

"How much does it cost you to run this yacht, old chap?"
"If I knew I wouldn't do it." — Life.
