The Lynden Gimlet

This week's fashion note—James Jacoby, who is building a mansion for Leslie Frasier on the river bottom, carries his lunch to his work in a beautiful midnight blue can.

Charlie Philo never, never wants to grow up to be a wrestler like Mister Gotch. In a brief match with Shorty Hardenbrook last week, Philo got his leg tangled up in a binder that was standing close by, and tied it up into a neat doughnut knot. He is now appearing in public supported by two canes.

The government ought to present Mrs. Ada M. Bates of Lynden with a medal. Mrs. Bates, who is eighty years young, has one of the finest vegetable gardens in the city.

Yes, and about three-fingers of rain wouldn't do us any harm.

A. H. Frasier lost his glasses a few weeks ago, and advertised for them in The Tribune. They were returned to him this week, another demonstration of the effectiveness of the advertising columns of this publication. Mrs. Frasier found them in the chicken yard, and as she reads the Gimlet regularly, knew at once to whom they belonged.

Wilder Jones, Robert L. Averill, F. E. Daniels, P. M. Serrurier, Dr. F. L. Wood, W. H. Waples, and a few others have joined the Home Guard, which assures those who leave for the front that their widows and orphans will be well cared for.

Now that Chief Pixley and his fire department are all dressed up with a new red auto, they find themselves without any place to go. Someone ought to be considerate enough to start the fire with gasoline one of these cool mornings.

Don't Be a Slacker, Mr. Poultryman!

The Washington Cooperative Egg and Poultry Association, during the few months of its existence, has been able to advance the price of eggs from the start, and keep them at a higher figure simply by controlling a large portion of the eggs that come to the Seattle market. This is not bunk or guess work—it is a proven fact. You have been reaping the benefit of the Association's work, Mr. Poultryman, whether you are a member of the Association or not. Your profits have been increased because of the Association.

The Association cannot exist unless you send it your eggs in order that it may have enough of them to control the market. Wouldn't it be wisdom on your part—and the right thing to do—to stand by the organization that has swelled your bank account, especially since the Association offers to pay you, in cash if you need it, exactly as much as you can get elsewhere, and not infrequently considerably more?

It's up to you—if the Association is to continue in business in Lynden and elsewhere. You can do your part in making it a success, or you can kill the goose that lays the golden egg by selling your eggs elsewhere.

When in need of poultry supplies, or if you want to know what your eggs and poultry are worth, or for any information in our line, just call up
