

The Samson Tractor Is Here!

We have finally accepted the agency for the famous Samson Tractor in this locality. We could not do this until we were thoroughly convinced that the Samson was the tractor that would meet with the approval of the farmers around Lynden.

The Samson Tractor is built along correct lines, by the right company,—a Division of the General Motors Company—who have made hundreds of thousands of machines in the past years.

The Samson is rapidly becoming popular in different parts of the country. It is making good in other places, and is bound to make good here. We have a sample machine which we shall be pleased to show you when you are in town.

Come in and look it over.

The Lynden Gimlet

Adrian P. Jongeneel, the popular hamburger dispenser of the Hookstra market, polished up Tuesday to get married. He made all preliminary arrangements, shaved, manicured, and called at the Gimlet office to let us know the glad news exactly as it appears over on Page Four.

Then forth started Adrian for Bellingham to get the license.

Tuesday was Columbus Day, a legal holiday. The courthouse was closed.

The ceremony, hence and therefore took place on Wednesday.

And now a complaint is being made because the city doesn't have to pay for 160 feet of concrete paving on the Colley Hill. If an attempt is made to collect the money, the council could file a counter charge against the county for willfully and maliciously destroying a fine section of gravel road that can hardly be replaced.

This is getting to be a real campaign. Will Bauman has issued election cards with his picture on them.

You can't keep 'em away. J. W. Seat has moved back to town.

Charles Schelin, Jake De Hoog and A. N. Snider are laying for cows and their families that wander around on the roads of Lynden township without an escort.

NEWS OF LYNDEN

Mr. George Olson is ill this week.

Mrs. L. A. Jones entertained with a linen shower one day last week for Mrs. Hawkes, whose home was burned down at Eagleton, Idaho, a short time ago. Mrs. Hawkes received many beautiful and useful gifts. Mrs. Jones served a dainty lunch to Mesdames Hawkes, Kanarr, R. Osgoodby, J. Taylor, W. Ashton, B. A. Axlund, and Miss Ruth Handy.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Benson is quite ill this week.

Mr. Harry Meyers is ill at the residence of his father, Mr. Charles Meyers.

J. W. Seat has moved back to Lynden.

Charles Roo purchased a new Overland Four from the Service Garage this week.

A son was born Tuesday evening to Mr. and Mrs. J. Doornebal.

Mrs. S. S. Gilmore will be operated on in Bellingham this week.

A PUZZLE

When is a battery not a battery? There are very many answers to this puzzle—Here are some of them:

A battery is not a battery when you have let it run dry for any length of time.

Or when you have let it keep on overcharging.

Or when you have let it undercharge.

Or when you have let your car stand in the garage for months over the winter without using the battery.

Or when you have let some knot-head calling himself a "battery expert" tamper and tinker with it.

Regular inspection of your battery here will keep it in the best possible shape, ready for you when you press the starting pedal.
