

Measure the Profit of Your Stump Land—Cleared!

PLAN right now to clear off more land before planting—and after harvest, too. Use the "off-seasons" to provide for bigger profits on future crops. One crop usually pays the entire cost of clearing and leaves a profit besides. All following crops are clear profit.

The great land-clearing movement that swept the country in 1920 is even stronger in 1921—farmers the country over are clearing more land this year than ever before.

The modern way is to use dynamite for blasting out stumps and boulders, for this method is very rapid, reasonable in cost and leaves the land in good condition for cultivation. The majority of farmers use which have done and are doing highly efficient and economical work in the clearing of hundreds of thousands of acres. See our dealer for Du Pont Stumping Powders. Write for free book, "Developing Logged-off Lands."

United After Many Years.

Many years ago a Wesleyan Methodist minister living in the north of England had among his congregation two young people who were engaged to be married. Differences arose and the engagement was broken off and each married some one else. The minister left the district three years later and heard no more of the couple for nearly 25 years. He was returning home then from a journey and met another minister who told him he had just officiated at a wedding of the lovers that the first minister had known in Cumberland. They had both become widowed; the woman had become the mother of 21 children and the man the father of 19. Every one of the 40 children were present at the ceremony and reception of their parents.

Golf Ball Insurance Now.

The beginner at golf, although he may not be able to drive his ball very far, generally gets it into the rough sooner or later, and manages to lose a good many of the expensive little spheres.

At one of the country clubs near New York, says the Sun of that city, the caddy master is doing a nice little business insuring balls. For 50 cents he agrees to replace with balls in good condition any that are lost. His caddies are well trained and in most cases he comes out ahead, for he gives his patrons second-hand balls which have been found on the links and repainted. Their cost to him is practically nothing.

Greed Brought About Fish's Death.

While walking along the north shore of Horse lake, British Columbia, a reader found two dead fish under curious circumstances, a ling about three feet long and a sucker about 13 inches long. The ling had tried to swallow the sucker head foremost, but the body of the latter was too thick for his throat and the stiff fin on the back of the sucker, acting like the barb of a fish-hook, made it impossible for the ling to free himself.

Mood of Skepticism.

"A boy with a bent pin is likely to catch more fish than you will with that expensive tackle."
"Mebbe so," replied the patient angler. "Anyhow, the small boy would be willing to trade even any time I made the proposition. And, besides, how do you know that isn't one of those entertaining fish stories that can't be verified?"

Ancient Will Discovered.

The will of a centenarian who died in England in 1836 has just been found in the roof of an outhouse. It was dated 1780.

Bibulous Rats.

Two rats were found absolutely intoxicated in the cellar of a Beaconsfield (Eng.) house. The rats had nibbled through the corks of four bottles of port wine and consumed the contents.
