BLOOD HISTORY

Born in bone marrow—dies in the liver. This is the beginning and the end of the rich, red blood that keeps us all alive. Blood history makes a fascinating story.

Scott's Emulsion often plays a most important part in blood history. At the very beginning—that is where its influence is greatest.

Scott's Emulsion is a blood food—a rich material for making new blood. Nothing better for bringing color to pale faces.

We'll send you a little try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

NORTHWEST NEWS.

Curfew rings at North Yakima and boys under 16 found on the streets after 9 o'clock will be jailed. The dominion government has decided to reduce the royalty on gold mined in the Yukon district. The royalty is now 5 per cent. It has been decided to reduce it to 3 or perhaps to 2 1/2 per cent.

A strange case of suspended animation occurred at Everett last week. Daniel S. Cain, aged 58, to all appearances passed from life and was prepared for burial. Five hours later he revived, sat up in bed and sang songs of thanksgiving, apparently in a rational state of mind. Death came an hour later.

The funeral of Chief Saltese of the Coeur d'Alene Indians took place quietly at De Smet mission April 23. High mass was read by Rev. Father Caruana, the priest in charge of the mission. Only the family and intimate friends were present. His death was in accordance with the last wishes of the dead chief.

The discovery of a deficit of over $6000 in the accounts of N. E. Birbeck and Colonel W. C. Haywood, respectively general freight and passenger agent and auditor of the Kettle Valley lines, has been made public at Grand Forks, B. C., where both men were prominent. Gambling caused the downfall of Birbeck, who is a married man with six children. With Heywood, who is a bachelor of about fifty years, it was wine and women that caused his ruin. Both have left for parts unknown.

The spotted fever scourge in the Bitter Root valley, Montana, has broken out with the greatest violence than at any time known in the history of the disease. Eight persons have died of the strange malady within a week. The disease is unknown elsewhere, and thus far has baffled the physicians. The disease commences with a fever like typhoid and spots begin to show all over the body. The spots increase in size and at death the victim is spotted like a rattlesnake.

A serious passenger wreck occurred on the Central Washington road about three miles northwest of Cheney, April 23. The wreck was caused in a most peculiar manner. A sheet iron cattle guard, interwoven between the ties of loose, and caught in the trucks of the rear car, throwing it off the track. It pulled the smoking car and mail car off with it. The three cars were dragged about 200 feet, when the two cars containing passengers toppled over, and fell on their sides. About a dozen passengers were injured, the only fatality being the killing of the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Bowie of Beardon. He was sitting with his mother on the side of the car which was undermost in the fall. He was at the window and when the car toppled over he went through the window, and the car, which slid a few inches after falling, crushed his life out.

Need Not Use the Books. Judge O. V. Linn of the superior court at Olympia, has rendered an opinion adverse to the Westland Publishing company in the test case brought to compel school district No. 1 of Thurston county to adhere to the state course of study and use the different books adopted by the state board, in exact accord with the schedule laid down. Judge Linn's opinion is to the effect that the legislature intended that the state board should adopt a course of study that could be adjusted to the several school districts according to their conditions, and that the board of directors in grading their districts should establish a course of study by fitting the state course to the grades established. He decides that the defendants were not acting in conflict with the law in failing to use certain books or in using books not specified by the state board.

Orchard Blossoms. The Japanese people are said to be very fond of cherry and plum blossoms, and one of their popular annual fetes is the cherry-blossom festival. In this country we have not sufficiently appreciated the beauty of these spring flowers. We have been so much interested in the plum and cherry trees as fruit-bearers that we have paid little or no attention to their beauty as ornaments. One of the prettiest of them all is the common sour cherry—Morello, Montmorency, or alfalfa, most any other variety. A tree loaded with flowers, as the trees always are, is a magnificent sight; but the flowers are also very decorative when cut.

Somewhat Tender Hearted. Okesdale Tidings: While a large number of papers over the county appear to be making an effort to outstrip each other in condemning former auditor Raby for his shortage in the county funds, we prefer to remain silent. Mr. Raby may have, and no doubt has made a mistake, the penalty for which will bring untold sorrow and anguish to both himself and his loved ones, and while it is right that he should be punished for his crime, it is also right, just and christian-like that the lash of the press should not be laid too heavily on his back. Some have even gone so far as to rake up past history, an act which is at all times condemned by the better class of citizens.

In Different Vein. Palouse Republic: Some people criticize the newspapers for finding fault with ex-Auditor Raby's method of handling county funds. We admit that it would be a finding a more brotherly spirit to pat the aforementioned gentleman on the back and say "Raby, you're a nice fellow; you've saved us money and probably would have saved us more if it could have been kept out of your reach. If you're ever out of a job, just come around."

A Profitable Cow. Garfield Enterprise: Hiram Gragg owns a cow that is doing good service in the way of supplying the demand for cattle in the Palouse country. In three years she has raised six calves, having produced twins three successive times. These calves are now worth $200. Six dollars a month is a low estimate for the milk and butter produced by this cow. Thus it will be seen that the total product of this cow in three years is $416.
