BOER GENERALS IN ENGLAND

BOTHA, DEWET AND DELAREY.

Were Met With a Great Reception From Government Officials and Public—To Raise Money for Families of Dead Soldiers—Will Come to United States.

Southampton, Aug. 18.—Generals Botha, Dewet and Delarey have arrived and met with a great reception, both from government officials and public.

The Boer generals looked well and evidently were much pleased at the heartiness of the welcome accorded them. Soon after landing they boarded the steamship Niagara, where Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, Earl Roberts and General Kitchener greeted them. They were also introduced to Mrs. Chamberlain and Lady Roberts, with whom they chatted for some time.

Official arrangements had been made to permit the generals to witness the naval review, but after a conference with Abram Fischer, the former Boer delegate, who came from The Hague, it was announced that they intended to proceed direct to London, in order to reach Holland as speedily as possible. The generals go to Holland to pay their last respects to the memory of General Lucas Meyer, who died of heart disease on August 5.

General Dewet, in conversation here, confirmed the statement that he and his companions will visit the United States before returning to South Africa.

In London.

London, Aug. 18.—The Boer generals reached London in the course of the afternoon and were loudly cheered in the streets. Asked why they had declined the government's invitation to witness the naval review, the visitors remarked that they were "too tired after the long war, and needed a rest."

It is still uncertain whether or not they will return to Cowes to see the king.

The scene at the railroad station on the arrival of the Boers was remarkable. A large crowd gave them a welcome as hearty as that given Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener when they arrived here from South Africa. Shouts of "Good old Dewet," "Our friend the enemy" and "Brave soldiers all" were frequently heard amid salves of cheers.

General Dewet was fairly cornered by a mob, and had to be rescued by the police, who by sheer force cleared a line of retreat for him.

General Dewet stated that the Boer generals had accepted an invitation to visit King Edward at Cowes, after which, he said, the Boer generals expected to give out a statement of their views and plans. The main object of their tour was the collection of a fund for the families of Boers who died in behalf of their country. He added that a circular would be drafted stating the Boer case to the British public.

Upon arriving at Southampton the Boer generals were welcomed on board the commander in chief's yacht Wildfire by Earl Roberts and General Lord Kitchener. They visited King Edward on board the Victoria and Albert and were then taken on a visit around the fleet by the Wildfire. They returned to London this evening, accompanied by Earl Roberts and General Kitchener who took leave of the Boers at Waterloo.

In an interview with a representative of the Associated Press General Delarey's secretary described the visit to his majesty. He said that when the Boer generals boarded the royal yacht, King Edward came forward, and after they had been introduced, shook hands with each of them. The Boers were highly pleased with their reception. After a brief and informal talk of a nonpolitical nature with King Edward they were introduced to Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria.

The reception by his majesty lasted a quarter of an hour. The king spoke of "the gallant and brave manner" in which the generals had fought through the long and arduous campaign, and of the consideration and kindness with which the generals had treated British wounded. His majesty expressed his warm wishes for their future. It was at the king's suggestion that the Boers took the trip around the fleet aboard the Wildfire.

BRITISH LION MAKES A ROAR

WAR VESSEL TO COLOMBIA.

To Protect the Interests of British Subjects—International Complications—Agents of Pacific Steam Navigation Company Refused to Transport Troops for the Colombian Government.

Panama, Colombia, Aug. 20.—Inquiries made by the Associated Press show that serious international complications may arise at Buena Ventura, where the Colombian government assembled 200 troops under General Velasco and threatened to compel the British steamer Ecuador, owned by the Pacific Steam Navigation company of Liverpool, to transport the reinforcements to Panama. The agents of the line refused to embark the troops, and appealed to the company's representatives here, who in turn placed the matter before the British consul, with the result that the cruiser Phaeton was sent to Buena Ventura to protect British interests.

The action of the Pacific Steam Navigation company in refusing to transport the troops has caused indignation in Colombian government circles. A high official, who was interviewed on the subject, said that a contract was made by the government in 1873 with the Pacific Steam Navigation company, by which the government granted many liberal concessions to the company. The Colombian government, it was added, has since the contract was signed, paid the Pacific Steam Navigation company over $20,000 in subsidies, in consideration of which the company agreed to transport Colombian civil and military employes, prisoners, mails and soldiers at special rates.

In conclusion the high official of the Colombian government referred to, said that the present refusal of the Pacific Steam Navigation company to transport Colombian troops here may be sustained by the presence of a British warship at Buena Ventura; nevertheless, it is a clear violation of the contract between the Colombian government and the steamship company made in good faith by the government, which has faithfully adhered to its agreements.

In government circles it is claimed that the nonarrival of the reinforcements of troops from Buena Ventura will prolong the revolution on the Isthmus and cause unnecessary bloodshed, and that consequently the government of Colombia has ground to claim damages from the Pacific Steam Navigation company. There is no doubt that the government will bring suit against the company.

In order that heavy financial loss may not be caused to the farmers dependent on the company for the sale of their milk, arrangements already have been made by the receiver to continue the operation of its various plants. ANTHRACITE MINERS' STRIKE.

None of the Coal Miners Will Work for Former Pay.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 18.—The strike in the anthracite region is as firm as the everlasting hills. Confidence and quiet reign supreme.

Such is "the strike synopsis" of the situation in the anthracite field as published in last week's issue of the Mineworkers' Journal, the official organ of the United Mineworkers' of America. The fourteenth week of the strike has closed, and the managers declare that the strikers are more determined than when the strike was first declared.

"The fact that 179,000 men have remained on strike for that period," said W. B. Wilson, secretary-treasurer, "witnesses a sign of a break in the ranks is the strongest argument that I know of in favor of the justice of their claims. If ever a portion of that number had received even living wages before the strike, it would be next to impossible to keep them from returning to work."

"While the strikers are being cared for in the best manner possible, there is nothing in the provision made that would make a man prefer to live in idleness if it was possible to earn a living in the mines."

Mr. Wilson said there was no fixed rule for the distribution of the money and supplies which are provided by the national organization. The census bureau says the average family consists of five members, and on this basis the miners' organization is caring for 856,000 men, women and children.

"I don't believe there is any possible way to whip the striking miners, unless it is to starve them out," Mr. Wilson said, "and I do not see any very grave danger of that coming to pass."

Large sums are received daily by Wilson for the strikers' fund. This is all sent to the strike region as rapidly as received.

At Wilkesbarre.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 18.—It expected that the Warnke washery, at Duryea, would resume operations today, but none of the employes reported for work.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Bishop O'Gorman of Sloux Falls, S. D., has presented to President Roosevelt an autograph letter from Pope Leo, together with a beautiful mosaic picture of the vatican gardens. The letter is in French, and is as follows:

"Mr. President: I am much pleased with the congratulations you addressed to me in your letter of the 9th of May, and since, in addition to the good wishes also expressed through the governor of the Philippines, you have added a present of your own works, I am doubly grateful."

"You, Mr. President, will surely remember the many expressions of good will which I uttered concerning the United States. Nothing could be to me more agreeable than to assure you of my good wishes, especially at the moment when the negotiations of Governor Taft, having ended in a satisfactory result for both sides, have come to strengthen the excellent understanding between the church and the United States authorities. "As a token of my satisfaction I have charged Mgr. O'Gorman to bring you a mosaic picture from the workshop of the vatican representing our gardens. May I ask you to keep it as a souvenir and as an expression of my friendly feelings. "LEO XIII.

"Rome, The Vatican, 18 July, 1902."

Troops at Lansford.

Lansford, Pa., Aug. 20.—With all lights out, the train bearing General Gobin and his staff and the First battalion of the Twelfth regiment from Shenandoah steamed quietly into this town in the morning. The strikers were worked up to such a high pitch of excitement last night over the shooting of Sharp, who was one of their leaders, that it was feared an outbreak would occur, and the sheriff called for troops. Contrary to expectations, no attempt was made by the strikers to march to Nesquehoning, and no demonstration of any kind was made, either here or at Nesquehoning.
