

NEWS OF THE COUNTY

Things Heard, Said and Done by Our Neighbors.

Reported by Correspondents of The Gazette and Gathered from Other Sources.

ALBION.

Roy Thompson, a lad about eight years of age, was seriously injured Tuesday by being kicked by a horse he was leading to work. His skull was fractured and he was taken to the hospital at Colfax to have an operation performed.

Dick Parr of Union Flat has erected a planing mill at this place near the depot.

James McMahon, one of the players in the ball team here, had a finger quite badly hurt while playing ball Saturday.

Bert Jennings is a victim of measles, coming home from his place of work quite ill.

Mrs. Crawford is quite ill from an attack of blood poison in her face and head.

Mrs. Susan Loving is recovering from a severe attack of the grip.

Violet Hull, a little girl 9 years of age, was kicked by a cow Tuesday evening and slightly injured on one of her limbs.

Herbert Wallace slipped and fell Sunday night spraining his wrist badly.

Hiram Mitchell of Endicott was in town a few days last week on business.

R. M. Bachus of Gifford, Idaho, is visiting friends here.

Roy Rounds of Garfield was doing business here Tuesday.

Saylor Denn's is recovering from an attack of measles.

A good game of base ball was played between Pullman and Albion last Sunday. The score stood 15 to 8 in favor of Pullman.

The Christian ladies' aid society cleared $30 at their Easter supper Saturday night.

The W. C. T. U. will hold their parlor meeting Friday afternoon.

The Easter entertainment at Edwards college was a decided success. The program was under the supervision of President Baldwin.

KAMIAK.

We hope spring is on the way at last. We have seen very little of it up to date in this part of the country.

Some of the farmers have been plowing and more expect to start this week.

This cold weather has been very productive of the malady called grippe.

Jim Robinson is rejoicing over the advent of another son, which arrived last week.

George Tempero, who bought 240 acres of land last fall, has moved his household goods and went there recently.

Dave Whitney bought a feed mill last week. He also bought a wind mill a short time ago, so that he will not have to pump water for his herds of cattle and horses.

Columbus Stevens has fenced the whole of his ranch hog tight this spring. He evidently expects to make a goodly sum of money off of hogs.

Hogs are seven cents a pound in Palouse and baled hay of any kind $16 per ton.

Mr. Keys, our new mail carrier on Route No. 1, is giving perfect satisfaction.

Grandma Mood of Clear Creek is quite sick with paralysis.

W. Peddycord of Palouse has rented the Farris ranch for one year. He moved out last week with his family.

Mrs. Wm. Robinson of Deep creek, whose sons and daughters live in this neighborhood, expects to go to California this spring for her health. It is not known when she expects to return.

Miss Eunice Whitney celebrated her thirteenth birthday recently by giving a party to which thirteen guests were invited.

The neighborhood at large like Miss Daisy Knight so well that the directors are thinking of asking her to teach a month longer than usual, so that the little children may have a chance for more schooling.

TENNESSEE FLAT.

A. W. Freels and W. H. Woodhouse were in Colfax last Tuesday.

Dr. Divine of Elberton is constructing a bar wire telephone line to give him connection with this part of the county.

The continued cold weather delays farm work and nothing grows but the squirrels.

Roxie Divine of Cottonwood visited with Grace Smith Sunday.

Special Easter services were held at the church Easter Sunday.

J. P. T. McCroskey visited the school Tuesday morning.

Saved by an Owl. King Robert the Bruce, according to the well known story, once owed his safety to a spider. Among the Tartars of central Asia there is a belief that one of their khans or chiefs was preserved, long years ago, by the great horned owl. He had hidden in a thicket to avoid capture by some enemies. By and by his pursuers came to this spot.

The first thing they saw was an owl sitting on a bush. What did this mean? It signified in their eyes that this bird would not rest quietly there if any man were lying concealed close by. Therefore they argued that the khan could not be there, and so they hurried on to search for him elsewhere. At nightfall the khan made his way to the camp of his men and told them how he had been saved from certain death. His story caused them ever afterward to look upon the owl with reverence and love. They wore its feathers in their caps as a pledge of victory.

OF MERRIMAC FAME.

Captain Richmond P. Hobson, the "Hero of the Merrimac," has been secured to deliver his famous lecture, "The American Navy: Its Traditions and Victories," at The Ridgeway, Tuesday evening, April 21.

The Rockford (Ill.) Daily Star, referring to his appearance there, says that "Thousands cheered his address. The naval hero won all hearts at the assembly of nearly 6000 people who heard him."

From the Winfield (Kan.) Courier: The lecture by Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson was one of the best, most practical talks ever heard from the assembly platform. Every available foot of space on the platform, as well as the main part of the tabernacle, was filled and people were lined up several feet deep all the way round on the outside.

Captain Hobson pleasantly disappointed a large part of his audience, in that he was not only a gentleman and patriotic American, but an orator and thoughtful student of humanity as well. The women admired his handsome face, graceful figure, and "carrying" voice, while the men admired his thought, argument, oratory, and most of them his politics. It is very plain to be seen that his hobby is expansion, and the supremacy of the American navy. He seems to have made that his life's study, and the history, particularly naval, of his country is at his fingers' ends. When he tells of the growing commerce which must in time to come be dependent on the navy, his hearers are forced to believe with him that our ships should be the greatest navy on the seas.

Admission 75c, 50c and 25c.

IN MEMORIAM.

Whereas, an all wise Providence has removed from our midst Past Grand "Uncle" D. Wolfard, of Colfax Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the members of Colfax Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., give expression to our feelings of sorrow and deep bereavement, in the loss of our beloved brother, who on account of his honor and integrity, and his solicitude for the comfort and welfare of his family and friends, commanded the respect and confidence of all who knew him. Be it further

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days as a token of respect for our deceased brother, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this lodge, and a copy sent to the beloved and bereaved widow of our deceased brother, and a copy published in the Colfax papers.

Barber Shop Moved.

Neal Brothers have removed their barber shop from the building located next to the Tennessee hotel to the Moffatt building, at the corner of Main and Upton streets. This building has been remodeled and presents a most pleasing appearance. Emory and Jesse Neal were in Spokane this week, where they purchased new shop furniture, including chairs, mirrors and barber fixtures. Their new shaving parlors are strictly up-to-date and they invite all of their old customers to their new quarters. A first class bookblack stand in the shop.

Catching the Curculio.

The curculio has been controlled successfully by jarring the trees in early morning and collecting the insects in the curculio catcher. The can below the canvas into which the insects fall is partially filled with kerosene.

A sheet with the seam ripped half the length to permit its being readily placed around the tree is a cheap and effective substitute for the catcher here figured. When the sheet is used, the insects should be collected in another receptacle after jarring each tree.—Kansas Station.

Dr. Pierce's GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Restores LOST FLESH AND STRENGTH

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat," writes Mr. J. C. Beers, of Beryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from doctors but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore, accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."
