ALBION AFFAIRS

Mrs. J. S. Pitzer, known among her numerous friends here as "Auntie," who has made her home with the Whetzel family of this place, died last Saturday morning at the advanced age of 84 years.

services which were to have been held January 15th have been postponed until January 22d.

Mrs. Mary Saylor and Mrs. King both received first prizes at the Ladies' Sewing society. Who will be next?

DIAMOND DRIFT

Fall wheat is looking fine, and at the present time there seems to be no lack of moisture, at least you'll think so if you travel on foot any distance.

John Andrews, wife and child left last week for Seattle. Mr. Andrews sold his house and lot here to Frank Dudo.

Many attended the invitation dance given at Endicott Tuesday evening and all report having had a good time.

The debate at the Lee literary this Friday evening, will be "Competition vs. Co-operation." A lively time is promised, as the speakers on either side have quite a reputation.

Silas Quigley has been very ill with an attack of dropsy.

What is intended as a "slam" at the O. R. & N. Railroad people was given Tuesday evening when some parties around Diamond placed a dispirited out-house on the right-of-way, tabling it: "O. R. & N. Depot," "327 Miles to Portland," "Colfax, 8 miles," "Ticket Office."

A big pumpkin, cut to represent a face with a lighted candle inside the head bearing a cap labeled "Agent," was at the entrance. The affair afforded some fun for the passengers on the up and down train Wednesday.

We doubt the wisdom of the action in placing the unsightly obstacle in full view of the traveling public, but we recognize the fact that the little burg is entitled to some kind of a depot or shelter for passengers and freight.

Even railroad men have been heard to remark "that Diamond was entitled to a depot from the fact that more people get on and off and more freight shipped than from any way station between Spokane and Portland."

A grand invitation dance and basket supper will be given at Clyde Waldrip's this evening.

Fred Waldrip informs your correspondent that since he informed him he was "feeding 80 head of hogs for the Seattle market," no less than six buyers came to his place looking to their purchase.

The hog market is evidently looking up. One thing is certain, hogs will be scarce for the June market.

DUSTY DOINGS

Harmon Eberle has recently arrived from Wathena, Kansas, and has accepted a position as clerk in H. P. Allen's store.

Mike Frye and Miss Anna Michaelson were joined together in the holy bonds of matrimony last Saturday.

The newly-made man and wife immediately left for a few weeks' visit with friends in Illinois, after which they will return to their home here, which they have purchased from J. T. Allen.

Arthur Ellis is carrying the mail for a few days, relieving Mr. Irish during the cold weather.

The La Crosse and Dusty Telephone company has been incorporated and is building a good, substantial high line between the two towns, which will be a great improvement over the barb wire system.

HUBBARD ITEMS

Mr. Gray, who has been confined to the house with a long spell of sickness was so far recovered as to be able to visit his daughters, Mrs. Brodie and Mrs. McCaw, last Saturday and Sunday.

Bert Crumaker is on the sick list this week.

Floyd Smith has been quite sick, but is reported better.

N. E. McCaw, our popular teacher, announces that this will be his last term of school. He has purchased a farm and will give his attention to it in the spring.

We wish him success.

The Hubbard neighborhood can report more sickness than has ever been known before. Almost every home has some member of it under the doctor's care.

"Grandpa" Lair is a little stronger, but is still unable to leave his bed.

AN EAGLE ATTACKS A CHILD

Fierce Bird Attempts to Carry Off A Little Girl.

By a quick dash to the rescue, George Merriman saved his 5 year old daughter, Beulah, from the talons of a huge eagle, which twice swooped down at the child in an attempt to carry her away.

Beulah was playing last Saturday afternoon in the dooryard of the Merriman home, about two miles east of Palouse, just over the Idaho line. It was just after dinner and the child was amusing herself alone.

The first intimation she had of the presence of the eagle was the sound of flapping wings. The child shrieked and bounded toward the house, barely escaping the ugly talons. The bird, however, made another swoop at the child, and would have succeeded in carrying her off had not Mr. Merriman rushed into the house with his gun. He fired twice at the eagle and killed it. It measured seven feet from tip to tip.

It is reported that the Auditorium theater at Oakesdale, which has been closed for some time is to be re-opened soon under new management.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Marshall, who have resided in Pullman for 25 years have sold their property there and have gone to the newly irrigated country near Twin Falls in Southern Idaho.

At the regular meeting of Elberton camp No. 250, Woodmen of the World, held last Saturday night, the following newly elected officers were installed: S. K. Wells, consul commander; I. T. Courtright, advisor lieutenant; J. W. Berkstresser, banker; H. C. Eitel, clerk; G. H. Lawrence, secretary; U. E. Kelly, watchman; G. F. Fage, secretary; D. A. Beckard, manager. FINLEY UNDER ARREST

Young Man of Pullman Charged With Seduction.

Walter Finley, son of A. K. Finley, a prominent citizen of Pullman, was arrested on a charge of seducing Effie Flock, the daughter of a well known farmer living near Pullman, last Tuesday.

The warrant was issued several weeks ago but the officers were unable to locate him until the first of this week when they discovered his hiding place.

Learning that he was discovered he came to Colfax with his father and gave himself up. He was arraigned Wednesday and his trial was set for Jan. 27. Bonds were furnished and he was liberated.

It is alleged that he seduced the girl under a solemn promise of marriage. Miss Flock claims that the wedding was set for last September and that in anticipation of her marriage she put up a lot of fruit, but that Finley kept putting off the marriage from time to time.

On December 3, 1904, Finley married Miss Emma Grohmann of Pullman.

Things Theatrical

Concerning the performance of Don Caesar De Bezan to be given at the Ridgeway on Saturday evening, February 11th by Mrs. B. Hanford and company, the Topeka, Kansas Daily Herald of December 27 says:

Charles B. Hanford has found something in Don Caesar De Bezan for which the theater-going public has waited long and patiently.

Tersely stated, Hanford is the right man in the right place in Don Caesar and the public is not slow to recognize that he is giving what has been so long desired—a first class acting in a piece worthy of a first class artist and at the same time sparkling and entertaining and light enough to be thoroughly enjoyed.

Such a play is Don Caesar and such an artist is Mr. Hanford. The man has been here many times before; the piece was seen here for the first time last year.

Don Caesar de Bezan is by G. A. A'Beckett and Mark Lemon and is bright, sparkling, amusing, interesting and withal serious enough to make it valuable. The lines are unusually clever and "Don Caesar" part is full of the cleanest and brightest wit and humor.

But there is a touch of seriousness in the play and enough chances for Mr. Hanford to show his superb work to make it a just claimant for a forward place in the dramatic world.

Second to Hanford is Miss Marie Drofnah (Mrs Hanford, in private life) in all of Hanford's work. She plays the part of "Martina," a Gypsy in Don Caesar and does it pleasantly. Not only is her acting worthy of mention but her stage appearance is markedly good.

It is a noteworthy fact that this company will play but two towns in eastern Washington this season, and those are Colfax and Spokane.

Rev. U. S. Hawk of Spokane performed the ceremony.

The spacious rooms of the house were tastefully and elaborately decorated with flowers and the ceremony was performed under a flower bell suspended from a beautifully festooned arch.

A large number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony and wish the bride happiness and congratulate the groom.

After the wedding proper the guests and visitors were delightfully entertained by instrumental music and a recitation by Miss Ethel Persen.

An elegant luncheon was served and many handsome and valuable wedding presents were given the happy couple.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Craig. The bride looked very charming in a dress of white silk null while the groom was dressed in the conventional black.

The newly made benedict is one of the corps of teachers in the public schools of Endicott and is a most worthy young man. The bride is a sister of Messrs. J. C. and J. V. Fairies and is very popular among a large circle of friends and relatives in both Endicott and Colfax.
