DUSTY DOINGS.

The farmers of this vicinity are seeding their ground with a glad smile on their faces and a song on their lips. They have great expectations for a bumper crop, which are justified by the crops of the past eight years. With plenty of moisture to start the crops everything looks favorable.

H. J. Ackerman is building a neat little barn on his place here. P. Ackerman has a slight attack of appendicitis, but hopes are entertained that it will not prove serious enough to necessitate an operation.

Although we can not boast of any sudden great boom in this part of the country, we have enjoyed a steady, progressive forward move for the past seven years. Land has increased from $2 to $37.50, new and substantial buildings have been built and everything looks prosperous.

H. P. Allen, our local merchant, reports business double what it has ever been before.

We still stand in need of a good blacksmith, and hope some good mechanic may locate here soon.

A petition is to be circulated at once for the establishment of an R. F. D. mail route from this point, four miles up Alkali, then across to Little Alkali and down that flat and across to Willow Creek and return here. The proposed route will accommodate about 125 families with about a twenty-six mile drive.

HUBBARD ITEMS.

Mr. Lewis Cochran and family returned Friday from Tennessee, after an eight months' visit.

Miss Ethel Ellis returned to her home in Oakesdale Sunday.

Miss Effie Lair will teach music in Winona. She has a class of thirteen in that place.

Mrs. James Matlock who underwent an operation in Walla Walla recently, is doing much better than expected and will be able to leave the hospital in two weeks.

The Warner place was sold this week to Mr. Ike Ellis of Colfax.

Quite a number of lady friends of Mrs. S. Lyons surprised her by gathering at her home Thursday and helping celebrate her birthday. A splendid dinner was served, all feeling it a day pleasantly spent.

CLEAR CREEK ITEMS.

Miss Etty Schroll of Pullman is visiting on the creek this week.

Mrs. George Hill and Mrs. J. S. Beard left today to visit relatives and friends in Pullman and Clarkston for a few weeks.

The executrix sale of Mrs. M. J. Mood will be held on Tuesday, the 14th.

COUNTY CULLINGS.

It is reported that the Potlatch Lumber company will erect a sawmill and planing mill at Farmington as soon as the new railroad is completed from that point to Princeton, Idaho.

Frank T. Sheppard has sold the Farmington News Era to the News Publishing company, who have changed the name of the paper to the Farmington News. W. C. Sallee is editor and manager.

The city council of Uniontown at its regular monthly session passed an ordinance increasing saloon licenses from $300 to $400 per year.

C. W. Nessly of Prosser, Wash., has purchased the Palace hotel in Pullman. The new proprietor is a cousin of J. E. Nessly of Colfax owner of the Artesian hotel. It looks as if the Nesslys had a corner on Pullman's hotel business.

Pullman Tribune: A successor to U. N. Booth, professor of horticulture at the college, has been appointed. Mr. Booth having tendered his resignation last fall. Professor Thornber, a graduate of Cornell university, and a former instructor in horticulture in the agricultural college of South Dakota has received and accepted the appointment and is expected to arrive here April 1. The professor was well recommended by Prof. Fletcher formerly of this college, and was chosen from a long list of applicants.

Palouse is to have a flour mill in the near future if present plans are carried out. The motive power will be electricity.

The Potlatch Lumber company has announced its intention to build a road from Palouse into their timber holdings east of that city, a distance of about 60 miles.

SIGNS OF POISON.

What a Sudden Flow of Mouth Water May Indicate.

Dr. Trail mentions the bewilderment of a family that was attacked with a "water rage." Incomprehensible until investigation revealed the fact that a lot of horseradish in their kitchen garden had got mixed with some acornite herbs.

The sudden flow of saliva betrays the effect of some metallic poison—lead perhaps or verdigris (oxide of copper)—and suggests the examination of copper cooking utensils. Old fashioned silver spoons were often limed with plated copper and in course of time furnished a clew to their bottom facts by turning black, then black with greenish tints, but only after their secret had been intimated by a spitting epidemic. It is the same with lead. Chewing a leaden bullet for a couple of seconds makes the "mouth water"—not as a hint as a desire for additional supplies, but to rinse out the palate and remove saliva that might cause mischief by finding its way into the stomach.

A decorative painter who never touched such things as Paris green or cinnabar without disinfecting his hands and mouth was greatly puzzled by the morbid activity of his salivary glands. He had to spit like a tobacco fiend and finally traced his trouble to a substance known as "bronze dust" that had settled on his lips and nostrils and, under the influence of moisture, had been developing copper poisons.

Paris green not rarely gets blown like dust all over the fields it is supposed to protect from insect plagues; then, moistened by dew or drizzling rains, forms a paste and clings to vegetable substances, where its presence is never suspected, till their consumers complain of colic and mouth water.—What To Eat.

CORPSE RINGS.

What They Are and Why They Are Worn by Sailors.

"Corpse rings, eh?" said the visitor. "It's a curious, a gruesome name. What are corpse rings?" "Corpse rings," the collector answered, "are rings found on the bodies of drowned sailors—identification rings. Look at this thick gold one. Running around it on the outside, you see, there is carved in big, plain letters 'William Ratline, born in Camden, Me., 1805. Home, Malabar.' Ratline was lost off the Needles in the big storm of 1897. Malabar was communicated with, but it appeared that he had no relatives there.

"Nearly every sailor when the blues overtake him imagines he will die of drowning. He hates to think of his body washing up on a strange shore, of his nameless grave and of the anxiety of his friends when he doesn't return and no news comes of him, and therefore he buys himself an identification or corpse ring.

"Some of these rings are costly, beautiful, strange. Here is an antique Egyptian one, a ring of green bronze from a rifed tomb. Here is a wooden one, carved with little demons, for the thumb. It came, I think, from Senegambia. This ring of ivory is Japanese. It is of beautiful workmanship. The monkeys, holding each other's tails, that go around it in a circle, are quite perfect."—Baltimore Herald.

Order to Show Cause Why Order of Sale or Mortgage of Real Estate Should Not be Made.

In the superior court of Whitman county, state of Washington.

In the matter of the guardianship of the person and estate of Emmett Jennings, Ora Jennings, Boyd Jennings and Amy Jennings, minors.

It appearing to the court by the petition this day presented and filed by J. B. Johnson, the guardian of the person and estate of Emmett Jennings, Ora Jennings, Boyd Jennings and Amy Jennings, minors, praying for an order to sell or mortgage certain real estate that it is necessary to sell or mortgage the east half of the northwest quarter of section 21, Township 16, North of Range 44, E. W. M., and an undivided 1/4 interest in lot 4 and the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 15, Township 15, North of Range forty-three (43) E. W. M., Whitman county, state of Washington, of the real estate of said minors, to make a better investment of the value and proceeds of said sale.

It is therefore ordered by the said court that all persons interested in the estate of said minors, appear before the said superior court on the 1st day of April, 1905, at 10 o'clock, of said day, at the court room of said superior court, at Colfax, in said county and state, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said guardian to sell or mortgage so much of the real estate of said minors as shall be necessary; and that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in the Colfax Gazette, a newspaper printed and published in Whitman county, state of Washington, once in each week, the 27th day of February, 1905.

Judge of said superior court, S. J. CHADWICK, State of Washington, county of Whitman.—S. I. W. O. McCaw, clerk of the superior court of the state of Washington, for Whitman county, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of order to show cause why order of sale or mortgage of real estate should not be made in the above entitled cause, as the same now appears on file and of record in my office.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, this 1st day of March, A. D. 1905. W. O. McCaw, County Clerk.

Summons. In the superior court of the state of Washington, in and for Whitman county.

Robert M. Swift, plaintiff vs. Harriet E. Swift, defendant.

State of Washington, county of Whitman—S. E. Swift, defendant.

You are hereby summoned and required to appear in the superior court of the state of Washington, in and for Whitman county, within sixty days after the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit: within sixty days after the 24th day of February, 1905, and defend the above entitled action in the above entitled court, and answer the complaint of the plaintiff in said action, and serve a copy of said answer on Hanna & Hanna the undersigned, attorneys for plaintiff, at their office in Colfax, in the county of Whitman, state of Washington, and if you fail to appear and defend said action and answer the complaint of the plaintiff aforesaid, within the time aforesaid, judgment will be rendered against you, according to the demand of the said complaint, which has been filed with the clerk of said court. The object of the above entitled action is for the purpose of dissolving the bonds of matrimony between this plaintiff and defendant, on the ground of desertion of said defendant and asking that Dorris E. Swift, a minor child, be awarded to defendant.

Dated February 23, 1905. HANNA & HANNA, Plaintiff's attorneys, Postoffice address Colfax, Whitman county, Washington.
