

IS FOUR MILES OUT

New Pipe Completed to Within That Distance.

Delay in Receiving the Pipe Has Been a Serious Handicap to the Contractor.

Chief Engineer Miller, who is superintending the work of installing the new gravity system, reports that if the contractor had not been delayed by having to wait for the pipe to arrive, the water would have been turned into the reservoir by now. As it is the pipe is all laid and coupled up to within four miles of town and the trenches are dug to within two miles.

The delay in getting the pipe is particularly annoying to Engineer Miller and Contractor Jacobs, as they have other contracts on hand which demand their attention at once. Mr. Miller has charge of the work of installing the new sewer system for Lewiston, Idaho, a $91,000 contract; a gravity system for water supply at Athena, Ore., $15,000; a water system at Juliaetta, Idaho, and two or three others, and these are held back by the inability to get the pipe to complete the work here. Mr. Jacobs is in the same boat, having on hand a contract to build a half mile tunnel for an irrigation company near Wallula.

Bills for several cars of the pipe have been received and if the rest comes promptly the water will be turned into the reservoir by about the first of May, the time specified in the contract.

DEATH OF DR. C. M. BOSWELL.

Pioneer Physician of Whitman County Goes to His Final Rest.

After an illness of several months, Dr. C. M. Boswell, Whitman county's pioneer physician, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. C. Turner, near Colfax, on Saturday, April 8, aged 57 years and 3 days.

Funeral services were held from the Turner home on Monday, at 10 a. m., Rev. Whitfield and Newman officiating. After the services at the house the body was taken to the Masonic hall, where services under the auspices of Hiram Lodge No. 21, F. & A. M., were held at 1 p. m. The remains were laid to rest in Colfax cemetery, the beautiful and impressive burial services of the Masonic order being performed at the grave.

In the passing of Dr. Boswell, this community loses a pioneer citizen, who had endeared himself to a large circle of friends by his gentleness in the sickroom and his open handed generosity to any and all who might ask his help, giving not only of his substance, but of himself. No night was too dark, and no road too rough and dangerous, to keep this true friend and physician from visiting the lonely and lowly dweller among these great Palouse hills, when our best roads were little better than mountain trails and when electric roads existed only in the realms of imagination. In those old days Dr. Boswell was one of the most familiar figures to all who lived in this country and he is missed, driving his spirited team, with entire disregard to the safety of his own life and limb, it could be depended upon that he was on his way to the relief of some poor sufferer who would soon feel the touch of that gentle, capable hand, the hand of the born surgeon. While his patient received the skillful treatment of this pioneer doctor, he also received cheer and encouragement such as few are able to give, for he had an inexhaustible flow of good spirits, and every old friend who now mourns his loss has stored in his memory some of "Doc's" good stories. For several years he has bravely and cheerfully fought the disease which finally conquered, but the children and relatives who are left may take comfort in the thought that now, being released from all sorrow and suffering which attended his last years on earth, the soul of this noble man enjoys as pure a bliss as immortality has to bestow. The angel "writing in the book of gold" has surely written his name among those whose God has blessed, as having loved his fellow men.

Calvary M. Boswell was born in Athens county, Ohio, in 1848, where he lived until 1855, when the family moved to Corydon, Iowa. On May 7, 1862, he joined a party of emigrants, who crossed the plains to the Pacific coast, arriving in Walla Walla on November 1, of that year. From that point he went to the Grand Ronde valley, where he lived with an elder brother, W. S. Boswell, until November 1865, at which time he entered the literary department of the Willamette University, at Salem, Ore., graduating from that institution March 4, 1870, with the degree of M. D. Shortly after the completion of his course of study, he located at Monroe, Benton county, Ore. On July 26, 1875, he was married to Mary Catherine Thompson, daughter of Samuel G. Thompson. In 1876 he moved to Whitman county, settling at Colfax, which place he has made his home until the time of his death. Mrs. Boswell preceded her husband to the great beyond by nearly four years, having died on August 23, 1901.

In connection with his practice here, Dr. Boswell performed the first amputation of those performed by military surgeons. Fraternally he was affiliated with the Masonic, A. O. U. W. and Artisan orders. Four children were born to Dr. and Mrs. Boswell, three daughters and one son, Logan (Mrs. W. T. Booth), Bernice, Mary Catherine and C. D. T. Boswell. The latter two survive their father.

Application for Divorce.

Bruce W. Miller has filed in the county clerk's office his complaint for a divorce from Maggie E. Miller. The couple were married at Lincoln, Benton county, Missouri, December 25, 1899, and for the past several years have resided at Thornton, Wash. In his complaint Mr. Miller alleges that within one year after their marriage his wife began to show indifference toward him and at divers times would abuse and humiliate him by using abusive language toward him, by telling him that she had no further use for him, telling him to stay away, that she didn't want him around any longer, and that on the 24th of November, 1903, the defendant picked up a piece of stove wood and threatened to knock him down if he didn't leave the house and stay out. Ever since then he has lived elsewhere. The plaintiff also accuses her of keeping company with R. E. Matlock, and that since the first of the year, 1905, has been making her home with him. There is no issue resulting from their marriage and no community property.

Perfect Plans for Exhibit.

A meeting of the Whitman County Educational Exhibit Committee was held in Garfield last Tuesday, to further perfect plans for the educational exhibit at the Lewis & Clark exposition. Circulars were sent to each teacher in the county defining definitely what kind of exhibits are wanted and how they are to be prepared. The committee is composed of Supt. elect N. D. Showalter of Oakesdale, Prof. Chas. Henry of Palouse, and Supt. S. M. McCroskey of Colfax.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued by the county auditor during the past week at Colfax: F. P. Allen and Ester Belle Michell, both of Colfax; H. S. Bolan and Mrs. Josie Pederson, both of LaCrosse; F. E. Goodell and Mrs. M. A. Hubbard, both of LaCrosse.

PROCURE ROOM IN ADVANCE.

By so Doing you Will Avoid Much Trouble and Annoyance.

F. T. Abbott, agent O. R. & N. Co., has been appointed special agent for the Portland Service Co., which has been organized and incorporated for the purpose of furnishing visitors to the Lewis & Clark exposition with suitable rooming accommodations and board. This company has under contract over 5000 rooms in various rooming houses, also 15 hotels, the prices varying from one to ten dollars per day.

The question of where you are going to stop will be asked by thousands. By seeing Mr. Abbott, and engaging quarters in advance, money, time and worry can be saved.

The lessee of a room is given a certificate, describing in detail the location of the room, the price to be paid and all the passenger has to do is to hand his certificate to a yellow capped, uniformed messenger of the Portland Service Co., who will be at the Union Depot and will conduct the passenger to the room assigned. If the room is not satisfactory the messenger will examine the entire list, if necessary, until passenger is satisfied. The scheme is undoubtedly a good one. You name the price you wish to pay before you leave home and this price can not be advanced by any of the rooms or hotels that are under contract. You pay your money for your room and board to the landlord or landlady when you are fully satisfied as to the accommodations, and you are fully protected against any exorbitant charge.

This scheme has the endorsement of all the railroads and particularly of the roads entering Portland. Mr. Abbott has already booked several passengers and anticipates a heavy demand as his company has nearly two thirds of the available rooms in Portland.

For Benefit of City Parks.

A musical and tea will be given by the ladies of the Athenaeum Club at the armory on Saturday afternoon, April 15th, beginning promptly at 3 o'clock. The musicale is given for the benefit of the Colfax city parks, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The following program will be rendered:

Will Turn Farmer?

Pullman Herald: Thos. Neill has been here from the county seat, the greater part of the week "farming" on his 16-acre ranch on the edge of the city limits. He proposes to move the house to the lower corner of the property, build an addition to it, and those watching the development of the symptoms believe that Mr. Neill and his family are soon to return to their first love. He was one of Pullman's pioneer citizens, and would be given a hearty welcome should he return.

Habitual Drunkenness Charged.

Thomas J. Farris, of Palouse City, has been arrested on a complaint filed by his wife, Maggie Farris, charging him with being a habitual drunkard. Mrs. Farris claims that her husband has become such a slave to liquor that he has neglected his business and that he squanders all his money for drink. He is cited to appear before Judge Chadwick April 19, 1905, to show cause why he should not be adjudged an habitual drunkard.

Going to Two Rivers

Lyons & Chase, Whitman county agents for Two Rivers irrigated lands, will pilot a party of prospective purchasers to the district on Saturday, April 15, leaving Colfax at 8:15 p. m. The reduced fare for the round trip will be $5. This will be a good time to investigate this unequalled proposition, in which scores of successful people from all over the northwest are becoming interested as owners. It is in the cards that Two Rivers, with its intelligent, well-to-do people, favorable location with reference to markets, unsurpassed shipping facilities, mild climate, earliest growing season and many other advantages, will be the best and richest of the irrigated districts, and land values will increase rapidly. Take advantage of the opportunity now. Communicate with Lyons & Chase and join the party leaving Saturday.

THE INSTITUTE CLOSES

Prizes Offered for Potato Raising by School Children

Superintendent and Mrs. McCroskey Were the Recipients of Beautiful Gifts.

On Saturday afternoon the most successful institute ever held in Whitman county was concluded at the court house.

One of the features of the last day's session was a proposition made by Professor J. L. Dumas, that each school district in the county offer prizes for the best crop of potatoes grown by any boy or girl in any department of the school below the eighth grade, on a square rod of ground. He also suggested a prize by the county for the teacher whose pupil won the first prize, as a stimulus to the teachers of the county to encourage the work.

Mr. Coman cashier of the First National Bank, who was present at the time, commended the idea warmly and offered a prize of a free trip to the Lewis and Clark exposition for the student producing the best lot of potatoes under the rules of the contract. Judge Chadwick supplemented this with an offer of $10 cash for the best lot of potatoes grown by a student in this contest, and sent to the exposition at Portland, and offered to pay all expenses of getting the exhibit to the fair.

Arrangements will be made for the rules to govern the contest and the prizes to be awarded and it is hoped that several hundred pupils of the schools of the county will enter the contest this spring.

During the afternoon session County Superintendent elect N. D. Showalter made a short address to the teachers.

At the close of the institute Professor Sampson of the W. S. C., in a brief speech presented Superintendent McCroskey with a handsome gold watch and fob, and Mrs. McCroskey with a beautiful set of china, a gift from the assembled teachers, in token of the high regard in which Supt. and Mrs. McCroskey are held by the pedagogues of the county.

SAGE BRUSH AND ALKALI. Klamath People's Description of White Lake City.

We reproduce the following from the Portland Evening Telegram for the benefit of our readers, as we understand that an agent of this combination is doing business in this neck of the woods.

Klamath, Falls, Or., April 11.—Promoters are now here who are interested in booming a new town in this country called White Lake City, site for which was purchased from C. N. F. Armstrong, former husband of the famous singer, Melba, last fall. The site is one of the most desolate sagebrush and alkali wastes in the country. It fronts on White Lake, which lies east of the Lower Klamath lake, and is connected with the latter by a cut through the tules three miles in length. The water of White Lake is strongly impregnated with alkali, and is so shallow for navigation. When the government reclamation scheme is carried to completion, this lake will be drained. The well water in this vicinity is also very alkaline.

The promoters have issued a small four page weekly newspaper, the White Lake American, at present published in Seattle. After June 1, it is stated, the paper will be published at White Lake City.

It is said thousands of lots have been sold to people all over the country at $15 each, one person being entitled to purchase not more than three lots. A drawing will be held June 1, at White Lake City, when purchasers will draw lots.

Klamath county people in general smile very broadly when anyone mentions White Lake City, most of them regarding it as a joke. People here cannot comprehend how all the people are to exist at White Lake City after they get there.

Cheap Squirrel Bomb

An ingenious squirrel bomb, guaranteed to do the work, is produced by Ruben Larkins, a resident of Spring Flat. The bomb is simplicity itself and is composed of about a teaspoonful of gun powder and sulphur mixed in equal proportions. This is placed in a piece of tough paper, three to five inches of size is inserted in the powder, the edges of the paper being gathered up and tied around the fuse. The free end of the fuse is slit for ready lighting. Insert the bomb into a hole, tamp earth around the fuse, light it and the bomb does the rest.
