NORTHWEST NEWS.

Miss Maud Fowler, who carries the mail between Jean and St. Andrews, this state, was stabbed by Mrs. Lee Fowler, April 12, with an old case knife, and lies at death's door at Jean post-office. Jealousy was the cause of the act.

Along with the home of F. Pereira, which burned April 12, was $1200 which had been placed under the carpet for safe keeping.

A dispatch from Boise, Ida., states that the organization of the Washington, Idaho & Montana railroad has been consummated, with F. H. Thatcher of Winona, Minn., as president. The Weyerhaeuser syndicate will furnish the funds. From the white pine timber belt in Idaho the road will be built west to the company's mills in eastern Washington and ultimately extended to the coast.

Seattle had an unusual number of tragedies on April 13. An unknown man committed suicide in a saloon by shooting; Wm. Frazer fell from a Lake Washington steamer and was drowned; J. H. Camell, contractor, fell from a ladder and fractured his skull; the body of J. Wesley Isham, a student, was found floating in the Sound near Richmond beach; an unidentified infant was found in the south end of the city.

D. B. Ogden, United States government engineer is at Lewiston investigating into the improvement of the Clearwater river for barge navigation. Mr. Ogden makes the announcement that the work will begin about May 1, and $25,000 will be expended.

Marshi Flick of Wilber surprised a mock court in that town on April 15, and brought the court before police Judge Thompson, who fined the jokers $1 and costs. The victim of the mock court was an unfortunate character of the town by the name of Gus Zranski.

According to conservative estimates the land fraud cases at Portland, Ore., have so far cost the government $35,000 and the end is not yet. Over 75 defendants are involved in the cases and nearly all are charged with conspiracy, the maximum fine in each case being $10,000, besides two years imprisonment.

As Emil Carlson, at the Big Seven mine, near Great Falls Mont., was chewing together a dynamite cap and fuse, on April 15, the cap exploded, tearing off his jaw and inflicting terrible injuries to his throat and tongue.

W. H. Acuff was nominated by nearly a unanimous vote of the city convention as the republican candidate for mayor of Spokane, on April 15. The First Methodist Episcopal church of Spokane was totally destroyed by fire on April 15. The edifice was one of the largest in the state and was presided over by Rev. Henry Easmus. The congregation numbers over 1,000. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Fred Hand, one of the Lewis and Clark commissioners of Illinois, makes the statement that the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln will be reproduced by Illinois at the exposition.

Miss Hannah Scheuerle committed suicide by drowning at the home of her brother at Quincy, Wash., last Friday evening. She was tracked to an abandoned cistern on the outskirts of town in which she had plunged. Despondency from sickness is supposed to have prompted the deed.

F. X. Matthieu, only surviving "Hero of Old Champeog," 88 years of age, last night donned antlers and became a full fledged member of Salem, Ore., lodge, B. P. O. E.

Mike Rossa, an Italian, on his way to Italy, cut his throat with a razor in the smoker of a Great Northern train at Cutbank, Mont., jumped out of the window and disappeared. Later he walked into the town. His wound was sewed up and he may recover. When searched $2,000 in cash was found on him.

The coroner's jury at Malta, Mont., today rendered a verdict of murder in the first degree against Willie Armington, the 13-year-old boy who shot his stepfather a day or so ago. The boy was bound over without bail.

Explained.

"Ma," said Mrs. Malaprop's little boy, "what is 'antimony?'" "Sh, that's not nice to talk about!" replied Mrs. Malaprop. "It's what a lady gets when she's divorced from her husband."—Exchange.

A Long Distance Train.

A railroad employee in Dublin was strutting consequentially before a train that was to run direct to Cork, while he repeatedly shouted, "This train doesn't stop anywhere!"

"A smaht man," said Uncle Eben, "is a good deal like a razor. He kin be mighty useful in de right way, but he kin kick up a pow'ful 'sturbance if it goes wrong."—Washington Star.

Feel tired, no appetite, cannot sleep work or eat? That's spring tiredness and will disappear at once if you take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea this month. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Elk Drug Store.

To the Public.

Having sold my blacksmith and wagon shop and good will of the business to Mr. G. W. Larue I take this method of thanking my many friends and customers for their liberal patronage. I request all my friends and customers to continue their patronage to Mr. Larue, as he has two of the best mechanics in the Palouse country in his shop.

JOHN DINGLE.

A Card.

Having purchased the blacksmith and wagon shop of Mr. John Dingle, I request the patronage of all his old customers and promise to spare neither time nor expense to continue to make the shop first class in every way. I have employed Mr. Lance Irwin, who has been at the forge in Colfax for more than twenty years, and Joe Hammaburg, who has been in the employ of Mr. Dingle the past four years, and will add others of like kind when needed. Thanking the public for their many past favors, I am yours truly, G. W. LARUE.

Just For Toothache.

The blade of a digging hoe was supported horizontally on two bricks and a fire kindled on the ground beneath it. On the middle of the hoe was put a small heap of the seeds of a red fruited variety of eggplant, and over this was inverted the half of a coconut shell having a hole in the top. A piece of bamboo was stuck on to the shell over the hole by a lump of clay. As vapor issued from the bamboo tube the patient inhaled this by placing his lips to the top. Then he spat into a bucket of water, and then again inhaled the vapor. After a quarter hour's treatment the patient and a friend said they could see the "toothache worm" in the water.

And here's a modern Chinese recipe for "painless extraction."

Cook well the bones of a rat, pulverize and apply to tooth. If it is fore-ordained that the tooth is to come out this will bring it; if not, it will become more firmly fixed than ever.—Sumatra Straits Budget.

His Envious Estate.

"When I come into my landed estate I'll bet nobody will put me out," said a philosopher after listening to a tale of woe by a friend who had recently lost his place in the country through the foreclosure of a mortgage.

"Why, I didn't know you owned any real estate."

"I don't now, but I am very positive of having some later on. It will be a very snug retreat, too—absolutely private, although in a populous neighborhood. There will be several other advantages too. It will be free from taxes, and I'll be exempt from jury duty."

"Isn't that fine! I congratulate you. Wish I could inherit something like that. Where is your place?"

"The grave."

The other man said nothing further about the injustice of foreclosing mortgages.—New York Herald.

Sixth Sense in Birds.

In the animal kingdom the birds seem to be really the class most highly favored by nature. Though they are not placed near the summit of the line of evolution, their ability to fly marks them off as having some advantages over nearly all the mammalia. Their mysterious power of changing their polarity or weight in order to dive in water or soar in air has been often discussed, and the almost incredible velocity of their motion when migrating, sometimes amounting to four miles a minute for vast distances, has no parallel among other animals. In addition, experiments with carrier pigeons at night demonstrated beyond doubt that these birds at least possess a highly developed sense of direction.—New Century Path.
