RURAL ROUTE BUSINESS.

Nearly 49,000 Pieces of Mail Handled in Three Months.

During the quarter ending June 30 last, carriers on the four rural free delivery routes running out of Colfax handled 48,991 pieces of mail, delivering 40,850 papers and collecting 8141 pieces. Newspapers comprise the larger part of the mail matter handled. Work on the routes is nearly evenly divided, No. 4 holding the record by a small margin, followed in order by No. 1, No. 3, No. 2.

By routes the deliveries and collections were: Route No. 1—Delivered, 10,203; collected, 2236; total, 12,439. Route No. 2—Delivered, 10,005; collected, 1611; total, 11,616. Route No. 3—Delivered, 10,162; collected, 1612; total, 11,774. Route No. 4—Delivered, 10,480; collected, 2682; total, 13,162.

Wheat Two Cents Off.

Wheat has dropped 2 cents in price this week, the quotation Thursday being 55 1/2 cents for club and 57 1/2 cents for bluestem. So far none of the new crop has reached Colfax, as no threshing was done near here until the middle of the week, but deliveries will begin early next week. Harvest work is in full swing in the western part of the county, where the yield of spring wheat is reported very light and testing from 52 to 55 pounds per bushel. Winter wheat is yielding better, although not up to expectations, running from 15 to 25 bushels per acre and testing from 60 to 62 pounds.

Going Up in a Hurry.

That the handsome new Wilman building is being put up in record time is admitted by all who have watched its progress during the past month. The brickwork will be completed this Friday morning and with no unforeseen delay the ground floor of the building will be ready for occupancy by September 1, the date it was promised to E. F. Nicholas, who expects to begin receiving and storing goods in the basement about the middle of the month.

Safe as Jim Hill's Road.

A man who travels them, remarks that "the sidewalks between the city building and Thorn street, in the south end, are almost as safe as the Great Northern railway track." And he is not the only person who has observed and remarked about the condition of some miles of sidewalks in different parts of the city. After we save the crops would be a good time to fix up the sidewalks, don't you think?

Close Call for Painters. Grant Ellis and C. A. Ross, while painting Fraternity block, had a narrow escape from an accident last Saturday. They were working on a ladder supported horizontally by ropes and used as a platform, 40 or 50 feet above the side walk, when one side of the ladder broke and settled, leaving them on an incline shell bending with their weight. Grasping a projecting ledge of brick they worked their way to the tackle at the end of the ladder and lowered themselves to safety.

Railroads Will Acquiesce.

An Olympia dispatch states that members of the railroad commission believe railroads will acquiesce in the joint wheat rate order, and that it will not be taken into the courts. It is even possible that the railroads may promise their joint rate tariff before August 21, the date the order would become effective if issued August 1 as proposed.

Inquiry at the office of the commission on the part of certain railroad traffic officials indicates that they are prepared to issue these tariffs as soon as the commission issues the joint wheat rate order. The reasons for acceptance of the order on the part of the railroads has not been clearly explained, especially in view of the fact that until ten days ago it appeared that the question of joint rates, including also the constitutionality of the commission law, was to be carried through all the courts in the land, if necessary, to postpone acceptance of the joint wheat rate order.
