SHOWERS DELAY HARVEST.

Cloud Burst in Willada Does Considerable Damage.

A heavy shower soaked the fields, beat down grain and washed the roads in some parts of this county Tuesday afternoon. The storm seems to have been at its worst in the Willada country north of Endicott. Sheriff Carter, Deputy Cole and Ed. Nessley were between Willada and Endicott when the storm struck, at about 1:30 o'clock. The rain came down in torrents and soon the road was a sea of mud and water so deep that the body of the automobile plowed through it.

Only a light sprinkle of rain fell at Endicott and the path of the storm seems to have been narrow. Harvest was delayed for a day or two in the district which was hit by the worst of the storm.

PREPARED TO FIGHT FIRE.

Trains Carry Man to Put Out Fires Started by Engine.

Water barrels on all bridges of the O.-W. R. & N. have recently been refilled and inspected as a safeguard against August fires. A special train with H. Donnelly, superintendent of bridges, and J. H. Robb, division engineer, aboard was in Colfax Saturday and went out over the Moscow branch filling the bridge barrels from the tank car on the train. During the dry months all O.-W. R. & N. trains are provided with fire patrol. A man rides on the rear platform watching for signs of any fire that may have been started by sparks from the engine. When a blaze is discovered the train is stopped, the fire patrolman is unloaded with his speeder and the blaze is put out. If the fire is a bad one the train waits and the crew assists in the work.

Policeman William McAmis and Deputy Sheriff William Cole rounded up a bunch of 30 men from the jungles, empty box cars and old barns at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. The "stiffs" were given their choice of the road or a chance for a 60 days job with the chain gang. The first man to answer to the early morning call said he wanted a job and would take most anything until something better showed up. When he was informed that credit was all the pay he would receive for his work with the chain gang he decided to leave. All the others followed suit.

Dolph Coolidge in Bank.

After residing in Spokane for some time Dolph Coolidge has returned to Colfax and will occupy the Chase house. He has accepted a position in the Colfax National bank.

The Queer Carabao.

The carabao is said to be slower than a camel and more obstinate than a mule. Every one seems agreed that the chief ambition in life of a carabao, if he has any at all, is to lie down in a puddle of water with just his nose and horns sticking out. Consequently considerable commotion rules the wagon train when it approaches a stream that must be forded. The soldiers who are walking behind the carts as guards lay aside their rifles and begin to belabor each animal. In the middle of the stream the excitement reaches its highest pitch. The carabao will begin to stretch his neck and bend his knees and grunt—infallible indications of his intention to lie down. Everybody works like a beaver to prevent him from accomplishing this fell purpose, but their labors are not always successful. They may get him over the stream, but this is unusual good fortune.—Harper's Weekly.

Siren in Skirts.

Which is the most recent siren (of the animal variety) in history? Jacobus Nieras relates that in 1403 a siren was captured in the Zuider Zee. She was (says Mr. Norman Douglas in "Siren Land") brought to Haarlem and, being naked, allowed herself to be clothed; she learned to eat like a Dutchman; she could spin thread and take pleasure in other maidenly occupations; she was gentle and lived to a great age. But she never spoke. The honest burghers had no knowledge of the language of the sea folk to enable them to teach her their own tongue, so she remained mute to the end of her days.

Making Use of It.

"There is no use giving you a check, my dear. My bank account is overdrawn."

"Well, give it to me anyway, George. And, say, make it for $500. I want to pull it out of my shopping bag with my handkerchief at the bridge game this afternoon."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Easy.

"What is the hardest work you do?"

"My hardest work," replied Senator Sorghum, "is trying to look like my photograph and talk like my speeches when I get back to my home town."—Washington Star.

An Easy Task.

"Pa, what is a philosopher?"

"A philosopher, my boy, is one who tells other people that their troubles don't amount to much."—Detroit Free Press.

A Finishing Touch.

"When Esau gave up his birthright for mere pottage?"

"Yes, I know—he made a mess of it."—Exchange.

Joy comes, grief goes, we know not how.—Lowell.
